

Senior
Ball
Tonight

The Daily Collegian

WEATHER
Cloudy with Thunder Showers

VOL. 47—No. 69

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 21, 1948—STATE COLLEGE, PENNA.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Late AP News Courtesy WMAJ

Coalmen Ask New Parley

WASHINGTON—The nation's soft coal operators have sent a letter to John L. Lewis, asking him to resume contract negotiations which broke down Wednesday. The operators said it was a mistake for Lewis to insist that representatives of the Southern Coal Producers Association be kept out of negotiations.

Arabs Continue Seige

JERUSALEM—An Arab assault force yesterday captured Jerusalem's tallest building, the Tiferet Israel synagogue in the old city. The same force then continued its battering attack against another old city synagogue where Jewish fighters have withdrawn for a last-ditch stand.

U.S. Curbs Red Missions

FRANKFURT—Americans yesterday imposed restrictions on the entry of official Russian missions into the American zone of Germany. The missions will be allowed to cross the border only at one single point.

Library Given Rare Pictures

Pictures of the College and taken during the 1880's have been given to the library by Mrs. Albert T. Lewis of South Hadley, Mass.

The pictures were taken by William A. Buckout, whose camera experiments in photography have resulted in a valuable pictorial history of the College for that period.

Included in the collection is a picture of the Old Curved Pike leading by way of Centre Furnace to Lemont, the ground breaking for the Armory and also the ground breaking for Schwab Auditorium.

There also are various views of Old Main with the famed tower, unusual views of the original President's House, pictures of well-known townspeople, and one showing the tracks of the Bellefonte Central which extended to the center of the town in 1894.

The pictures are a valuable addition to others of the period which were taken by Dr. Buckout, Mrs. C. O. Cromer, curator in the Penn State Room explains.

Psych Clinic Helps To Allay Fears

As the semester swings into its last week and the spectre of final exams again looms, many students are overcome with nervousness, fears and anxieties.

"I think this course, I won't get my diploma," Suzy informs her roommate. "Just can't let that happen."

The psychological clinic in 3 buildings has helped thousands of students to take hold of themselves in a crisis and to sail blithely through their difficulties.

"We help emotionally disturbed students to understand themselves better, to accept facts for what they're worth and to make some attempt to organize them," says Dr. Robert G. Bernreuter, director of the clinic. "Sometimes merely listening to a student's troubles helps incalculably."

The clinic also helps students to adjust themselves socially. If for any reason a person finds it difficult to make or keep friends, has not developed certain necessary social skills, counselors at the clinic analyze the problem and suggest methods of solving it.

The clinic also helps students to adjust themselves socially. If for any reason a person finds it difficult to make or keep friends, has not developed certain necessary social skills, counselors at the clinic analyze the problem and suggest methods of solving it.

The clinic also helps students to adjust themselves socially. If for any reason a person finds it difficult to make or keep friends, has not developed certain necessary social skills, counselors at the clinic analyze the problem and suggest methods of solving it.

Freshman Group Holds Initiation For 87 Students

Phi Eta Sigma, men's national Freshman honorary society, held its annual spring initiation ceremonies in 121 Sparks last night.

Faculty and administration leaders who are honorary members of the local chapter participated in the ceremonies.

Dr. George L. Haller, dean of the School of Chemistry and Physics, was inducted as the honorary member of 1948 and 87 students at the College were initiated.

Initiates were John E. Benson, William E. Betler, Jr., George M. Betts, A. Eugene Blakeslee, Jack Bonney, Walter G. Bowditch, Jr., Frederick A. Brennan, Wayne H. Carter, Steve M. Cebulko, Harold B. Clark, Chester J. Cobosco, Harry W. Colvin, Jr., John D. Cooner, Jr., Russell B. Darling, David W. Dawson, Robert V. Dermott, Robert C. Downie, Forrest R. Enders, Edward H. England, Robert J. Eshleman, Jr.

George M. Ference, Joseph R. Folger, Charles B. Forney, George J. Freeman, William G. Fricke, Ja., Gilbert H. Friedman, Hurley A. Graffius, Dean U. Harrison, Heinz J. Heinemann, George O. Herold, David C. Herting, Earl T. Huff, Russell J. Hutnik, Robert C. Ifft, Joseph N. Jammal, Harold A. Johnson, Jesse W. Kehres, Walter C. King, Alfred J. Kovell, Walter J. Lander, Willard J. Lantz, John H. Latahaw, Jr., Harry Lawroskie, Victor T. Leschick, Stanley N. Levick, Donald A. Liebel, Herbert M. Linsenber, Harry B. McCarty.

John W. McNair, Jr., Walter K. Mammel, William F. Markley, William H. Megonnell, Benjamin F. Myers, Jr., Milford D. Myers, John C. Nott, John L. O'Brian, William P. Ott, Norman Pomerantz, Horst M. W. Prehl, William H. Preston, William D. Rice, Vernon H. Ritter, Wayne S. Rockwell, Jack N. Rosenberg, William H. Schaffer, Richard S. Schweiker, John R. Senior.

Donald E. Shaffer, Robert L. Shobert, Irwin Simpson, Robert E. Slonaker, Jr., Stanley S. Stankevich, Roy R. Starner, Jr., Richard A. Strand, Donald L. Tanner, Frank J. Terkoski, Donald W. Thomas, Bernard Udis, David R. Weindorf, Robert H. Weisenfuh, Raymond C. Williams, Jr., Joseph A. Witkowski, Edward P. Wizda, Jack W. Wyker, Joseph A. Yanni, Frederick H. Ziegler, Martin H. Ziv.

Mighty Nittany Lion KO'd by Greater Bruin Force

There was a spirit of mourning on campus yesterday. The traditional Lion, symbol of Nittany's mighty power, had tasted defeat at the hands of the Great White Bear.

The two rivals have been roaring and growling at each other for weeks and decided to settle the issue with a scrimmage yesterday morning at 11:50 o'clock.

A crowd of students gathered as the two exchanged blows. Although the lion succeeded in knocking the bear's head off, almost disclosing the latter's identity, he was later forced to bow to the Great White Bear. Once, in his excitement, the Lion tried to climb a tree.

The honor of the Lion has been challenged, but officials attribute his defeat to the fact that he was out of condition. This has been his first appearance on campus since fall.

Honorary Awards Scholarship Key

The local chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, national commerce and finance honorary, awarded the DSP scholarship key to Francis Bohannon at its 25th anniversary banquet at the Anchorage last night.

The key is presented annually to the senior ranking highest in scholarship for the entire course in commerce and finance. Bohannon's average was 2.74, all college. Ber Euwema, dean of the LA School, made the presentation.

Edwin Manbeck, newly elected president, introduced guest speaker Charles Wyand, an alumnus of the College, now serving as administrative assistant to President James M. Millholland. Wyand's topic was "Your Job as a Business Executive."

Retiring president Russell Teall introduced new officers and new initiates to the group. Prof. Ralph Weary will replace Prof. Norman Thompson, retiring advisor of the honorary.

News Briefs

Senior Lecture

Dean Arthur R. Warnock will speak on "Present Day Conditions" in Schwab at 4:10 o'clock this afternoon.

Invitations

Seniors may pick up invitations and announcements at Student Union from 2 to 4:30 o'clock today and from 8:30 to 12 o'clock noon tomorrow.

Modern Dance

Members of the Modern Dance Club and Concert Group will meet at White Hall from 8:30 to 6:45 o'clock tonight.

Ag Engineers

The American Society of Agricultural Engineers elected Leonard D. Kimmel, president; George Shute, vice president; John W. Zahrdvadic, secretary-treasurer; Lee E. Vaughan, scribe; Wallace A. Schlegel and James May, ag student council representatives.

Masquerettes

The Masquerette Club, women members of the Thespians, initiated nine at a ceremony in Ather-ton Wednesday night. The new initiates are Kay Bitner, Ruthye Cohen, Peg Cunningham, Jane Dale, Elsie Federhoff, Myrna Hinkle, Jean Nichols, Arlene Spencer, and Jane Weigle.

These women were tapped by Masquerettes immediately after the Thespian show Saturday night.

Senior Ball Features 'Blossom Time' Theme

Flowers and green foliage will create a "Blossom Time" effect at the traditional Senior Ball in Recreation Hall from 9 to 1 o'clock tonight.

Claude Thornhill and his orchestra will furnish music for the affair and singers Fran Warren and Gene Williams will round out the group.

Tickets at $4 a couple will be on sale at Student Union from 9 to 5 o'clock this afternoon and may be obtained at the door tonight. The dance is semi-formal and a no corsage affair. Coeds have been granted 2 o'clock permissions.

Thornhill combines a classical background with the current trend of popular music to create his own modern and original musical effects. He received his basic training in music at Cincinnati's Conservatory of Music and at the Curtis Institute. From there he went into the practical field as pianist and arranger, and worked for such musical greats as Bing Crosby, Benny Goodman, Charlie Spivak and the late Glenn Miller.

Thornhill himself plays the piano with a casual ease that belies the difficulties of his arrangements. C. Frederick Troutman, publicity chairman, said. His piano is effectively heard in the beautiful theme song, "Snowfall," which he composed.

The particular quality of his orchestra is due to an uncommon arrangement of the reed and brass section. Thornhill uses five reeds, seven brass and four rhythm instruments, and includes in the brass two French horns, an innovation to popular orchestras.

Heading the ball committee is Leo Fiedorek. Other members are C. Frederick Troutman, Lawrence Doyle, Richard Heim, Theodore Kunin, Donald Mitchell, and Anna Wynosky.

Book Exchange Begins Tuesday

Student Book Exchange will be open in the TUB beginning next Tuesday and extending through Monday, June 1, for the purpose of taking in books, Joanne Hobbs, chairman of the book exchange committee, said yesterday.

Books will be received in the ballroom of the TUB from 9 a.m. to 12 a.m. and from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. during weekdays, and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 a.m.

Contrary to previous policy, students will not receive payment when they present their books for exchange. Instead they will be given a book receipt to be turned in at the Student Union window when the book has been sold.

Assisting Miss Hobbs on the book exchange committee are Dorothy Coon, Nancy Cray, Richard Evans, John Hunter and John Zora.

Kagan, Roth Win Honors In Debating Contest

Robert Kagan and Stanton Roth were named first and second place winners respectively in the speaking contest held by the men's debate squad Wednesday night. Both men were awarded miniature gold gavels.

Contestants spoke on "What Steps Should Be Taken to Ensure Peaceful Relations Among the Nations of the World."

Judging the speakers were Holle G. DeBoer, Harold O'Brien, and Harold Zelko of the speech department.

Tri-Dorms to House 285 Men Students

West Dormitories, formerly known as Tri-Dorms will house 285 men in the fall semester, according to Harold W. Loman, director of dormitories and dining commons. There will be no food service, he added.

Men seeking accommodations should apply at the Dean of Men's office in Old Main.

Poppy Sale Announced

Poppies have been received by the State College unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, and will go on sale tomorrow. Mrs. Dean Probst, poppy chairman, announced.

Collegian Begins China Book Drive

An end-of-semester campaign for used text-books to be donated to Lingnan University, China, will be sponsored by the Daily Collegian, under the direction of its co-promotion managers Elliot Rosengarten and Selma Zasofsky.

Central collection spots will be the Collegian office, and others to be announced later. Presidents of Interfraternity Council and the Penn State Christian Association have promised their personal support and indicated the probability that their groups will assist.

Richard Pride, a former Penn Stater, now on the Lingnan faculty, has written of the need for books on any subject, especially science and agriculture. These views were further substantiated by Paang Fei Lei, a graduate horticulture student, whose undergraduate study was done at Lingnan.

Senior Awarded EE First Prize

Randall H. Rice, senior in electrical engineering and a son of P. X. Rice, professor of electrical engineering, was awarded first prize by the student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers for a paper he presented before the group. The paper was titled, "The Electrical Aspects of the Flux Gate Compass System."

The prize consisted of a scroll, $10, and a trip to the Middle Eastern District Student Branch Prize Paper contest held at Ohio State University on Friday and Saturday. There he presented his paper in competition with students from 19 colleges and universities. The competition was won by a student from Carnegie Institute of Technology.