

Lion Harriers Meet Nation's Top Teams in IC4-A Clash

Coach Chick Werner's Nittany Lion cross-country team will vie with more than 200 other top-notch harriers, from over 30 major colleges and universities, for the IC4-A crown at New York City Monday afternoon.

The Lions, victorious in three of four dual meets this season, should be one of the five leading contenders for the title now held by Manhattan.

Other standouts are Michigan State, only team to defeat the Wernermen in dual competition this season, Army, Syracuse, Rhode Island State and Manhattan. Michigan State, Army and Syracuse are all undefeated in dual competition this year.

"Michigan State should take the title," Lion mentor Werner predicted. "Army and Syracuse seem to be the next best teams, and Rhode Island State and our own squad will probably battle it out for fourth place."

INVINCIBLE

The Spartans, on the basis of their performance against the Lions here, seem almost invincible. Four men circled the five-mile course in less than 27 minutes while the Green and White clad runners trounced the Nittanyites, 21-36.

As a comparison, only Captain Horace Ashenfelter among the Blue and White harriers can consistently run the same course in less than the 27-minute time. Syracuse has looked impressive in walloping the same teams State has beaten by better scores and in better times.

The Cadets captured the Heptagonal games in New York City last week, beating out Cornell and Pennsylvania among others. The Black Knights from the Hudson have two standout performers in Lewandowski and Strider. As long as Don Black is running for Rhode Island State the New Englanders will be a threat, and Manhattan has far more form than it demonstrated here Friday.

BLACK

Don Black, last year's winner, will be back to repeat his performance again this season. Ash finished second to Black in last year's meet.

Games Postponed

Finals in the intramural touch-football league were postponed because of rain last night. Barring inclement weather tonight, Phi Epsilon Pi will play Phi Sigma Kappa at 7:30 p.m. and the Coal Crackers will tangle with the Hot Rocks at 8:15 p.m.

Boxing Managers

All candidates for varsity managerships in boxing are asked to report to the boxing ring in Rec Hall between 4:30 and 5:30 p.m. today, for orientation.

Senior, Valentino Steal IM Show

Two swimmers, Jack Senior of Phi Kappa Phi, and Rudy Valentino of Sigma Pi, stole the show at Glennland pool yesterday as their respective teams grabbed victories in intramural swimming.

Senior accounted for 13 of his teams points himself as Pi Kappa Phi trounced last year's champions, Phi Delta Theta, 27-14. He raced home first in the free style in 32.8 seconds, adding a first in the breast stroke and a close second in the diving event. His free style mark is only .7 second short of the record set by Cas Borowy of Delta Sigma Phi this year, and Don Beck in 1947.

Valentino, in the other meet, completely outclassed his diving opponents as he won 31.4 award points with his three dives, but not content with that honor, he raced home first in the breast stroke event to give Sigma Pi a clear-cut 29-11 victory over Acacia.

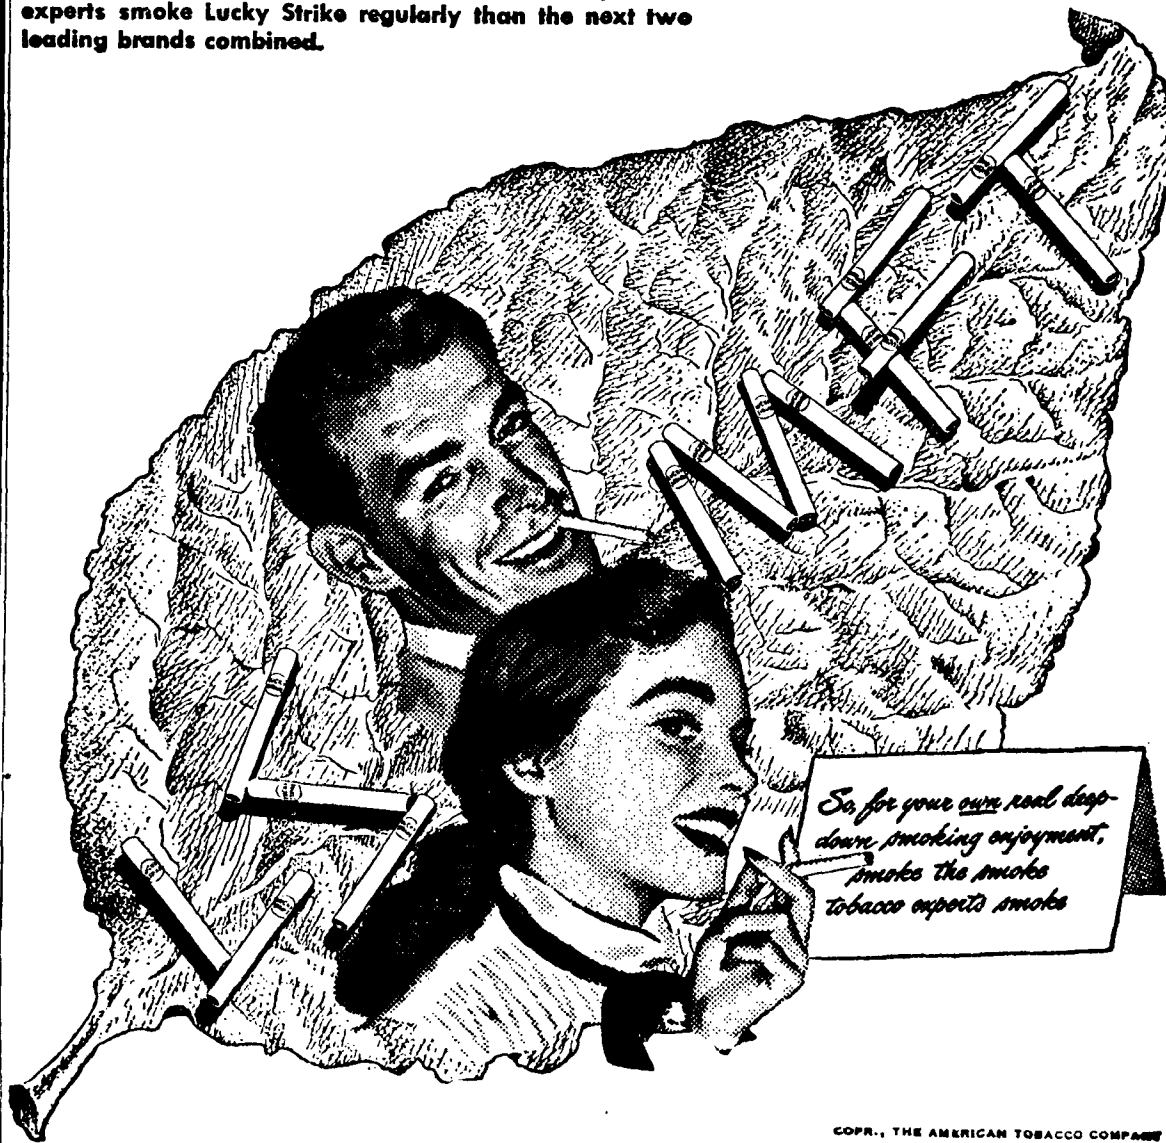

Tonight, Phi Epsilon Pi meets Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Gamma Delta battles Sigma Nu in the last quarter-final matches. Meets are scheduled at the pool at 5 p.m.
