Parties Present Programs

Lion

The Lion party has adopted a five-point program of work for the year. Issues are listed in numerical sequence without reference to chronological importance.

1—Ticket Distribution
Current and past policies of ticket distribution for student events are not in keeping with the significance now attached to these events. The growing student body and the new prominence of the College in intercollegiate activities makes mandatory a more acceptable and equitable policy.

This can be accomplished by a study of various systems and a poll of students to find the best system, results to be submitted to proper authorities for consideration and adoption.

2—Student Advisory System
The present system is totally inadequate. The Lion party proposes a committee composed of faculty members and students of the various schools, to study methods that will give more attention to advising students as individuals and not as mere matriculation numbers, and to act to install the better method.

3—Support of Existing Committees
The following established programs are of paramount importance and can be carried to their objectives by the present committees, with the support that will insure the realization of their aims:

AIM and AIW, Student Union committee, National Student Association, field house committee, Co-op committee, and Committee on Racial Equality.

4—System of Rating Professors
Definite measures must be enacted to rate professors, but lacking information, the party recommends a coordinating committee of the school councils to study the problem.

5—Stronger Student Government
In support of the above and future issues, the party advocates a student government that has the strength, through student support, to be heard and acknowledged on all problems of student welfare. Also desired is a better informed student body, to be brought about by party affiliation, committee activity, and organized discussion.

State

The State party was founded on the principle of equal representation of all fraternity, sorority, and independent groups. Therefore, the following 13-point program is to be acted upon by State candidates throughout the ensuing term of office.

1—To support the establishment of a student press for use by all student organizations.

2—To continue efforts to replace the TUB with a much needed PUB to further meet student needs.

3—To provide the student body with knowledge of all national, state, and local legislation that will affect the College and its students.

4—To continue the work of the Co-op committee in their quest for a student bookstore.

5—To investigate bi-cameral form of student government, and when found feasible, to inaugurate this highly desirable form, so that all students may be more closely associated with student government.

6—To carry out the aims and projects of NSA as an integral part of student government.

7—To better orient incoming students of the various undergraduate centers.

8—To further the principle that religious and racial discrimination have no place in our way of life, and that the State party will do all possible to eliminate these evils in State College.

9—To support Fred Waring in his endeavor for a new, more adequate auditorium.

10—To stimulate the functions of AIM.

11—To work for the continued improvement of food in dining commons.

12—To support IFC in keeping the unchaperoned dating code in effect.

13—To revive the Penn State HELLO spirit.

In presenting this platform, the State party continues its policy of a more active student government. As important issues arise, the same open, direct procedures will be followed. The party will always be ready to work for the things that will benefit the student body.

Get Out and Vote!

Every member of the sophomore class will have the opportunity, next Tuesday, to participate in the election of his class representatives.

Voting requires but a few minutes, but the consequences will be felt for the rest of the year; possibly even for the remainder of the sophomores' College life.

Unfortunately all students have not had the opportunity to observe the capabilities of all the candidates. Therefore, the prudent voter will seek opinions from friends who attended the same undergraduate center as each of the nominees.

Sophomores are especially fortunate in being granted, for the first time in many years at Penn State, more freedom of choice. No longer will they be forced to vote for a president and vice-president of the same clique.

That brings us to the matter of party voting, and our advice is simple—vote for individuals, not party labels. No matter how pretty a platform looks on paper, it still takes the right persons to transform platitudes into acts.

One of the inspiring aspects of Penn State student government, is the relative unimportance, in general, of the party tag when the election is over. Winners and losers alike commonly work together for the betterment of the College.

Collegian will not tell you how to vote, except to study and compare the candidates, and then mark your ballot for competence and a sense of responsibility.

You can hardly expect student government, the sophomore officers in particular, to represent you, unless you fulfill the duty of voting. Vote for whomever you choose, but . . . be sure to vote.

Edit Briefs

● Some wise bird once said: "All that is fun for young people is either illegal, immoral or fattening."

● Since the front car doors have been changed to hinge in front of the door, it is estimated that 30,000 miles less of nylons have been seen.

● Penn State students are fortunate in having a comparatively plain, old-fashion lighting system. Several schools are known to employ medium-sized searchlights which the student bodies have rather uncheerfully termed "purity lights."

Songs and Cheers

Fight on State

Fight on State, Fight on State,
Strike your gait and win,
Victory we predict for thee,
We're ever true to you dear old
White and Blue.
Onward State, Onward State
Roar Lions roar,
We'll hit that line, roll up the
score,
Fight on to victory evermore,
Fight on, on
On, on, on
Fight on, on
Penn State!

Victory

Come now classmen let us sing,
Loyally support the team;
We're here today with our colors
gay,
Ready to win the fray—
Whether it be Pitt or Penn,
Harvard or Cornell,
Play the game, every man,
And we will win again.

Chorus:

Fight, fight, fight, for the Blue
and White,
Victory will our slogan be;
Dear Alma Mater, fairest of all,
Thy loyal sons will obey thy
call
To fight, fight, fight, with all their might,
Ever the goal to gain,
Into the game for Penn State's
fame
Fight on to victory,
All along the line (Repeat chorus)

"Short Yell"

S-T-A-T-E
State! State! State!

Alma Mater

For the Glory of Old State
For her founders strong and great,
For the future that we wait,
Raise the song, raise the song.

Sing our love and loyalty
Sing our hope that bright and free
Rest, O Mother dear, with thee,
All with thee, all with thee.

When we stood at boyhood's gate
Shapeless in the hands of fate,
Thou did'st mold us, dear old
State
Into men, into men.

May no act of ours bring shame
To one heart that loves thy name,
May our lives help swell thy
fame,
Dear old State, dear old State.

Roar State

R-o-a-r State!
R-o-a-r State!
R-o-a-r State!
Fight! Fight! Fight!
