Penn State Club, independent men's social organization, raises the curtain on its fall social program with a record dance in the clubroom, 321 Old Main, from 8 to 12 o'clock tonight.

The dance is being held with Philotes, independent women's social organization.

All club members and their guests are eligible to attend tonight's affair. In addition, the club has issued an open invitation to all independent women on campus.

49 Reject Chance To Miss Draft; Avoid ROTC

Forty-nine students who might have been deferred from military service under provisions of the 1948 Selective Service act, lost a chance yesterday to escape the draft.

Col. Ben-Hur Chastaine, professor of military science and tactics, reported yesterday that enrollment of students here for first-year ROTC advanced ground forces training had been insufficient to fill the quota of draft deferments assigned to the College. The unfilled deferment quota of 49 men will be reallocated to other schools in the Second Army area.

Col. Chastaine said that only 34 men had enrolled for the first-year course, for which the deferment quota had been 83.

In addition to missing draft deferment, those students who did not sign up for the course also will not be eligible to receive about $25 in monthly rations for ROTC students.

Special organ selections include the following: "Piece Heroique" by Franck; "Ecce Panis Angelorum" by Guilman and "Finale-Fourth Sonata" by Guilman.

Determined Orangemen Score Twice on Passes

By Tom Morgan and Elliot Krane
(Special to The Daily Collegian)

Despite an almost single-handed air attack by Bernie Custis that sparked Syracuse to within six points of the undefeated Lions, Penn State ground out a 34 to 14 victory over Syracuse last night in Archbold Stadium before 12,000 rain-soaked fans.

A total of 31 aerials flew from the right arm of Custis, and although he completed 12 for 187 yards and two touchdowns, the Lion ground attack crushed the home team's hopes of an upset.

Not until the final quarter, when the Lions pushed across two scores, was Penn State's victory assured.

Debate Team Holds Tryouts

Candidates for the Men's Debate team who missed the first meeting may still try out in 316 Sparks at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Richard K. Hill, manager, announced yesterday.

All candidates must come prepared to deliver a five-minute speech on either side of the question. Resolved: "That the federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunity in tax-supported schools by means of annual grants."

At preliminary tryouts 54 men were present, half from technical schools. These numbered 23 sophomores, 23 juniors, and 8 seniors.

The College men open their debating season with the Mt. Mercy women November 19 on the subject Resolved: "That women exercise undue influence in American life." This event, to be held at the College, will be open, free of charge, to the public.

A crowd of 400 attended last year's debate with the Mt. Mercy women on the question of undergraduate marriage. It is an annual custom to debate with these women on a man-woman topic.

Student Suffers From Chest Injury

X-rays taken yesterday revealed the presence of a piece of tin in the chest of Ernest J. Teichert, who was severely injured in an explosion in a Mineral Industries laboratory Thursday.

Mr. Teichert was reported in "fair" condition at Centre County Hospital at 4:46 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Dr. LeRoy Locke, attending physician, said that the victim's worst injuries were sustained in his left hand.

An investigating committee is seeking the cause of the accident, which occurred while Mr. Teichert was working on an experiment involving the mechanism of fractures in metals.

Kenneth J. Stodden, also a research assistant in metallurgy, was treated at the hospital for burns on his left hand, sustained when he rushed to Mr. Teichert's aid from an adjoining room.

Wally Triplett kept the Nittany scoring attack alive by setting up the first Penn State score with a 45-yard run, and scoring the second by weaving 47 yards to the end zone.

Smashing the Syracuse line for a first down, Frannie Rogel carried the oval over the goal and caught a Petchel pass for a second score.

It took the Nittany Lions almost eight minutes to manufacture their first touchdown. After an exchange of punts that gave Penn State the ball on its own 39-yard line, the Higginsmen began to roll. Colone and Petchel moved the ball to the 45.

Then Wally Triplett, making use of his blockers at every step, dodged and twisted his way through the entire Syracuse team to the 10-yard line, from where Rogel plunged for the opening marker. Carl Sturges' placement for the extra point was blocked, and the Lions led 6 to 0 at the midway point of the first period.

Triplett Scores
After the Orange was unable to move against the Nittany line, Jim Dragotta punted to Penn State on the 20. Luther returned the ball to the 34 and two plays later, Triplett scampered 47 yards for the second tally. Sturges converted to give the Blue and White a 13 to 0 lead.

Syracuse roared back, and after blocking Colone's quick kick on the 10, kept Penn State's back to the goal in the second quarter. After missing on two passes, Custis flipped a 42-yard scoring aerial to Pete Kranack.

The Lions capitalized on an Orange fumble to record their third score. With one minute to go Fred Felbaum recovered a Syracuse fumble on the Orange 31 and seven plays later Luther flipped a "quickie" pass to Sam Tamburo.

Custis Passes
Handling the ball on 13 out of 15 plays Custis passed for Syracuse's final marker to Dragotta, who leaped into the air to pull the ball away from Larry Cooney in the end zone. Rogel set up the fourth Penn State touchdown with a 20-yard run to the Syracuse 28 and Petchel crossed the striped line for the score.

Petchel's pass to Rogel two and one-half minutes later racked up the final Lion tally. Carl Sturges converted four out of five placements. The Lions recorded 11 first downs to 10 for the Orangemen and rolled up 337 yards on the ground to 35 for Syracuse. Penn State completed three of six passes for 14 yards.

Nittany center Chuck Beatty and quarterback Chuck Drazenovich were the stalwarts of the Penn State defense.

NAACP
The College chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will hold an organizational meeting in 418 Old Main at 3 o'clock tomorrow. Plans will be made for a membership drive.

Philotes Meet Monday
Philotes will meet in the Penn State Club room at 7 p.m. Monday, October 11.

CORE Votes To Renew Efforts For Interracial Barber Shop

The Council on Racial Equality voted at its meeting Wednesday to continue along the same path it has been following to set up a non-discriminatory barber shop in State College.

Possible locations for the shop and barbers available will be checked further, with continued investigation of more satisfactory prospects.

Dr. Harold F. Graves, chairman at the meeting, reported that newspaper advertisements have produced some possibilities, but none fully acceptable to the Council. In hopes of finding a completely satisfactory barber, further advertisements are being placed.

One definite offer from a barber was explained to the meeting, but CORE voted to reject certain features, and to postpone its decision until other investigations have been concluded.

The Council indicated that it seemed simple to set up some kind of shop, but are confident that if enough time is allowed first class service can be provided.

Edmund Walacavage was appointed to select a committee to make long range proposals, including support of the International Club and a Fellowship House.

According to the treasury report, more than $1800 is available as cash advance towards patronage of the shop.
