

Dean Trabue Defends Education for Drivers

Defending education of drivers in the public schools, Dr. M. R. Trabue, dean of the School of Education at the College, yesterday said that those who doubt the need of such programs, do so because they do not understand the State's purpose in paying for education.

"Public funds are not used in schools as a sort of gift or charity to children," Dean Trabue told the National Safety Congress in Chicago, "but the state taxes its citizens and supports public schools for definitely selfish reasons: to improve itself, its institutions, and its programs."

"In paying for education for all its citizens, the American state is not being charitable," Dean Trabue continued. "It is only paying premiums on a gigantic self-improvement insurance policy."

Dean Trabue cited safer driving habits and improved co-operation with others for the common welfare as achievements of driving instruction in public schools. He urged development of definite standards in driver education and said that schools that offer driving programs should adopt methods of teaching used successfully in other fields of education.

Carefully designed tests, efficient and varied equipment, as well as adequate "behind-the-wheel" instruction are requisites of well-planned driving courses, Dean Trabue continued.

Dean Trabue pointed out that

Help Needed

Any students interested in helping number flashcards for Saturday's game are requested to report to head cheerleader William Bonsall's home at 120 North Bernard Street at 7 o'clock tonight.

First Meeting of Ski Club Features Illustrated Lecture

Mrs. Marguerite Little lectured on "A Trip Out West" at the first meeting this semester of the Penns Valley Ski club. The lecture, illustrated with slides, was a record of a summer camping trip through Colorado, culminating in Aspen, newest of the ski resorts.

Plans for hayrides, square dances, and other social activities in conjunction with the fall trail-clearing program were announced at the meeting, though no specific dates were set.

John Krimmel, chairman of the trails committee, emphasized the student and instructor should know and understand the aims of driver-training and said that teachers should display superior skills and habits as drivers.

Tri-Dorms Elect AIM Members

Independent men living in Tri-dorms will vote at 6:30 o'clock tonight for two men from each dormitory to be named as representatives to the AIM council.

Members of the AIM committee will act as election officials and supervise the voting. Following tonight's balloting 46 of the 76 man council will have been named.

Remaining to be elected are representatives from 30 of the 32 town wards. Two wards, the ones comprised by Cody Manor and Beaver House, have already named their council representatives.

Hampered by lack of help, committee chairman Donald Little hopes to have postcards, telling each independent man in the town wards the place and time of his ward election, mailed by Sunday. Elections have been tentatively set for late next week.

Late AP News Courtesy Station WMAJ

UN General Assembly Favors Western Powers' Atomic Plans

PARIS—Russia was overruled on two important issues in the United Nations yesterday.

The General Assembly's political committee voted 41 to 6 in favor of Western Power plans for atomic controls. A Canadian resolution was approved to let the Big Five world powers and Canada try to reach an agreement on basic principles for control of atomic weapons. However, there is little hope for success in reaching an accord.

In another action, the political committee voted to delay consideration of the Palestine question, but the social committee voted to hear a report by UN Mediator Ralph Bunche for giving aid to 427,000 Arab refugees from the Holy Land war.

Berlin Resolution

PARIS—The six so-called "neutral" powers of the United Nations have drafted a new resolution which they hope will settle the Berlin crisis. The resolution has been presented to the United States, Britain, France and Russia. One high-ranking spokesman termed it "eminently satisfactory." There has been no immediate Soviet reaction.

Warren Asks For UMT

MIAMI—Governor Earl Warren of California called for Universal Military Training in an address to the American Legion Convention today.

AIM Representative Gets Bird from Pollock Men

The men of Pollock Circle Dorm No. 9 recently gave Ralph Pearson, their AIM representative, the bird.

The bird was a red-tailed hawk, one wing wounded by gunshot, which two of the men had found on a nearby road Sunday. For a while they kept the hawk in their room and later they turned the bird over to Pearson, who has been keeping it as a pet.

Pearson said yesterday that he had been feeding hamburger to the hawk, which has been eating well, and stated that he planned to get information on the proper diet for his pet.

He also plans to contact a local veterinarian to learn what can be done to mend the hawk's broken wing, which prevents it from flying. If the pet is able to fly again, Pearson said, he will release it.

Speech Class Presents Quiz

Students in the advanced radio speech classes will present "Know Your College" quiz program over WMAJ at 9:30 o'clock tonight. This is the first in a series of varied student productions to be given each Thursday evening from 9:30 to 9:55 under the direction of the speech department. Professor Harold E. Nelson is in charge.

Broadcasts will originate from Sparks and be carried over WMAJ by use of remote equipment. Scripts will be written in classes and participants will be speech students, announcers, actors, directors, and student engineers are to be chosen from the advanced radio classes.

Those taking part in tonight's program are: Dick Balentine, quiz master; Florence Feinberg, student director; Joseph Kelly, score keeper; and George Rhoad announcer. Contestants are: Robert Gabriel, Ralph Johnson, Nancy Maurer, Charles McMahan, Loretta Neville, and Sherwood Webber.

Next week's show will be a dramatic production commemorating the creation of the department of physical education.

Nittany Co-op Adds 25 New Members

Twenty-five new members were accepted by the Nittany Co-op, Robert Merkle, membership chairman, said.

Those accepted are: Robert Bannette, Jayne Blair, Joan Burrelin, Olive Chapman, William Engstrom, Donald Fargo, Calvin Folmsbee, Donald Herb, Suzanne Hosler, Robert Hunter, Jean Hunger, Patricia Kolpein, William Kraybill, Jerry Kuhn.

Donald Mitchell, Arlene Perry, Thomas Riley, Marie Stankiewicz, Charlotte Stine, Ruth Tait, Joseph Trembach, Joseph Troler, Robert Wagenknecht, Ralph Weixler, and Charles Wynskavich.

Red Cross Committees

Four committees were appointed at a recent meeting of the campus chapter of the Red Cross, according to Jack Lowery, chairman.

Members of the publicity committee are Charles Bagenstose, Ray Caton, Jack Fast and Jack Lowery, co-chairmen, and Terry Ruhlman. Service committee members are Rosemary Maloney and Bill McLain, co-chairmen, Dotty Shenot, and Seely Snyder.

Members of the funds committee are Jack Lowery, Bill McLain, Jayne Pollard, chairman, Jane Sutherland, and Frances Welker. The International committee members are Julia Kalbach, chairman, Dick Klosterman, Henry Rea, and Frances Welker.

Weather

Partly cloudy and continued cold today and tomorrow.

Record Crowd Expected For Alumni Weekend

A record number of alumni are expected to be on hand for the College's annual homecoming weekend which begins with alumni registration in Recreation Hall from noon until 11 o'clock tomorrow night. A special registration for Penn State Thespian Alumni will take place at 1 o'clock with general registration continued Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Alumni officials announced that the main problem was finding room accommodations for the returning alumni in the home of State College residents.

Ag Group Plans Nature Exhibit

The Dendrolog Society's exhibit for the Hort Show on Saturday and Sunday will be of an educational nature, showing branches, twigs, fruit and shrubs commonly found in central Pennsylvania. All these items will be labeled and arranged on mounts. In addition, there will be some exotic specimens which the forestry research workers use in their experiments.

The entire Dendrolog Society made a field trip last Saturday to the College's 3600-acre experimental forest in Stone Valley in order to collect material for their exhibit. They were headed by Kenneth R. Bromfield, president.

The arrangement committee for the Dendrolog Society consists of Tom Russell, chairman; William Haag, Franklin Mohney, and Dale Rennal.

At a meeting in 105 Forestry last night, the society discussed this exhibit and was shown colored slides by Prof. Robert Meahl of the horticultural department, explaining ornaments on the College campus.

Officials Judge Lawn Displays

Three executives of the College will begin judging of fraternity lawn displays for Alumni Homecoming week at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

The judges, who will tour the fraternity section before making their decision, are George Donovan, director of student activities; Robert E. Galbraith, veterans' faculty advisor; and Wilmer E. Kenworthy, executive secretary to the president of the College.

Basis on which the displays will be judged are originality, 35 points, time and effort, 35 points, artistic ability, 20 points, and relation to the theme, 10 points. The maximum total possible is 100 points.

Theme for the lawn displays is "Penn State Through the Years."

Simmons Hold Open House

The first Open House at Simmons Hall for alumni and out-of-town guests will be held this Saturday afternoon immediately following the football game.

The Open House at the ultra-modern dorm this weekend had originally been intended for the students, according to the Dean of Women's Office, but was changed to the following week because the main steps have not yet been opened, and also because of the last minute touches which have to be completed before the dorm can be officially turned over to the College.

Coeds will act as hostesses and guides, and refreshments will be served.

Critique

Critique Staff will meet in 1 Carnegie Hall at 7 o'clock tonight.

Although realizing the scarcity of rooms in town, another request has been issued from the Alumni Office to townspeople who have a spare room. Anyone having either a single or double room is asked to call State College 6711, extension 192.

A full program of athletic events, an Alumni luncheon, a golf tournament, and cider party have been planned for the weekend.

Lion's Paw Alumni

Lion's Paw Alumni will be honored at a dinner at the Nittany Lion Inn at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night. There will also be a student-alumni pep rally in front of Old Main at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Mr. B. C. Jones, president of the Penn State Alumni Association, will preside over a meeting of the executive board in 104 Old Main at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

An Alumni Golf Tournament on the College course Saturday morning will begin the day's activities. There will be no greens' fee but a one dollar prize fee will be charged. All interested in participating are asked to sign up at the Caddy House.

At 10 a.m. an Alumni Council meeting will be held in 121 Sparks, and at the same time, the Penn State Varsity soccer team will meet Maryland on New Beaver Field.

Olympic Contestants

The College's Olympic contestants and their coaches will be guests at a general alumni luncheon in Recreation Hall at noon. Guests include Coaches Charles Werner and Gene Wetstone, Barney Ewell, Curt Stone, Herman Goffberg, Gerald Karver, Bill Bonsall, and Lou Bordo. Ray Sorenson who is teaching and coaching in Colorado will be unable to attend.

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, will act as hostesses at the luncheon. Since capacity is 1000, tickets must be purchased in advance at the time of registration.

Saturday afternoon will be highlighted by the Michigan State football game at 2 p.m., and the Penn State varsity cross-country team will meet Michigan State at 3 p.m.

Thespian Performance

A special performance of the Thespian show, "Bring Back My Wingback" will be given for alumni only at 7 p.m. and the traditional cider party, with the State College Alumnae acting as hostesses, will be held in Recreation Hall at 8 p.m. A dance will follow the cider party beginning at 9 p.m. with music by Pat Patterson and his orchestra. Admission to the dance will be by alumni registration tags.

Other special features of the weekend are an open house at Simmons Hall, new women's dormitory, immediately following the football game, and a horticultural show sponsored by the students of the Penn State Horticultural Club in the Stock Pavilion Saturday and Sunday.

Fraternity displays on the theme "Penn State Through the Years" will compete for the Penn State Alumni Association Cup, won last year by Beta Theta Pi.

News Briefs

Dairy Science Club

The Dairy Science Club will meet in 117 Dairy Building at 7 o'clock tonight. Movies of last Spring's dairy show will be shown. Dr. Knodt will speak on "Advances in Dairy Production."

Engineering Lecturer

Senior engineering lecturer for this week will be Wilmer E. Kenworthy, College executive secretary, who will speak on "Office Matters" in Schwab Auditorium at 4:10 tomorrow afternoon.

Forestry Society

P. F. English, professor of wildlife management, will address the Penn State Forestry Society on "Wildlife Management at the Pennsylvania State College" in 105 Forestry Building at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Marine Corps Reserve

Electrical Training Unit 4-2, Marine Corps Reserve, will meet in 200 Engineering E at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Meetings will be held every other Thursdays.