

We the Women

By Frances Keeney

"Import Weekend" is over, and a drowsy calmness like a settling fog pours over the woebegone fraternity man as he drags himself to a sleepy lecture in Sparks after which he plops himself out on his own soft bed, and spends the rest of the day under the protecting care of Morpheus.

The "import" after she is safely returned to her home has so much to talk about from the power of the State football team to the minute description of the fraternity dances that she doesn't feel the effects until a week after she leaves this peaceful burg.

Recuperation Sure

But within a month all participants should be recuperated, that is if they skip Pitt Weekend, and be ready for the "old routine" again. But no sooner was the last tender farewell given the "imports," when coeds started worrying about telephones, eating and bluebooks. It seems those coeds who moved up to the Home Economics Home Management houses are having difficulties finding a dining hall on campus that will feed them. The Houses are not quite ready to handle the new turn-over of coeds, and the Dining Halls on campus say they're paying to eat at the Management houses. Maybe some of the fraternities have some left-overs!

5051 Operators

Coeds are becoming more disgusted with the 5051 telephone operators. Even if they are new, it wouldn't hurt to be a bit more courteous to people using the facilities of 5051.

But these problems are swamped in the midst of mid-terms, reports due, and trying to catch up on the weekend's shut-eye. Even Pitt Weekend looms as a nightmare for many students, with the result that the Athletic Office will probably be busy refunding tickets. But cheer up, there's still a few months before the next Houseparty!

National Group Honors President, Gives Informal Tea

The College chapter of Chimes, national junior women's honorary, held an informal tea in honor of Mrs. Elaine Burns, national president, Saturday afternoon following the Penn State-Temple game.

Active and inactive members of the local chapter were present and acted as hostesses with Miss Miss Edith Zinn, adviser, and Frances Eschleman, president of the Penn State chapter, presiding.

Other invited guests were Miss Jackson, assistant to the Dean of Women, Mrs. Furst and Mrs. Connor, hostesses from Atherton Hall, Miss Seaman, hostess of McAllister Hall, and Mrs. Morris, hostess of Grange dormitory.

A theme of yellow and white, colors of the organization, were carried out in the decorations and refreshments.

Mrs. Burns, newly elected this summer as national president, is an alumna of Temple University.

Triangle

The following men were initiated into Triangle fraternity recently: Michael Dzuenda, Milton Stone, Dean Harrison, Chester Kiddell, Paul Morris, and John Snook.

A banquet in honor of the members was held immediately following the initiation ceremonies. Guest speaker for the evening were Harry P. Hammond, dean of the School of Engineering and David J. Peery, Head of the department of Aeronautical Engineering. Other members of the faculty attending were Prof. Albert P. Powell, Prof. Charles J. Smith and Mr. John W. Breneman.
