

LA Students
Vote
Tomorrow

The Daily Collegian

"FOR A BETTER PENN STATE"

Weather
Mostly sunny and a little warmer.

VOL. 48—NO. 19

STATE COLLEGE, PENNSYLVANIA, TUESDAY MORNING, OCT. 19, 1948

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Military Cites Five of Faculty For War Work

Five faculty members will be cited for research work done during World War II at special ceremonies to be held in 121 Sparks at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The men to be honored are Dr. Albert K. Kurtz, professor of psychology; Dr. E. F. Osborn, professor of geochemistry and head of the department of earth sciences; Dr. Eric A. Walker, director of the Ordnance Research Laboratory and head of the department of electrical engineering; and Dr. Marsh W. White, professor of physics.

Posthumous Honor
The late Dr. Frank C. Whitmore, who served as dean of the School of Chemistry and Physics until his death June 24, 1947, will be honored posthumously. This award will be received by his son, Harry.

All will be presented Army-Navy citations in behalf of the President of the United States. The presentations will be made by Rear Admiral John Ball, commandant of the Mechanicsburg Naval Supply Depot; Brig. Gen. Edward J. McGaw, commanding general of Carlisle Barracks; and Brig. Gen. Donald F. Stone, commanding general of Middletown Air Materiel Area.

Former Members
Two former faculty members, Dr. Howard S. Coleman, formerly instructor in physical science, and Dr. Maxwell Gensamer, formerly professor of metallurgy and head of the department of mineral technology, have been awarded similar citations for work done at the College during World War II.

MI Assistant Dies of Injuries

Ernest J. Teichert, 38, research assistant in metallurgy, died in the Centre County Hospital at 5:45 o'clock yesterday morning as the result of injuries suffered October 7 in an explosion in a Mineral Industries laboratory.

Death was caused by a hemorrhage resulting from a fragment of metal lodged in Mr. Teichert's chest, said Dr. LeRoy Locke, attending physician.

Mr. Teichert had been gaining slowly since he entered the hospital. His left hand was badly burned, and he suffered a dislocated shoulder in addition to the chest injury.

Funeral Services
Funeral services will be held at the Koch Funeral Home, 112 S. Burrows street, at 8 o'clock tonight. Rev. Frank W. Montgomery of St. Paul's Methodist Church, where Mr. Teichert was a member, will officiate. Friends may call at the funeral home between 7 and 8 o'clock tonight.

Mr. Teichert was born in Chillicothe, Ohio. He received Bachelor and Master of Science degrees from Ohio State University. He joined the College staff in 1935.

Late AP News—Courtesy WMAJ

Moscow Takes New Berlin Stand

PARIS — Argentine sources say the Kremlin has offered a new, more flexible stand on the settlement of the Berlin crisis. However, they add that Russia still refuses to discuss Berlin during Security Council debate. The Council plans to resume discussion of the Berlin situation today.

Israel Rejects Proposal

TEL AVIV — The Israeli government has rejected a United Nations proposal for a cease-fire order in Palestine, accepting instead, a proposal to hold peace negotiations with the Egyptians. Israeli infantry, aided by air support, has already blasted open a supply road to 23 Jewish settlements in Negev, the southern Palestine desert.

Veterans' Checks

Veterans' $10 refund checks will be ready Thursday morning instead of today, as originally planned, said Russell A. Clark, bursar.

LA Students Elect Council

Liberal Arts Student Council elections will be held in Sparks lobby 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow and Thursday, Selma Zasofsky, president, said yesterday. All students enrolled in the School of Liberal Arts are eligible to vote. Matriculation cards must be presented.

Twenty-five students will be elected to the Council from a list of 40 nominees. The 40 chosen from those nominated were selected on scholarship and curriculum bases.

Council Composition
The Council will be composed of 7 sophomores, 11 juniors, and 7 seniors. Members who are not running for reelection and the All-College Elections Committee are in charge of election procedure.

The nominees are listed as follows in order of their class.

Sophomores: Leonard Abrams, Patricia Bender, Joel Fleming, Norma Cleghorn, Isobel Greig, Corinne Mittelman, Margaret Riley, Howard Rosen, David Sennecker, Jane Sutherland, Dan Wargo, Ella Williams and Regina Williams.

Juniors: Karl Borish, Norman Borish, Donald Heiny, Edwin Hoffman, Robert Keller, Karol Kirberger, Elliot Krane, Thomas Morgan, Sylvia Ockner, Joseph Reinheimer, Earl Schaffer, Richard Shultz and Herbert Wittman.

Seniors: Bernard Ashmer, Michael Deckman, Mackey Emmert, Robert Leeper, Joan Fox, Clare Lefkoe, Jean Moore, Peter Prifti, Richard Schlegel, Thomas Shadock, Bernard Udis, Betty Williams, Ervin Williams and Earl Yochum.

Treble Singers Pick Members

The first rehearsal of Treble Singers will be held in 117 Carnegie Hall at 7 o'clock tomorrow night. Anyone who is absent from the rehearsal will be dropped, announced Elmer Wareham, director. The following 104 girls have been selected for this year's group:

First Soprano: Jane A. Barton, Rosalie Beatty, Susan Bissey, Barbara Brice, Jackie Bush, Suzanne Chappell, Margaret Cunningham, Beverly Eldridge, Janet Evans, Ruth Forney, Catherine Frazier, Shirley Gauger, Vilma Griesemer, Nancy Haines, Marjorie Hall, Mary E. Harris, Jacqueline Heckert, Jean Hootman, Dorothy Hoyer, Mary Ann Johnson, Janet Jones, Phyllis Kline, Betsy Lumley, Phyllis Mask, Janet Neff, Ruth A. Neiman, Elizabeth M. Parkhurst, Jeanne Richards, Selma Rudnick, Mary Jane Shreiner, Dorothy
(Continued on page four)

Gridders Slate Army in '49, '50; Norton Injured

The elation over the news yesterday afternoon that Penn State and Army will renew their grid rivalry after nine years was dampened today by the announcement that it will be "doubtful" if Negley Norton, veteran Lion tackle, will play in the crucial Michigan State game Saturday.

"Norton had a shoulder separation last year," said Dr. A. H. Griess, team physician, "and in a last Saturday's game he aggravated his injury. The X-rays taken so far of the bruise proved negative, but his shoulder is in bad shape at the present."

"It is possible that he will recover in time for the game, but at this stage, it's extremely doubtful."

Countering the disheartening news of Norton's loss was the announcement of the renewal of the Penn State-Army grid warfare. When the Lions last played the Cadets in 1939, the battle ended in a 14-14 deadlock.

Both Penn State and Army are top contenders for the Lambert Trophy, with Army leading the
(Continued on page three)

NORTON

La Vie Pictures

Seniors in the School of Engineering will have their pictures taken all this week at the Penn State Photo Shop, said John English, editor. No appointments are necessary.

AIM Council Emulates IFC; President Holds Cabinet Post

By Wilbert Roth
What is AIM? What is its purpose? Why was it formed?

For the past week or so the columns of the Daily Collegian have been filled with news about the doings of the AIM committee, its elections, and its plans for the future. Now that it is soon to become functional, perhaps a closer study of its organization is in order.

AIM, or the Association of Independent Men, is just what its name implies—an association of independent men. Through elections now being conducted, 76 men will be elected to the AIM council. This council, similar in many ways to the Interfraternity Council, will be a body of representatives elected by all independent men both on campus and in town. Approximately one representative will be elected for each 55 students.

Executive Committee
All independent men students are eligible to vote for these representatives. Once all the members to the council have been elected they will choose a five-man executive committee composed of a president, a vice-president from town, a vice-president living on the campus, a secretary, and a treasurer.

The president of the council will take his seat on All-College Cabinet as representative of the College's independent men. The council as a whole will act as a governing body for the independents much as the IFC acts for the fraternities.

Purpose
Purpose of the organization can best be stated by quoting from the constitution, which must be ratified by the elected AIM council. The constitution states "... in order to foster a closer relationship between independent men, to insure equal representation in student government, and to provide better social and athletic opportunities, we do ordain and establish this Constitution of the AIM."
The idea for AIM grew out of

Football Movies

Football movies of the West Virginia game will be shown at Schwab Auditorium at 7 o'clock tomorrow night. Coach Michaels will explain the plays.

Seats Available For 'Wingback'

Seats are still available at Student Union for "Bring Back My Wingback." Thespian musical which will be produced in Schwab Auditorium at 7 p.m. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Reserved seats at $1 are being sold for Friday and unreserved seats for Thursday are 75 cents each Saturday's show will be for alumni only.

1968 Setting
"Bring Back My Wingback" tells what happens when a '48 grad comes back in 1968 and finds the Saturday afternoon gridiron situation completely reversed. In fact no one is paying any attention to the once-celebrated football team. Instead, the Blue Band shows off its talents for 60 minutes on New Beaver Field while the team is allowed to perform only between the halves, and even the wingback has deserted the ranks to play the cymbals. What happens when the team is reduced to ten players and forced to practice in hidden places, results in a ballet by the team in the locker room, one of the highlights of the show.

Troupers Return
Aaron Osipow, who was the phony Russian in "Great White Bear" and Billie Cooper, the scatter-brained music teacher in the same production, are back again to supply comedy. Other veteran troupers are Robert Cabaugh, Peggy Cunningham, Kenny Emerson, Tad Komorowski, Candy McCollom, Selma Rudnick, Syd Simon and Dick Trumbore.

College Dailies Pick Collegian As Forum Host

Editors and business managers of more than 20 university daily newspapers will be guests of the Daily Collegian at the end of the present semester.

The second annual University Newspaper Conference will be held at the College, according to announcement from the arrangement committee at the University of Michigan.

In a letter to Lew Stone, Daily Collegian editor, the chairman of the committee wrote, "Several other colleges were also considered for the convention but your plans were by far the most complete and showed the most interest in holding such a convention." Reports issued by the convention, which was held last year at the University of Michigan, indicated that every delegation attending the conference contributed as well as gained a great deal of useful information.

Plans for the convention are being formulated by the Collegian staff. The date has tentatively been set for the weekend of January 29.

The convention includes forums on almost every phase of university newspaper operation. Newspaper staff members from both editorial and business sides are expected to attend.

Fire Damages Spectator's Car

Fire caused by faulty wire insulation damaged a car owned by John Whitehouse, Clearfield, while he was watching the red hot Nittany Lions perform Saturday. The car was parked west of Recreation Hall.

Student patrolman Allen Gartenhour Jr. discovered the fire at 2:20 p. m. and, after calling Alpha Fire Company, tried to put out the blaze with an extinguisher borrowed from a nearby bus.

The arrival of the fire truck was briefly delayed because the whistle blew the "east campus" call. Capt. Philip A. Mark of the campus patrol reported. He estimated damage at $25.

Committee Plans Army-Navy Ball

Plans for the joint Army-Navy Military Ball were made at the initial meeting of the Military Ball Committee last week.

The ball will be held on December 11 this semester instead of March as in previous years.

Those appointed on the committee are Jack Holmes, entertainment chairman; Andrew Grasty, publicity; Thomas Monaghan, arrangements; and Richard Willis, Naval ROTC representative.

Change in Meeting

The weekly meeting of the Penn State Camera Club in 1 Main Engineering, 7 p.m., has been changed from Wednesday to Thursday night of this week.

News Briefs

CCC Dance

The Campus Center Club will hold a dance in 410 Old Main at 8:30 o'clock Friday night. Center students on campus planning to attend must sign up at the Student Union by Wednesday.

Typewriter Raffle

The typewriter raffle sponsored by the American Veterans Committee originally scheduled for Oct. 13 has been postponed until Nov. 2.

Hillel

There will be a Religious committee meeting at 7 o'clock tonight. All interested are urged to attend.

Handbook Staff

There will be a meeting of the 48-49 Penn State Handbook staff in 504 Old Main at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Needed—Male Quartette

A male quartette is needed for the Players arena production "Ten Nights in a Barroom." Those persons interested contact a member of the drama department.

Pre-Med Society

A business and organizational meeting of the Pre-Medical Society is scheduled for 113 Osmond Laboratory at 7 o'clock tonight for officers and old members.