

Friends Group Aids Objectors

An advisory committee to aid conscientious objectors to the draft has been established by the State College Friends Meeting. Composed of representatives from the town, the student body and the faculty, the committee was organized to assist members of the sect as well as non-members "who are subject to Selective Service regulation and who feel a need to clarify their own positions," the committee reported yesterday.

Delegates Attend AVC Convention

Four delegates and two alternates will represent the campus chapter of the American Veterans Committee at the national convention this weekend in Cleveland.

Delegates are Corbin Kidder, Larry Rothstein, Leo Troy and Melvin Kitinsky; alternates are Martin Light and Saul Sperling.

Harold Fillman of Acacia won the typewriter in the recent AVC contest.

Ag Meeting To Hear Horst

At the request of the Agricultural Student Council, an agricultural convocation has been scheduled in 121 Sparks, Tuesday night, Nov. 30. State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst has been obtained as speaker for the occasion.

Ted Allen, a member of the Council, will preside over the meeting. Phil Cease, Council president, will speak briefly, after which Dr. Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the School of Agriculture, will introduce Secretary Horst.

In the South white children ride to school. The black ones walk— one mile, two miles— often enough, six miles. Only in four or five counties in Georgia and the same in Mississippi are there any buses for Negro school children. They walk.

"Separate but equal"—tell that to a million little black Americans struggling for an education against almost insuperable odds.
