

Large Variety of Positions Offered Students for Summer

Every kind of job from working in hotels to acting as camp counselors and instructors is offered this summer for college students. Resort hotels and inns are asking for waitresses, waiters, and social directors, with salaries running from $30 to $50 per month. Tips, though, can run to another $50 per week at top-flight resorts.

Men, women, and couples can work in summer camps as directors, counselors and staff members, with salaries usually dependant on age, experience and education.

The Girl Scout camps want unit leaders, assistants, waterfront instructors, registered nurses, crafts specialists, dieticians and cooks. Most camps provide full maintenance, including medical care.

Camps Seek Counselors

Camp Wawayanda for boys is asking for counselors, offering a salary of $80 from June 26 to August 21 plus room and board. No experience is required as the camp provides a training program with extensive facilities.

Pre-medical students may be interested in working as ward assistants at the Presbyterian Hospital in New York. Valuable experience can be gained caring for patients. The hospital pays $100 per month from June 16 to September 16. Smocks are furnished and laundered, and rooms are also furnished. Ward assistants work a six day, 48 hour week.

Psych Hospitals

The Mental Hygiene Western State Hospital, Staunton, Va. is asking for psychiatric attendants on wards, both men and women. These attendants treat mentally ill patients. Salary is $71 to $91 per month, with a 48 hour week and complete maintenance.

Any one interested in any of these positions, or in many others available, may find complete information in the Placement office, 204 Old Main.
