Coed Causes Bedlam, Enters Men's Shower

At what point do women give up?

In one of last month's issues of the Collegian there appeared a feature revealing that some misguided sophomore coed had signed-up for a men's gym class.

Naturally, everyone thought that that was all there would be to it—that the coed had learned her lesson.

Well, she's still at it.

Recently the steam-filled men's dressing room in Rec Hall was the scene of understandable bedlam as a pretty head poked inside the door and a feminine voice shakily inquired, "Is this Dean Schott's office?"

Apparently the heat of the ensuing blushes drove the intruder away, because her exit was one of the quickest in the history of the College.

Soph Election Slated for Nov. 16

Cabinet to Vote on Code

Balloting for sophomore class officers will be held in the TUB from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 16, William C. McLain, All-College elections committee chairman, revealed yesterday. The announcement was contained in the final draft of the 1948 Fall Elections Code which will be presented to All-College Cabinet for approval tonight.

Provisions of the code already sanctioned by Cabinet state that preliminary nominations for the three posts will be held Sunday, October 31. Final nomination of clique candidates is scheduled for meetings November 9, the Monday following the Penn game.

Split Ticket

Reversing the procedure of recent years, Cabinet approved last week a committee proposal that voters be permitted to split their ticket in selecting the class president and vice-president. Under last year's rules, voters were required to support both candidates of their party's choice.

Instructions to clique officers state that complete membership lists, including the names of chairmen and officers, must be submitted to the Elections Committee chairman on Wednesday, October 27.

Petitions

Clique chairmen are also required to submit a single petition listing results of final nominations at a meeting with the Elections Committee, Tuesday, November 9.

Eligibility requirements, subject to Cabinet approval tonight, state that candidates for the class presidency may be third or fourth semester students, while nominees for the vice-president and secretary-treasurer posts must be in the third semester. All candidates are required to have a 1 All-College scholastic average, the Code stipulates.

La Vie Pictures
Seniors in the School of Liberal Arts will have their La Vie pictures taken all this week at the Penn State Photo Shop, said John English, editor. No appointments are necessary.

Sophomores Inaugurate Flash Card System

A special "animated card" cheering section, organized and directed by the cheerleading squad, will have its innovation at Penn State for the West Virginia game Saturday, according to William Bonsall, head cheerleader.

Sophomores will be given the opportunity to pioneer the venture during this first and most difficult year. Those sophomores sitting in the adjoining half-sections of K and L will be given the opportunity to participate.

Instructions Given

Brilliant 14x12-inch blue and white cards were bought by the Athletic Association. Bonsall emphasized that sophomores participating in this cheering section were to be sure the identification number on the card corresponded with the seat number.

Other instructions included: 1. Do not flash card until white flag drops. 2. Hold up side of card that corresponds with the key number in the hand or the head cheerleader. 3. Reverse card as ribbon passes over head. 4. Do not deface card in any manner.

Chimes and Cwens, women's junior and sophomore honor societies, made the venture possible by numbering the cards, pasting them together and affixing instruction slips.

Cards Widely Used

Similar card rooting sections in the West and Southwest have been particularly successful, and are considered among the universities' most-honored activities and cherished traditions.

Through the use of these bright blue and white cards, many spectacular and colorful designs and maneuvers will augment the spirit and enthusiasm of the season's football games, Bonsall added.

Junior Wins Award In Architecture

George W. Smith, a junior in the architecture curriculum, has been awarded a scholarship in architecture, M. S. Osborne, professor and head of the department of architecture, announced yesterday.

The scholarship, which is awarded on the basis of a student's scholastic standing his sophomore year, was recently established by the Central Pennsylvania chapter of the American Institute of Architects. It was established to encourage students in their study of architecture and because of the interest of the Institute in the work being done at Penn State.

Red Cross Gets Plea for Food

The Red Cross chapter considered a letter received from a group of forestry students in Göttingen University, Germany requesting food and clothing, at its opening meeting of the semester, said Frances Welker, secretary. The Red Cross wrote to the German students for details and may plan a drive to aid these students, who are refugees from the Russian zone.

Jack Lowery is the Red Cross chairman; William McLain, vice-chairman; Frances Welker, secretary; and Jayne Pollard, treasurer.

Phys Ed Dues

All students, both men and women, enrolled in the School of Physical Education, must pay their 50 cent annual dues in Recreation Hall tomorrow. This applies to veterans as well as non-veterans. There will be a special stand set up for this purpose.

FFA Leaders Hold Training Conference

Officers of Pennsylvania's Future Farmers of America have arrived on the campus today for a three-day conference in special leadership training.

The present officers were elected last June when representatives of the 8400 FFA members met on the College campus. The three-day program, arranged by the College agricultural education faculty and the advisory committee of the state FFA, is designed to train these officers to handle similar meetings for officers of the hundreds of local FFA chapters scattered throughout the state.

V. A. Martin, acting state adviser while H. C. Fetterolf is in Korea, will assist in the leadership training conference. Following the conference, each of the state FFA officers will begin a series of county and local chapter meetings to train officers of all FFA chapters. The group will also hold its initial executive sessions since their election during the three-day program.

Soph Engineers To Attend Mixer

Sophomore engineering students will meet members of the Engineering Student Council and the Engineering faculty at a student-faculty mixer to be held in 110 Electrical Engineering at 8:15 o'clock tonight.

After being welcomed by McLean M. Babcock, professor of industrial engineering, the group will nominate sophomore representatives to the council. Business of the council will be explained and a football film, "Hilites of '47" will be shown.

Height of Stupidity

Dear Gang:
On the way to Morgantown I stopped at Lewisburg to see Annie, remember her?—she's that gorgeous hunk of drum majorette from Bucknell. I wasn't welcomed very warmly and not that I blame her.

Some of the friendly Penn State students "borrowed" two of the Bucknell megaphones during the game and forgot to return them. The Bison cheerleaders are a little bitter about that and asked me if I couldn't have them returned. How about it fellas?

I haven't seen these Mountaineers but I hear they are digging in especially hard after that 16-6 licking the Panthers gave them last week.

I went to classes here this morning. They have a fine course. It is designed to help coeds understand the finer points of athletic contests without bothering their boy friends with silly questions.

How about it Dean Schott? Couldn't that be added as one of the "musts" for coeds to take here. It would eliminate such questions as, "who is that forward that got that tackle?" or "who is that tackle that made that last basket?"

I saw a couple of shmooos here today and I'm planning to bring some back for the guys that eat in the Nittany Dorms dining hall.
