Guerre, Chandnois Lead Visitors

will feel no pity for the injury-hit Michigan State team. Joe Drzenovich, bulwark on the line, will only see limited service in today's fray, but the Penn State coach has an able replacement in John Simon, 195-pound guard from Brownsville.

Returning alumni will recognize many familiar numbers and faces in Saturday's opening lineup.

In the line, Chuck Beatty, number 51; Paul Kelly, 64; John Finley, 78, and both ends, Sam Tamburo, 85 and Bob Hicks, 86, all played on last year's undefeated Eastern championship team.

Starting in the backfield will be Wally Triplett, 12; Joe Colone, 35; Larry Joe, 44; and Bill Luther, 46 with Chuck Drzenovich, 23; Elwood Petchel, 41, and Fran Rogel, 33, scheduled for duty within five minutes after the opening whistle.

GUERRE

Michigan State's attack will rest on the diminutive shoulders of George Guerre, 157-pound fireball who spoiled the Lions' season in 1946 by leading a three-touchdown attack to top Penn State 19-16.

A port-side passer, Lynn Chandnois, and a "T" formation passer, Eugene Glick, will head the air attack of the visitors while Leroy Crane and Bob Krestel will assist Guerre in the running assignments.

On the line, Coach Munn will have Red Gilman and Sobczak at the ends, Pete Fusi and Hal Vogler at the tackles, Don Mason and Ed Bagdon at guard and Lewistown's Captain Bob McCurry at center.

The Spartans opened their season by taking on last year's top team, Michigan. The Wolverines squeezed out a 13-7 triumph but sportswriters and coaches gave the Michigan State team the nod by way of a "moral victory." As the contest ended, the Spartans were on the 2-yard line of the Michigan aggregation.

After drubbing a visiting Hawaii delegation, 68-21, the East Lansing team prepared for a crucial game with Notre Dame. It took four sustained drives for the Irish to subdue the stubborn visiting Michigan State squad.

The Michigan State team averaged 49 yards per kick from the line of scrimmage to lead the Irish in that department, although the Notre Dame power-

Higgins says . . . PENN STATE TO TOP MICHIGAN STATE 28-13

Not to be outdone by the rest of the nation's top scorecasters, we have asked J. C. Higgins, well known sports-manufacturer, to put in his two bits worth.

"In this game you must disregard past scores and records," Higgins said. "Michigan State is good. It has played top teams all this season. But Penn State is still a Bowl-bound team which is out to win all its games for the second straight year. My prediction on this game is Penn State to win by 28-13."

It should be emphasized that this is merely a prediction. Mr. Higgins predicted last June that the POWER-Pac $67.85 shotgun, with three interchangeable chokes, would take the country by storm. He didn't know how right he was, because today, Sears, Roebuck and Co., who retail his trade named goods, has become this nation's largest shotgun dealers.

REAL TOUCHDOWN

You score a touchdown every time you shop at Sear's in State College. house outgained the Spartans on the ground, 398 yards to 152.

Another basket of western plums was handed to the Spartans last Saturday as they pulverized Arizona, 61-7. This game gave the Michigan State squad a .500 average, and with Penn State the last major football power on the Spartan roster, the visitors will be anxious to add a Lion belt to the victory belt.

Michigan State's line was called the "seven blocks of granite" after the Michigan battle.

Outstanding on the Spartan forward wall is Guard Ed Bagdon. Bagdon, a 200-pound Dearborn, Michigan lineman, played the full 60 minutes in the Michigan game and intercepted the pass in the final period that permitted the Green and White to make its last drive for a score.

In the second annual edition of the American Football Coaches Association book, Coach Bob Higgins contributes his bit by diagramming a favorite play—the short pass hand-off.

heralded Spartan foursome, Ashenfelter might easily run one of the best races of his career.

While both Werner and his team have the utmost respect for the invaders, they do not intend to accept defeat without a struggle.

The Lion mentor considers his squad one of the finest in the country, and concedes the Spartans will probably win the encounter not so much because of a lack of quality on his own squad, but because of the excellence of the runners the invaders can pit against them.

John Bates, John McCall, Don Longenecker, Bob Parsons, Al Porto, Jack St. Clair and Al Vigilante, in addition to Ashenfelter, will carry the hopes of the College in quest of one of the season's biggest cross-country upsets.

The Green and White squad, following a trial run over the course yesterday, returned to their headquarters in Altoona. They will travel back to State College for the meet early this morning.

Intramural Swim Continues Monday

Intramural swimming continues its first round meets at Glennland pool, 5 p.m. Monday when four fraternities vie for victories.

Kappa Delta Rho meets Phi Sigma Kappa in one of the meets while Alpha Chi Sigma swims against Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

There was no intramural swimming yesterday.

BE PREPARED

Term Papers, reports and other kinds of written work will be coming due soon. Be ready to turn in the best work of your college career. Not only is typing a great saver of time and effort, but it adds orderliness to all written work. Well-typed papers are a real help in earning a high rating on most college subjects. The typewriter is also a ready aid in keeping up with those letters to the folks at home.
