

Subscribe
To Summer
Collegian

Summer Collegian

Subscribe
To Summer
Collegian

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE STUDENTS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

VOL. 26—No. 3

WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1948—STATE COLLEGE, PENNSYLVANIA

PRICE SEVEN CENTS

Town and Nine Second Play Opens Tonight

"The Night of January 16," Town and Nine Players' second dramatic production of the season, will begin at Center Stage at 8 o'clock tonight.

The play, written by Ayn Rand, is a courtroom melodrama based on a murder trial in which the entire audience takes part. Jury members will be chosen from the audience each night the show runs, and at the end of the trial will decide on their own verdict. The rest of the audience will act as courtroom spectators. Included in the cast are several State College townspeople.

Members of the cast are Anna Hartswick, prison matron; Colonel Mills, Judge Heath; James Ambandos, District Attorney Flint; Ed McCoy, Defense Attorney Stevens; Jane Stauss, Karen Andre; Dr. Alexander, Dr. Kirkland; Ann Wahl, Mrs. John Hutchins; Ed Fisher, Homer Van Fleet; Omar Lerman, Elmer Sweeney; Jo Peoples Fisher; Nancy Lee Faulkner; Jean W. Francis, Magda Swenson; Harry Natschke, John G. Whitfield; Janet Denithorne, Jane Chandler; Bill Preston, Sigurd Jungquist; Portman Paget, Larry Regan; Francine Toll, Roberta Van Rensselaer.

First Group

Town and Nine Players is the first summer theatre group ever to appear in State College and one of the few summer stock companies in the country using central staging techniques. The group was originally formed of nine players and has already, in its initial season, expanded to eleven. James Ambandos, a graduate of the College, is the director.

Center Stage is located on West Hamilton avenue, just off Allen street. Tickets are available at the box office, telephone 4236, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Performances are given daily except Sundays (Continued on page eight)

Mrs. Hetzel Better

Mrs. Ralph Dorn Hetzel, wife of the late president of the College has been discharged from the hospital in Bellefonte. She has arrived at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harriet Williams of Slatington, where she is recuperating.

LATE AP NEWS—Courtesy WMAJ

Pepper Urges Eisenhower To Reconsider Presidency

WASHINGTON—Florida Senator Claude Pepper has sent a telegram to General Dwight Eisenhower urging the General to reconsider the presidential draft. In his wire, Pepper states his "deep conviction as a senator and a citizen that the national interest in this crucial time requires you to assume national non-partisan leadership." Pepper also wired James Roosevelt supporting a pre-convention anti-Truman caucus in Philadelphia this week-end.

Truman Confident

WASHINGTON — Members of the presidential staff say Mr. Truman is confident that he will be named the Democratic presidential nominee on the first ballot. The President himself has refused to comment on General Eisenhower's statement declining any partisan political nomination.

Navy on Maneuvers

WASHINGTON — The Navy has denied that there is any significance in the movement of American warships from Naples and Istanbul.

The Naples contingent, headed by the carrier Kearsarge, is said by the Navy to be heading for routine maneuvers. The ships

Adele Hooper

Team to Present Modern Dance

A program of modern theater dance, presented by Jay Veen and Adele Hooper, is listed as the second number of the Summer Artists Series in Schwab Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. July 15.

Jay Veen, a native of Vienna, has danced in Europe, Asia and North America. Miss Hooper graduated with honors from his school. She became a member of his troupe, a soloist and finally his partner.

Tickets for the series are on sale in 104 Burrowes at $2 plus tax.

Sleep Teacher Joins College

Charles R. Elliot of the University of North Carolina has been appointed assistant professor of clinical speech, James Millholland, acting president of the College, said today.

Professor Elliot, who has been conducting research on sleep teaching for the past two years, will continue his work at Penn State.

The machine used for teaching sleeping students such things as foreign language vocabularies, Morse code, multiplication tables, and chemical formulas is called a cerebrograph or "mind writer." It consists of a record player, a special clock which turns on the

(Continued on page eight)

Captive Miners Strike

PITTSBURGH — Most of the soft coal industry operated yesterday under a new labor contract, but forty-thousand miners stayed away from work in so-called "captive" pits. These miners followed the United Mine Workers rule: "no contract, no work." The steel companies owning the captive mines have refused to sign the new soft coal contract, claiming that a provision for a union shop violates the Taft-Hartley Law.

Bernadotte Charged

LAKE SUCCESS — Russia has charged Count Folke Bernadotte with trying to revoke the United Nation's Holy Land partition decision. Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko called for a Security Council discussion of the Bernadotte Peace Plan presented this weekend to Arabs and Jews.

College Gets Housing Units

College Plans Radio Program

Feature of the seven-day recreation schedule just released is an audience participation show to be broadcast over WMAJ from Schwab Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Monday.

The show was arranged through the cooperation of radio station WMAJ and the Recreation Office. A half hour warm up program will precede the broadcast. Everyone is welcome to attend. There will be no charge for admission.

A dance at the TUB Friday is the big week-end event. Music will be furnished by the Pied Pipers. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 p.m. The price of admission is 50c per person.

Saturday night the spotlight swings to Rec Hall, where an evening of entertainment has been planned. Dancing, volleyball, badminton, cards, table tennis and other forms of amusement will be available. The fun starts at 8 p.m. No admission will be charged.

Health Group Holds Banquet

Dr. Claire E. Turner, assistant to the president, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, will be the principal speaker at a banquet for the Health Education Workshop at the Nittany Lion Inn at 6:15 o'clock tonight.

The workshop, planned for rural teachers, school nurses, and others who are engaged in health work in rural areas, will be in session in White Hall until July 17 under the direction of Dr. Arthur F. Davis, professor of Physical Education.

The workshop is dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Edna M. Kech, who died February 28. As Chief of Public Health Education, Pennsylvania Department of Health, Mrs. Kech was a pioneer in the inauguration of health training for rural school teachers at the College. This is her second workshop.

Discuss Problems

To cooperate with agencies in state, county and community in the field of health is the theme of the workshop. The morning sessions present outstanding leaders in education and health who discuss selected problems emphasizing the scientific bases for health and their practical applications to rural schools.

The afternoon session is devoted to group discussion about the needs of certain communities, and to laboratory and clinical demonstrations. There are exhibits on display in 1 White Hall.

There are 95 persons registered in the course, 72 rural teachers and 23 school nurses. It is the first time nurses have attended the workshop.

May Earn Three Credits

Each student may earn three graduate or undergraduate credits (Continued on page eight)

Employment Office Moves into TUB

The Student Employment Office has been moved to the TUB and has changed its closing hour from 5 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Any student interested in employment should visit the office or call Extension 231.

Although job supply and demand fluctuate, the turnover is high, so applicants are advised to contact Mr. Reece periodically. His telephone number remains 231.

Baby sitting, house-work, and garden and lawn care offer the most opportunity to workers. Farm tasks, and various other types of work requiring technical training are sometimes available.

Busses to Whipple's

Inauguration of a bus service to and from Whipple's Dam on Saturday and Sunday afternoon has been announced by the Recreation office. The busses leave Rec Hall at 1:30 o'clock on both days and leave Whipple's at 5 o'clock in the evening, unless other arrangements have been made with the bus driver.

Round trip tickets may be purchased for a dollar from the bus driver.

Radio Institute Features Video

A Radio Institute, first of its kind at the College, will be conducted by the department of speech on July 14 and 15 for the benefit of students and teachers interested in radio.

The institute features Noran E. Kersta, manager of television for the National Broadcasting Co., as the principal speaker. Mr. Kersta will lead a lecture-forum on "Television Today" in 121 Sparks at 10 a.m. July 14.

The program covers all phases of radio, including television, education, management and operation, and script reading. The departments of dramatics, journalism, education, and speech are cooperating in the institute.

Mr. Kersta was a pioneer in television research and development when he joined NBC in 1933. In 1941 he was appointed manager of the NBC Television Department. During the war he was a radar and operations officer in the Marine Corps, serving overseas. In May of this year, Mr. Kersta was appointed executive assistant to the administrative vice-president in charge of television.

The program will also include sessions with Lionel Poulton, production-director for Radio Station KDKA, Pittsburgh; James F. Macandrew, coordinator of broadcasting for Radio Station WNYE, Board of Education of the City of New York; and Robert Wilson, manager of Radio Station WMAJ, State College.

Registration for the Radio Institute will be July 14 at 9 a.m. in 121 Sparks. There is no charge for registration.

Young Speaks To Workshop

Dr. Herrick Young, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, will speak at 3 Carnegie, at 11 o'clock this morning.

The talk is the fourth of a series sponsored by the Pennsylvania Workshop, and will be open to the public.

Dr. Young is widely known in the missionary field. He has traveled in the Far East, visiting Korea, Japan, China and the Philippines and South America and Africa. He was a member of the faculty of Alborz College, Teheran, Iran.

Dr. Young is a regular contributor to the religious and secular press and is the author of "Hemisphere Neighbors," "One Great Fellowship," and "Moslem Editors Say."

Dr. Young is treasurer of the United Student Christian Council of America, a trustee of Hangchow College and Kuling American School in China, a trustee of the International House, New York, and the Presbyterian College of Christian Education in Chicago. He is a member of the Asiatic Institute and the Lisle Fellowship.

No Decrease In Rent Seen

The College has acquired possession of Windcrest and Pollock Circle housing units under the provisions of the McGregor Bill, recently signed by President Truman.

The bill provides that upon request of the college concerned, the Public Housing Administration shall release contract rights on temporary housing located on land owned or controlled by educational institutions.

Windcrest started in the fall of 1945 when 93 trailers were installed on the campus. The community now consists of 253 trailers which the government is turning over to the College, and 64 privately owned trailers.

The 14 Pollock Circle Dormitories were moved to the campus in 1946 and house 840 veterans. Nittany Dormitories were constructed by the College, so of course are not affected by the bill.

Under terms of the PHA contract, all profits realized in operation of the housing projects belonged to the government, while any deficits were borne by the College.

In stating that College acquisition of the units will not result in a rent decrease, Samuel K. Hostetter, assistant to the president, in charge of business and finance, explained that the first two years of profitable operation have been followed by a time of increasing depreciation.

Constant maintenance, repairs and painting, he said, will consume most of the profits. Furthermore, the cost of removal may exceed the value of the materials, he concluded.

VA Explains June Payments

Veterans who are regular students and who attended the inter session will receive their June subsistence checks in two payments, according to the Veterans Administration office on campus.

Each time a veteran under Public Law 346 enrolls for a semester or summer term, he is automatically granted an additional 15 days subsistence allowance or leave, which uses 15 days eligibility unless he waives the additional grant.

If he re-enters training prior to expiration of the 15-day leave extension, his re-registering will cancel any unused portion of the 15-day leave extension and he will be granted subsistence allowance between sessions until 15 days have been accumulated.

Veterans who attended the spring semester and the inter-session are receiving checks for the first 18 days of June, since they were carried 15 days beyond the ending date of June 3. When their registration for inter session is processed, they will receive a check for the remainder of the month. In the case of single veterans these amounts are $45 and $30, respectively.

Home Ec Cafeteria Opens for Summer

Food service in the Home Economics building has been resumed for the Summer Session, Esther Atkinson, associate professor of home economics, said today.

The cafeteria will serve lunches Monday through Thursday from 11:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Maple Room will be open for table service only from 6 to 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.