

Weston Schedules Drawing For Rooms Monday, Tuesday

All women students who plan to be on the campus next semester are asked to report to the Dean of Women's Office, Monday or Tuesday to draw numbers for their room assignments.

There will be a box of numbers for each semester which she now holds. After the girl picks her number she will give her name, semester and number to the person in charge of the drawing.

Room choosing will take place beginning 6:15 p.m. Tuesday and the schedule for the choosing will be printed in Tuesday's Daily Collegian.

Changes in System

The major change in the room system is that all girls who will be going practice teaching or who will live in the Home Management House will be required to live in Women's Building for the eight weeks they will have to live in a campus dormitory.

This system was arranged to alleviate the many changes required in administrative offices when coeds move in and out of dormitories.

Live in Simmons

An exception to this rule was made in the case of coeds who will be eighth semester in the Fall. They will be allowed to live in the new Simmons Hall whether or not they are going to practice teaching. Also, all junior and senior women will be housed in Simmons.

Sororities who have suites in Simmons will take them over in the fall. If the sororities can easily exchange students who are going practice teaching within their suites or with girls living in Women's Building they will be allowed to house girls for eight weeks.

Suites in Grange

The sororities who have their suites in McElwain will retain their present living quarters until that dormitory is completed. Sororities who have suites in Grange will occupy them in the fall.

Sophomore transfer students will be housed in Ataerton Hall, and in case of excess, in Grange. If Simmons Hall will not hold all

Junior and Senior women, they, also, will be put in Grange.

Junior transfer women will be housed in McAllister Hall. The Tri-Dorms will be given back to the men students.

Sigma Chi's To Name Queen at Annual Fraternity Dance

The Alpha Chi chapter of Sigma Chi Fraternity will hold its annual Sweetheart Dinner-Dance tomorrow evening. George Washko and his orchestra will play for the affair.

The judges of the contest are Milt Caniff, cartoonist who draws "Steve Canyon"; and John Wayne and Regis Toomey, Hollywood actors.
