

300 See Lion Subs Scrimmage Juniata Eleven

About 300 students and faculty had a sneak preview of the reserve strength of the Penn State football team yesterday afternoon on the College practice field when the Lion reserves scrimmaged Juniata College.

Coach Bill Smaltz, a former Nittany griddier, brought two squads from Huntingdon to test his formations and defenses against the Lion reserves.

Passing, kicking and running from the tailback spot, Vince O'Bara, 168-pound sophomore from Johnstown, stole the show as the Lions scored four times while holding the visitors scoreless.

LONG GAINS

Two other sophomores, Tony Orsini of Hummelstown and Owen Dougherty of Dunmore, reeled off long gains on straight plunges and some clever downfield running.

Downfield blocking on the part of the Blue and White was outstanding although no scores were made on long runs.

On the defense, the forward walls of the Penn State team were impregnable and the Juniata squad was held to a short gain on each play.

PLACE-KICKER

All four extra points were booted by Carl Sturgis, Nittany place-kicking specialist.

Deception was held to a minimum during the contest since a tackle on the visiting eleven, Cecil Jackson, worked out with the Lions last fall and he announced the play to his teammates a few seconds before the play actually started.

Two referees for the practice found it very hard to be impartial since the line ref was Bobby Williams, ex-Lion star, and the backfield ref was Chuck Drazenovich, Nittany back.

down buildings for a construction company. We'll spend the Fall tearing down lines for the pros. It's nice clean fun."

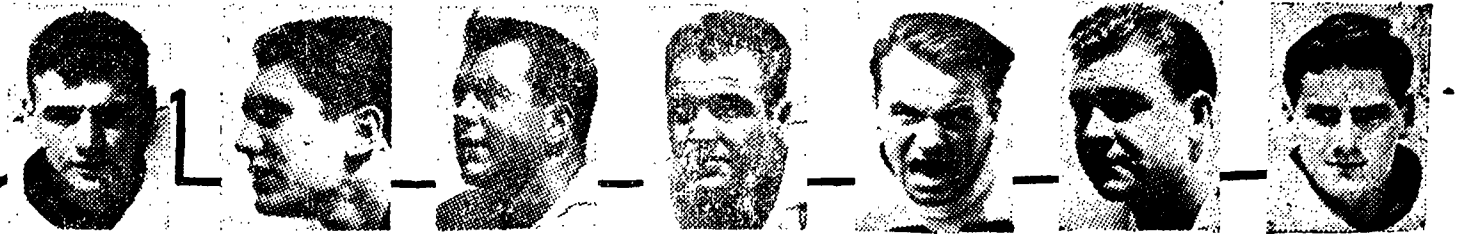

Two other members of the Nittany Lion Cotton Bowl eleven of last season have been released by their respective professional affiliates of the National Football League.

John Potskian, end and co-captain of the '47 Blue and White juggernaut, has been released by the Pittsburgh Steelers. John Wolosky, who was number-one center for the Higginsmen last year, has been released by the New York Giants.

PENNSYLVANIA BOYS, products of small town high schools, will dominate the football team that Coach Bob Higgins fields at Penn State in 1948. The Nittany Lions, unbeaten in 1947 and untied until the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas, Tex., on New Year's Day, face another tough schedule, including the University of Pennsylvania for the first time since 1942, and both Michigan State and Washington State in inter-sectional duels. The season opens October 2 against Bucknell.

Gridders-

A much-improved Syracuse eleven will be the next Nittany opponent, and with a highly rated passer in Bernie Custis and a speedy scatback in Silvers Slovenski, the Orangemen will try to avenge the 40-0 drubbing handed to them in the 1946 season.

DeGROOT

A new coach and a new line will face the Blue and White footballers the Saturday after the Syracuse game when Coach Dud DeGroot brings his West Virginia Mountaineers to the Nittany Valley.

DeGroot lost most of last season's line via graduation, but he'll have his new forward wall in shape in time for the October 16 clash against the 21-14 winners of last season's fray.

Battles with Michigan State and Colgate will precede the game listed as the "battle of the year." Penn State vs. Penn. Although the two elevens didn't clash in 1947, the Lions took the Lambert Trophy, the symbol of Eastern grid supremacy.

Coach George Munger is planning a "new look" attack for his Penn team while Coach Higgins is sticking to the smashing single wing. When these two systems clash, the fireworks will put the Fourth of July pyrotechnic experts to shame.
