

Simmons Holds Open House for Students, Faculty

Students, faculty and alumni will have a chance to view the interior of the new, ultra-modern Simmons Hall during three Open Houses sponsored by the Dean of Women's office.

The first Open House will be during Homecoming weekend to which all returning alumni are invited. Dean Pearl O. Weston had originally intended the first open house to be for students, but since the dorm will not be completely furnished before that weekend, the plans had to be changed.

Open Houses for students, and one for faculty and townspeople will be held shortly after the first Open House. Coeds will serve as hostesses and guides during the Open Houses.
