'Great White Bear' Clowns In Schwab for Last Time

"The Great White Bear" who, for the last few weeks has been roaming the Nittany Valley, will make his final stage appearance in Schwab at 7 o'clock tonight. Reserved seats at $1 each are on sale today at Student Union until noon.

Held over from last week for students and visitors who missed it then, "The Great White Bear" is highlighted by a colorful Russian folk scene which stars Murray Gubin in the Hopah Kolam, an ingenious circle dance.

Music bright spots are the original numbers, "Great White Bear," "Culture Vulture," and "One of the Boys." Julianne Seashore and Bob Koser, romantic leads duo in "Culture Vulture," and Virge Neilly as President Wallmark of Benson University forgets his presidential dignity to clown in "One of the Boys."

Other leading parts are played by Aaron Osipow, as the phony Russian, Krepotkin, Jack Saling as Buzz, the burlesque manager; Billie Cooper, who, with Billie Burke finesse, plays the role of a flighty music teacher; Candy McCollum, the not-too-bright Eloise, and Cholly Halpern as the hard-boiled burlesque queen, Mabel Muir. The plot centers around a burlesque stock company who find themselves mistaken for a Russian art group contracted to give a performance at Benson University.

Lingnan Drive Begins Next Week

"Books for Lingnan" campaign will start Monday and continue through June 3, according to Elliot Rosengarten and Selma Zafsky, co-chairmen. All used text books are acceptable, particularly those dealing with engineering and agriculture.

Collection boxes will be placed in all fraternities, women's dormitories, Pollock Circle and Nittany Dormitories, sorority houses and living units in town.

Central collection spots will include the Daily Collegian office; Penn State Christian Association, Hillel Foundation, TUB, Keeler's, Metzger's and Graham's. Any others will be announced in Tuesday's Daily Collegian.

Music Students to Give Final Recital of Year

Students in the music department will give their final recital of the year in 117 Carnegie at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The complete list of soloists has not yet been announced but some of those performing will be Josephine Rotili, who will sing "They Call Me Mimi" and "Mimi's Farewell" from "La Boheme" and Birdie Berman, violinist, who will play "Havanaise" by Saint Saens and will be accompanied by Miss Rotili.

Lutheran Pastor Speaks In Chapel

Rev. Donald R. Heiges, pastor for Lutheran students in greater New York, will give the address in tomorrow's Chapel service, the last of this semester. Reverend Heiges will speak on the topic, "The Christ Who Changes Not."

Formerly an instructor in philosophy, chaplain, and director of freshman orientation and counseling at Gettysburg College, Reverend Heiges has done work on publications, religious organizations, and debating.

He is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa social fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa, Eta Sigma Phi, Pi Delta Epsilon, and the active honorary, Pen and Sword.

Born at Biglerville, Pa., Reverend Heiges received degrees from Gettysburg College, Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, and Columbia University.

Special music for the service will include "Fiat Lux," "In Paradisum," "Alleluia," by Dubois, and "He, Watching Over Israel," from "Elijah," by Mendelssohn.

Hodgins Chosen Finalist In American Coed Contest

Joyce Hodgins has been chosen one of the 12 finalists in Sammy Kaye's Miss American Coed Contest of 1948.

Each finalist will be saluted on one of the weekly Chesterfield Supper Club broadcasts beginning Friday, June 11.

The winning coed will be selected in August by judges John Robert Powers, Tina Lesser and Ed Sullivan.

Among the awards which will go to the girl finally chosen "Miss American Coed of 1948" are a vacation for two at the Senator Hotel in Atlantic City with all expenses paid, a gold Benrus wrist watch, and a silver loving cup.

She also will receive a screen test given by a leading film studio and a $500 wardrobe of Horton and Hubbard Carl-Lite luggage.

Nominated by Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, Miss Hodgins, of Wynnewood, was chosen the College's entry in the national contest April 13. She is a senior in home economics and a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Student, Faculty Co-op Committees Review Proposals

Members of the Student Co-op Committee met in 201 Old Main at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon with Howard J. Lamade and William D. Harkins, members of the corresponding Board of Trustees committee.

Emory Brown and Eugene Wheeler, retiring and new chairman of the student committee, respectively, presented the proposed by-laws of the Co-op and the general outline and background of the problem.

Mr. Lamade and Mr. Harkins will present this material and the general student attitude concerning the Co-op to Board members on June 5 when the Trustees meet at the College. At that time Board members will decide upon whether to accept or reject the student proposals.

Previous rejection of the Co-op by the Board of Trustees caused such feelings of injustice and criticism that further student action was stirred up in order to affect a reconsideration of the issue.

Other student committee members who attended the meeting were Paul Kritsky, William Renshaw, John Repsher, Richard Schweiker, and Edward Walcavage. Allan Ostar, former editor of Collegian, was also present at the meeting.

W. Stewart Taylor, third member of the Trustee committee, was unable to attend the meeting.

Fraternity Flings Spark Weekend

Top hats and gay costumes will be broken out and dusted off tonight in observance of activities planned by most of the College's 50 fraternities.

Costume themes ranging from "Heaven and Hell," as staged by Acacia, and "Evening in Paris," as depicted by Phi Kappa, promise to compete strongly with more sedate themes.

Cabinet Appoints Six NSA Delegates

All-College Cabinet, in the final meeting of the semester Thursday night, appointed a six-member committee to the national NSA convention, approved the student press constitution, and urged support of the Collegian-sponsored drive for used textbooks to be sent to Lingnan University in Canton, China.

In recognition of the gymnastic team's winning the national collegiate title and the national AAU championships, Cabinet voted to award a plaque to each member of the team who participated in national AAU and NCAA finals.

Cabinet selected a committee to work with the College administration in improving food in the dining commons. A suggestion to investigate the possibility of five and seven day meal tickets in the commons was disapproved.

Bernard Miller, senior class vice-president, and Arlene Spencer, senior class secretary-treasurer, were installed into office.

Named as representatives to the NSA convention are Joel Bachman, Harold Brown, Lee Burns, Jane Fouracre, Richard Morgan, and Allan Ostar. Alternates to the convention are Harold Fahringer and Jane Schwing.

Ad Society Holds Dinner, Initiation

Alpha Delta Sigma, professional advertising fraternity, will hold a banquet and formal initiation at the Anchorage at 6 o'clock tomorrow.

Charles H. Eyles, president of the Richard A. Foley Advertising Agency in Philadelphia, will be initiated as a professional member of the fraternity.

Students who will be initiated are Louis W. Clark, Wayne DeOrment, A. Raymond Dodge, David R. Eldridge, William Friedman, Gerald A. Gilman, S. Murray Gubin, Michael L. Horen, Vance C. Klepper, George E. Kline, Stephen R. Krysko, Robert Levine, Joseph H. Maday, Norman J. O'Connor, George A. Ohlman, Fred A. Peruzzi, Owen H. Spann, Marshall A. Zimmerman.

Tau Phi Delta and Delta Sigma Phi will jointly hold a "Carnation Ball," while Pi Kappa Phi and Alpha Gamma Rho will get together to present a "Spring Nocturne" dance.

"Beachcomber Ball" Beach clothes will be in order at Phi Kappa Sigma for its annual "Beachcomber Ball." And at Sigma Alpha Epsilon, activities will strike a transient note with a "Hotel Hop" planned.

The "Club Phi Ep" will open its doors to the public at Phi Epsilon Pi, while at Lambda Chi Alpha, activities will be in the form of a "Maytime Soiree."

An old-fashioned square dance at Delta Theta Sigma will give students who go in for rural life a chance to strut their stuff to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw."

By contrast, Alpha Sigma Phi will hold its annual "Club Top Hat," a formal dinner dance, with the Campus Kings of Bucknell providing the music.

Phi Sigma Kappa "Oasis" On "Oasis" dance will be held by Phi Sigma Kappa, and another Parisian theme will be staged by Delta Tau Delta.

Leaning more to formal doings are Alpha Chi Sigma and Alpha Zeta with "spring houseparties" planned. Semi-formals will be held at Pi Kappa Phi, in conjunction with Alpha Gamma Rho; a "Final Fling" at Zeta Beta Tau and a "Pledge Formal" at Beta Sigma Rho are also planned.

Among the fraternities planning Saturday afternoon picnics are Phi Delta Theta, Delta Tau Delta, Chi Phi, Alpha Tau Omega, Alpha Chi Sigma, and Pi Lambda Phi.

Dunlop Replaces Brunner As FFA Band Director

Prof. James W. Dunlop, conductor of the College Blue Band, will assume the directorship of Pennsylvania State Future Farmers of America Band, succeeding Dr. Henry S. Brunner, head of the College agricultural education department, when it assembles on the campus June 9.

Professor Dunlop was director of music in Farrell until joining the faculty last year. He was previously supervisor of music for the Mt. Jewett and Emporium schools. He is also a past president of the Pennsylvania Music Educators' Association and was recently elected secretary of the Pennsylvania Collegiate Bandmaster's Association.

Packinghouse Strike Ends, German Government Set

Strike Ends

CHICAGO—The CIO United Packinghouse Workers has called off its 67-day-old strike against Swift, Armour, and Cudahy. The strike was settled on the basis of the companies' original offer of a nine cents an hour wage increase.

German Government

LONDON—The United States, Great Britain, France and the Benelux countries have reached an agreement on creation of a provisional government for western Germany this year, it was reported. Only technical details stand in the way of a formal communique which is expected early next week.

Coal Negotiations

WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis has ignored the soft coal operators' invitation to resume negotiations on a new contract. The contract talks collapsed Wednesday night and the operators yesterday urged Lewis to renew negotiations. The United Mine Workers chief met with his executive board at Washington today, but the union said Lewis would have nothing to say about the operators' invitation.

70 Group Air Force

WASHINGTON—President Truman signed a bill yesterday appropriating more than three million dollars to start the Air Force toward a combat strength of 70 groups.

Printing Trouble Delays '48 La Vie

Due to printing difficulties, the 1948 La Vie will not be available until approximately late August or September, Roberta Hutchison, editor, announced recently.

The year book will be mailed to student's home address as listed on the La Vie cards. Over 2,100 graduating students will receive La Vie this year. Those not receiving their copy by next fall are asked to be patient as present printing facilities are limited. All inquiries should be made directly to the La Vie office.

This year there will be a new feature in La Vie entitled Future Penn State concerning the recent building developments on campus.
