

Brooks Named Carnival King

Ray Brooks, Delta Upsilon, won the title of King of the Mardi Gras at the Motar Board carnival in Recreation Hall last Friday night. Brooks was nominated by the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority.

Runners-up to the king were William Echlemeyer, Acacia, who was the Delta Gamma candidate, and Richard Wertz, Phi Kappa Sigma, the candidate of Gamma Phi Beta.

The election was held at one end of Recreation Hall, as the various booths lined the floor. Dancing took place in the center of the floor. Over 300 general admission tickets for the carnival were sold, but the complete treasury report has not been completed, announced Martha Koons, treasurer.

The Kappa Kappa Gamma booth, a freak show, took in the largest amount of tickets and will be awarded a prize for the accomplishment. Other booths securing the most tickets were Theta Phi Alpha, Alpha Phi Omega, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Alpha Gamma Delta.

There were seventeen sorority booths and two independent booths represented at the carnival. A few fraternities aided the various groups.

All proceeds will go to the Charlotte E. Ray scholarship fund, which helps those girls in need of financial aid for completion of their college education.

Chem Council Holds Election

Nominations for the 12 vacancies existing in the Chemistry and Physics Student Council will continue today, preliminary to elections in the lobby of Osmond Laboratory tomorrow. Nomination sheets will be posted on the Osmond and Pond Laboratory Bulletin boards.

Senior positions of the council are available to two chemical engineers, one chemist, and one commercial chemist. Junior openings include two for chemical engineers, and one each for science or pre medical and physics students. One science or pre medical, one physics, and one chemistry or commercial chemistry student is needed to complete sophomore representation.

Unlimited nominations may be made in each category listed for each class, according to Abram Bosler, president of the council.

Acoustical Society To Hear Physicist

Dr. H. K. Schilling, head of the physics department, and two members of that department, Clayton H. Allen and Wesley L. Nyborg, will leave on tomorrow morning to attend the 36th meeting of the Acoustical Society of America being held at the Statler Hotel in Cleveland, Ohio, on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week.

Mr. Nyborg will present a paper at the meeting entitled "Spectra of Ultrasonic Edge Tones." The paper was prepared in conjunction with Mahlon Burkhard, also of the College physics department.

The program at the conference will consist of various contributed papers on acoustical subjects, two symposiums, a demonstration lecture on the focusing of sound waves, and a panel discussion. Other features of interest will include a visit to the N.A.C.A. Flight
