

Subscribe
To Summer
Collegian

The Daily Collegian

WEATHER
Partly Cloudy
and Cooler

VOL. 47—No. 71

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 25, 1948—STATE COLLEGE, PENNA.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

PSCA Secretary Accepts Local Insurance Post

James Smith, general secretary of the PSCA, will take a position with the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, following his resignation, effective July 1, the Personnel Committee of the Board of Directors has announced. Mr. Smith will be the Company's representative in the State College area, after finishing a six months training course necessary for the insurance field.

At the same time, the Committee gave official notice that Alice Byers and Alex Atty, associate program secretaries, would not be with the Association because of other plans.

Mrs. Byers notified the board last February of her decision not to renew her contract with the PSCA because she wished to join her husband at Yale University next year.

Mr. Atty, part-time Associate, notified the board in March that he would teach next year at Windber High School and therefore would not return to Penn State.

Summer Troupe Sells Tickets

Season ticket sales for the summer stock program to be offered by the Town and Nine Players, recently organized professional theatre group, producing shows bi-weekly at Center Stage will begin tomorrow, with the block-ticket priced at $3.60. Season tickets will admit the purchaser to each of the three shows in the initial season, according to James Ambandos, director.

Town and Nine Players will open their basic six-weeks' season on June 23, with a two-weeks' run of "The Night of January 16th," he announced yesterday. Plans are also being laid for an extended program beyond the initial six weeks.

Ticket sales will feature a "pick your theatre night" system, according to Edward McCov, ticket committee chairman, with each purchaser's season pass earmarked for a given week-night. General admission tickets for individual performances will be available at $1.50 each during the season depending on availability, he said.

Limited seating facilities at Center Stage make season tickets the only assurance of seats for every performance, McCov pointed out. They may be purchased at Don Keeler's, and The College Book Store, or from any member of the Town and Nine troupe.

Comprised chiefly of graduating members of Penn State Players, the professional company includes Ambandos, Fanna

Late AP News—Courtesy WMAJ Czech Investigation Vetoed by Russia

Russia used her vetoes in the UN against a Chilean proposal to investigate the seizure of power in Czechoslovakia.

NLRB Accuses Lewis

The National Labor Relations Board accused John L. Lewis of an "unfair labor practice" in his refusal to bargain with southern coal producers.

Demands Expansions

President Truman demanded that Congress expand the social security and old age pension programs.

Arabs Ignore Deadline

Israel told the UN that the Arabs have ignored the Security Council's cease-fire deadline and fired across the border of Palestine.

Andrew A. Borland

Department Head To Retire in June

Prof. Andrew A. Borland, head of the College dairy department, who has served as head of the faculty and research staff for the last 30 years, will retire on June 30.

Professor Borland came to Penn State in 1905, as a student, after teaching in a Mercer County school. He graduated from the College in 1909 and went to the University of Wisconsin where he received his master's degree in 1910.

He returned to the College as a dairy research assistant for a year. Then he spent four years teaching at the University of Vermont.

In 1915 he returned to the College to become a dairy specialist in the newly organized Agricultural Extension Service, serving in that capacity until 1919, when he was named to his present position as head of the dairy department.

In 1928 he was elected United States delegate to the Eighth World's Dairy Congress held in London, England. From 1922 to 1924 he served as president of the

(Continued on page three)

Coeds Roused From Sleep By Intruder

Coeds quartered in the west wing of Atherton Hall were awakened at 4 a.m. yesterday when one of them observed a man groping about in the darkness while attempting to open a window screen and enter one of the ground floor bedrooms.

The intruder was frightened away by the screams of Barbara Atkins, senior, who was awakened by the sound of scratching on the window. Miss Atkins' room, shared by Sally Schleyer, is situated on the veranda of a courtyard.

Marguerite Desaulniers, who lives in the same suite, said that she saw a man run down the steps into the courtyard shortly before the coeds in that section were aroused when the alarm was given.

A suspect was taken into custody near the dormitory by the Campus Patrol at 5 a.m.

Final Daily Collegian

With today's issue, the Daily Collegian concludes publication for the spring semester. Three special issues during Orientation Week will inaugurate the fall program.

Six regular weekly issues of Summer Collegian will appear during main session, with Robert Templeton as business manager and Lewis Stone, editor. An extra will be published for the Pennsylvania NSA convention taking place at the College June 10 to 13.

Belles Lettres

At the last meeting of the Belles Lettres Club, John Lowry was elected president, Paul Andrews, vice-president, and Ann Garman, secretary-treasurer.

Books for Lingnan Drive Continues Through Finals

Books, books and more books are the objects of the Daily Collegian-sponsored drive to help Lingnan University. All kinds of texts, dealing with any subject are needed, particularly agriculture and engineering.

Three town bookstores have offered assistance to the drive by placing boxes in their shops. They are Metzger's, Keeler's and the Athletic Store. In addition, boxes will be placed in Graham's and the Corner Room.

Tribunal Hears Traffic Cases

Twenty-nine student traffic violators are listed for hearings before Tribunal at its final meeting of the year tonight, according to Harold E. Brown, chairman. Violators must appear in 201 Old Main at the time indicated, Brown emphasized. Failure to appear constitutes a second violation under Tribunal procedure. Violators and scheduled hearing times are listed below.

8 o'clock

Mitchel Anderson, Richard Crowell, Joseph Daniels, George H. Fry, Lawrence Goldberg, Marcel Hughes, Joseph McGowan, Paul Orner, Albert Sakavich, Lawrence White, and Robert Saxe.

8:30 o'clock

Joseph Borland, John Chuckran, John Gearhart, Lawrence Luhrs, Harry Magee, Henry Matern, Ford W. Moody, and Vernon Wingenroth.

9 o'clock

Robert Gildea, Richard Knepp, Roy McClenaghan, Richard Meier, Edwin Schwartz, William Shoemaker, William W. Sunday, Paul Waterman, and Franklin Yeaple.

Late Permissions

All coeds will receive 11 o'clock permissions beginning today, said Pearl O. Weston, dean of women.

Baccalaureate Service, Commencement Conclude College Year's Activities

Drew Theologian Addresses Seniors

Baccalaureate services for graduating seniors, their parents, and friends, will be held in Rec Hall at 11 a.m., Sunday.

Academic dress is not required of the seniors, and there will not be an academic procession.

James Milholland, acting president, will preside and will present the guest speaker, Dr. Stanley R. Hopper, professor of Christian ethics at Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N.J. The remainder of the service will be in charge of James Smith, college chaplain.

Chapel Choir

Special music for the services will be presented by the Chapel Choir, directed by Miss Willa Taylor, with George Ceiga at the Hammond organ.

Dr. Hopper did his undergraduate work at the University of Southern California and has done graduate study at Boston University School of Theology, Drew University, Harvard University, the University of Zurich, and Mansfield College at Oxford.

Served as Lecturer

He has served as a lecturer and instructor in Biblical literature in Brothers College of Liberal Arts, Drew University, and joined the Seminary faculty in 1935 as an instructor in homiletics.

Dr. Hopper was appointed assistant professor in 1937 and became associate professor in 1946. He was named to his present professorship in 1946. He is the author of the book, "The Crisis of Faith," published in 1944.

Dr. David Dodds Henry

Alumnus Addresses Graduation Class

Dr. David Dodds Henry, who will give the commencement address June 7, graduated from the College department of arts and letters in 1926.

Now president of Wayne University in Detroit, Dr. Henry earned his master's and doctor's degrees while teaching English here. As an undergraduate, he reaped a full crop of scholastic and activity laurels. The doctor, called "Dave" by his classmates, was editor of the 1926 La Vie, president of the senior class, and president of the student council.

A member of Omega Epsilon (Continued on page eight)

1600 Get Degrees In June 7 Exercises

Approximately 1450 undergraduate students will receive degrees at commencement exercises at New Beaver Field, 2 p.m. June 7. Those receiving advanced and technical degrees numbers 134 tentatively.

In case of bad weather the ceremony will take place in Rec Hall. Schwab Auditorium will be wired to take care of the overflow crowd. Two tickets will be given each senior when they receive caps and gowns at the Athletic Store June 4, 5 and 7. Seniors are asked to obtain commencement instructions from the heads of their departments.

Cornerstone Ceremony

Another event scheduled for commencement weekend is the laying of cornerstones for the new women's dormitories on Saturday, June 5. The ceremony will take place between White Hall and the temporary buildings on Shortlidge Road.

A baccalaureate service will take place at 11 a.m., June 6 in Rec Hall. Seniors will not wear academic costume for the service.

Blue Band Entertains

The Blue Band will present its last concert on the steps of the central library at 3 p.m. Sunday June 6. Class Day exercises are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. the same day.

An innovation at the commencement exercises will be the presentation of scholarship awards. Among these will be the John W. White Fellowships and the Evan Pugh medals for seniors.

Other central collection spots include the Collegian office, Christian Association, Hillel Foundation, TUB and Old Main lobby. Fraternities have been contacted, as well as Nittany Dormitories, Pollock Circle, sororities, women's dormitories and other independent living units.

Any unit which has not received a box for collecting the books may obtain one in the Collegian office.

Deans Ben Euwema, Liberal Arts; Harry Hammond, Engineering; Lyman Jackson, Agriculture; and Edward Steidle, Mineral Industries, have offered their assistance in obtaining texts from faculty members. Dean Hammond and W. B. Keeler have both made personal contributions to the campaign.

The campaign will continue through June 3, final collection taking place the following day.

William Niering, William Reed and William Renshaw are assisting Elliot Rosengarten and Selma Zasofsky, Collegian co-production managers, in the drive.

Book Exchange Opens at TUB

Student Book Exchange will open at the TUB 9 a.m. Thursday to accept books, and will continue through June 1. Receipts will be given. Joanne Hobbs, chairman of the committee, said.

No money will be returned to students at the time of submitting books, but will be collected at the Student Union window upon presentation of receipts when books are sold next fall.

Books submitted during previous semesters, but not as yet sold, will be retained until next fall when all books will go on sale a few days before the semester opens.

The exchange committee may hold sales a few days prior to the main summer session, Miss Hobbs stated. This policy, however, will not be definitely determined before the present semester ends.

Weekday hours for turning in books are 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Hours for Saturday are 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

News Briefs

Delta Sigma Rho

Richard Hill was elected president of Delta Sigma Rho, national debate honorary recently. Harold Brown was elected vice-president and Helen Dickerson, secretary-treasurer.

Following the banquet Sunday the honorary initiated David Barron, Harold Brown, Mary Louise Coleman, Helen Dickerson, Jane Fouracre, Harriet Morgan, Richard Hill, Robert Kagan, Royce Nix, John Sigler, and Rose Marie Wagner.

Senior Class

The senior class will meet in 121 Sparks at 7 o'clock tonight. Class Day exercises will be held in Rec Hall at 7:30 p.m. June 6.

Pre-legal Honorary

Frances Welker has been elected president of Pi Lambda Sigma, pre-legal honorary. Other officers include William Beller, vice-president, and Joan Hester, secretary-treasurer.