

Dean's Office Guides, Helps Regulate Coeds on Campus

The Dean of Women's office, composed of Dean Pearl O. Weston, Miss Edith Zinn, Mrs. Cordelia Hibbs, and Miss Ellamae Jackson, is a group of women authorized by the College to regulate women students and activities, as well as guide and council them during their stay on the campus.

Miss Weston has served as Dean since the summer of 1947. previously she had been acting dean after the retirement of Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean for 25 years.

Miss Weston came to the College in 1944 from Pittsburgh where she served on the Board of Education. She also taught elementary and junior high school in Pittsburgh and her home town of Carnegie. She received her B. A. from Penn State and her M. A. and Ph.D. from Duquesne University.

Miss Zinn

Miss Edith Zinn has been in the Dean's office for two years coming from Syracuse where she was Student dean. She is a native of Altoona and received her B.A. and M.A. degrees at the College. She also studied at Columbia, and taught art in high school.

She is very active as advisor to Chimes and in charge of Orientation Week. Her art training and ability is put to good use in her present position, as she illustrates the many different pamphlets and calendars the new coeds receive during Orientation Week. She also edited Habitat Hints, a booklet sent to all new women students.

In her spare time she works on her original hand-painted Christmas cards, and acts as advisor to WSGA Senate and IWA. This summer at the Chimes convention, she was made an honorary member, and she also served as national advisor to that organization.

Mrs. Hibbs

Mrs. Cordelia Hibbs is called the "housing expert" in the Dean's office as her job is dormitory assignments. She is very busy during these first few weeks, assigning and reassigning girls and when asked for an interview said the only thing she could think of was that "a change of room effects eight different offices."

Mrs. Hibbs comes to the College from Uniontown where she was active in numerous civic organizations, Red Cross, Nurses Aid, Hospital Association, etc. She also taught elementary school for a few years, and was in numerous businesses including the wholesale candy business. Mrs. Hibbs serves as advisor to Mortar Board.

Miss Jackson

Miss Ellamae Jackson is the newest member of the Dean's office, coming to the campus last Fall. She is a graduate of West Chester State Teacher's College, and received her M.S. at the College. She also did some post-graduate work at Columbia University, and received her professional diploma as Dean of Students.

She was a physical education teacher in William Penn High School in her home town of Harrisburg.

During the war, Miss Jackson served as a Red Cross Club Director in India and China. She is advisor to Panhellenic Council, Cwens, House of Representatives, and WSGA Senate.

FOR SALE

Complete drawing equipment and log log decitrig slide rule.

$50.00

J. B. CAREY
387 WINDCREST

After the Show . . .

Stop at

Mark's PeRo
Dairy Store

101 W. Nittany

New Coeds Give First Campus Impressions

Every year as new students come to the campus various opinions, pro and con, are expressed concerning the College.

This fall sophomore and junior transfer women seem to be in unanimous agreement on the size, the friendliness, and the long waiting lines found at Penn State. Judy Williams from Indiana State Teachers College, says "It's huge. I never saw so many men. Wrote my name in Rec Hall 19 times."

Comments on the size were "Biggest thing I ever saw," Lydia Barraclough, DuBois Undergraduate Center; and "Very vast, but tops," Josephne Roessner, Clearfield. Betty Strawmire, a junior, wanted to know, "How will we ever get to classes on time on this big campus wearing these long skirts?" Ann Smith, Moorestown, N.Y., said briefly, "Gigantic!"

Marjorie Jones, Altoona Undergraduate Center, said, "Penn State is beautiful; that's because I come from Altoona where all the dirt is." "Just looking at the dome on Old Main can give you a thrill," said Marjorie Opel, Indiana State Teachers College. The traditional "Hello" spirit was believed to be a good idea. A junior said, "I was told you would never make friends here, but I find the campus very friendly." Peggy Skinner from Green Briar thinks, "It's wonderful. I went to a girls' school last year, and it was like a nunnery." JoAnn Rymmer, Slippery Rock State Teachers College, remarked, "Something going on all the time; no chance for homesickness." Lois VanVactor, Indiana State Teachers, added, "The school spirit is like a big pep rally."

Winifred Wyant, Slippery Rock, summed up most of the impressions of the girls by saying, "It's all very confusing at first, but wonderful."

Any student desiring to register for sorority rushing must have a 1.00 all-college average.

'48 Grads Find Job Openings

As the upperclass women trek back to campus this weekend, the first question usually asked is "what happened to last year's graduates?"

In anticipation of this question, the Daily Collegian has tried to find out how many of the BWOC's or outstanding girls of the class of '48 are earning their bread'n butter.

The lucky pupils that go to Hershey High School will have as their physical education instructor Lee Ann Wagner, president of WRA last year, and recipient of the Matrix Award of outstanding senior girl as chosen by the women student body.

Another popular physical education teacher is Phyllis Reigle, who served as treasurer of WRA while on campus and who is now giving callsthenics to the pupils at Columbia High School.

Physical Education seems like a popular teaching field as Mickey Barnett, another active Chimes and WRA member is teaching swimming at the Shaker Heights High School in Cleveland Ohio.

The little pupils in Suzann Romig's Second Grade should be mighty happy youngsters. Suzy was president of WSGA last fall, and received the Quill Girl award as the girl who did the most for her college.

Janie Weigle, Critique editor, Thespians player, and chairman of the Student Book Exchange was working as society editor of an Ocean City New Jersey paper this summer. Janie was given the Cap Girl award last spring as the girl with the most varied activities.

Joan Bissey, valedictorian of the class, is remaining in State College and working in one of the College offices, as is Jane Spicher a member of the WSGA Judicial Committee.

Wagner

Romig

FOR THAT STEAK DINNER

Penn State Students naturally go for Pete's Really Large, Deliciously Cooked Steaks. You'll often return to this mountain paradise.

Now featuring a Boneless Sirloin

OPEN SUNDAY NOON TILL 7:00 P.M.

PETE'S PLACE

"PETE" COLDRON, Proprietor

11 Miles on Route 45 Phone Centre Hall 14
UNEQUALLED SCENERY

Your Favorite Music When You Want It

- Records
- Sheet Music
- Played by the finest of
- Pianos
- Radios
- Radio-Phonograph Combinations

ALSO RADIO REPAIR SERVICE

PENN STATE TRADITION

HUNGRY ?

GET-

COOKIES
CREAM PUFFS
TARTS

at

The Electric Bakery

239 S. Allen Street

Heigh ho! . . .

it's back to school we go with Faberge's WOODHUE . . . perfume part of the campus set . . . mated to match (but natch!) with Woodhue Cologne . . .

. . . in the Fabergette Perfume Ensemble . . . 3.50 (1 1/2 drams of perfume in the amazing new Fabergette applicator . . . plus travel-wise-size cologne)

Sold separately . . .
Fabergette . . . 2.50
Cologne . . . 1.25

Plus tax

McLANAHAN'S

124 S. Allen

Phone 3411