

Truman Agrees To Conference With Mme. Chiang

WASHINGTON—President Truman said yesterday that he would confer with Madame Chiang Kai-Shek at any time she wanted to see him. China's first lady is expected to ask for more American help for China's hard-pressed national forces.

The tide of battle continues to run against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's armies. Another so-called hour of decision is near on the great Chinese plain between Suchow and Nanking, 211 miles to the southeast.

The Chinese Communists say they have captured Suchow, and Chiang's staff officers say that three government army groups are slowly moving southward in an effort to support other government forces isolated by the Reds on the road to Nanking.

Israel Bid Delayed

PARIS—The United Nations Security Council has referred Israel's bid for immediate admission into the U-N to a membership committee. The delay may mean the Israel application will not be before the general assembly until next year.

Ag Senior Tops As Meat Judge

Thomas B. King, a senior in the School of Agriculture, was the high individual scorer in beef judging at the Intercollegiate Meats Judging Contest at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago Tuesday. He was tenth high scorer for the entire contest.

Although the Penn State team was first in the beef judging division, it finished in fifteenth place in a field of 18 colleges and universities. Oklahoma A and M came in first, followed by Ohio State, Ontario, and Kansas.

Members of the Penn State team in addition to King were Robert Loughry, Francis B. Kirk, and James E. Work as alternate. The team was coached by James A. Christian and Prof. P. Thomas Zeigler.

Over $200 Stolen From Fraternities

Two fraternities, Tau Kappa Epsilon and Alpha Gamma Rho, were robbed of approximately $210 early yesterday morning. A sum exceeding $150 was reported missing from the Teke house, while the AGR loss was estimated at $56 by fraternity members.

John Juba, chief of police, is investigating the robbery, but no developments in the case have taken place.

Exactly one year ago, the same two fraternities, as well as Aca-cia and Chi Phi, were the victims of a $1400 burglary, which was never solved.

Graduates Eligible For Civil Service

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced that examinations will be given for Junior Professional Assistants and Junior Management Assistants to students graduating in 1949. Applications must be made before December 21, 1948.

Governmental positions are available through these exams and the National Institute of Public Affairs will select its interns from those obtaining acceptable grades on the examinations.

Options listed under the Junior Professional Assistants include astronomers, bacteriologists, chemists, economists, food and drug inspectors, geographers, legal assistants, psychologists, social science analysts, statisticians, technical editor (physical science), textile technologist, and trade-mark examiner.

Those under Junior Management Assistant are budget assistant, general administrative assistant, and personnel assistant.

Application forms and more information is available in the College Placement Service, 204 Old Main.

The Daily Collegian

FOR A BETTER PENN STATE

VOLUME 48—NUMBER 49

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 3, 1948

Shine At Harvest Ball

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Society Holds False Views On Sex--English

By Paul Eisenberg

"Society has been talking one thing about sex and practicing another," said Dr. O. Spurgeon English at the second lecture of the Community Forum Series in Schwab Auditorium last night. Dr. English spoke on the Kinsey Report.

"A large section of the people who have never stopped to think about sexual behavior must do so and try to absorb it in what is good to themselves. The answer is not dependent on a few kids engaging in it, it is dependent on what responsible people are going to do about it. What are we as parents going to do?"

Need for Education
"Dr. Kinsey has shown us that we do have a job to do. But it is not being taken care of in the homes. . . . It is the job of the home to give the child sex education. I don't know at what age, but it should be given because some education is better than no education at all," said Dr. English.

Quoting figures from the Kinsey Report, Dr. English showed the differences that exist in sexual relations as a result of the differences in education.

Offers Suggestions
The speaker then offered five suggestions which he thought might help to ease this problem. They were (1) educate the child in a wholesome setting so that he would not have to resort to experimentations that might prove dangerous; (2) teach the child ideals of discipline and the value of postponement of sexual relations; (3) make life richer in wholesome pleasures so that he won't use sex to relieve emotional yearnings; (4) treat this force kindly; (5) foster earlier marriage and parenthood.

Dr. English was introduced by Dr. Clifford Adams of the psychology department who served as chairman of the lecture and discussion which followed. A coffee hour followed at the Hotel State College.

Reception Honors College Librarian

Ralph W. McComb, newly appointed College librarian, and Mrs. McComb will be honored at an informal reception and open house in the Central Library building from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow. The faculty and their husbands or wives are invited.

A varied program has been planned. The "Fifty Books of the Year" will be on display in the foyer. Other exhibits will include rare books, pictures of the library, United Nations documents, and demonstrations of audio-visual aids.

Photographer Needed

A student photographer is needed on the advertising staff for Players' productions of "All My Sons" and "Parlor Story." Please contact the Dramatic office or phone Hank Glass at 6808.

'Fifty Books of the Year' Are On Display in Library

The 28th annual exhibition of "Fifty Books of the Year", sponsored by the American Institute of Graphic Arts, is now on display at the Library and will continue until December 27.

The exhibition represents a selection of outstanding work in American book design and production during 1947 and was selected by a jury from over 700 titles submitted in response to the Institute's annual call for books.

Different Books
Books of many different types are represented including trade, art, poetry, children's, limited editions, dictionaries, pocket book and paper bound guide book.

Eager Hunter Bags 175-Pound Deer And Loses $100

Fred Coy of Nittany Dorm 25 believes he holds the honor of being the first to get a deer this year. He rushed the season by a few days when he collided with a 175-pound buck on Wednesday night near Tionesta, enroute to Erie for Thanksgiving vacation.

Even though the damage to his car was estimated at over one hundred dollars, he was not permitted to keep the deer as a consolation prize. It was claimed for the Salvation Army by the local game warden from Tionesta.

Fred says that he has never mastered the art of deer hunting but feels sure that there must be a less expensive way to go about it.

'Live Together' Is Hillel Topic

"How Can We Learn to Live Together?" will be the subject of the third session in the current series of Town Meetings sponsored by the Hillel Foundation at 8 p.m. Sunday.

As in past sessions, there will be three guest speakers followed by a question and discussion period. Speakers will be Rabbi Manning H. Bleich of Lewistown; Dr. George M. Lott, psychiatrist of the College Health Service; and Dr. J. Paul Selsam, professor of European history at the College. Harold P. Zeilko, professor of public speaking, will act as guest moderator.

Hillel Town Meeting is a forum open to the public for the discussion of vital current issues. This is the ninth annual series sponsored by the Hillel Foundation.

Chesterfield Hails Alumna on Radio

The College and a former coed will be saluted over the Chesterfield Supper Club on the NBC network tonight at 7 p.m.

The salute goes to Mrs. Daniel Botkiss, the former Gloria Coldenstruth, who graduated from the College last June in the Arts and Letters curriculum. Mrs. Botkiss also won a portable radio in a national contest among campus Chesterfield representatives for encouraging the most people to switch to a different brand of cigarettes.

Mrs. Botkiss is a member of Chi Omega sorority. Her husband is a senior in the hotel administration curriculum.

Don't Schedule Psych!

Dr. Clifford Adams has announced that students should not schedule any psychology courses for the coming semester from the timetable. All times listed in the book are incorrect.

College Debaters Open Annual Battles

Debaters Clash With Mt. Mercy Coed Debaters Meet Princeton

The Penn State men debaters will meet the women debaters of Mount Mercy College tonight in their annual men-versus-women topics in 121 Sparks at 7:30 p.m. The controversial question to be discussed will be "Resolved, that women exercise an undue influence in American life."

Margaret McGill and Renee Menegaz, both of the Mount Mercy squad, will defend the feminine viewpoint while the Penn State men will take the affirmative side of the question. Harold Brown and Richard Hill will represent the campus debaters.

An open forum with audience participation will follow the debate. There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

Two members of the Princeton University debate team will compete with the Penn State women debaters in their opening contest of the season in 2 Sparks at 7 p.m. today.

Subject of the opening debate will be the intercollegiate debate topic for the year, "Resolved, that the federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunities in tax-supported schools by means of annual grants."

The debate will be Oregon style with the Princeton team arguing the affirmative view. Penn State women debaters Jean Esterman and Jean Hootman will defend the negative. An open forum will follow with Jan Kurtz presiding as chairman.

Clayton Schug, debate team coach, announced that Mary Louise Coleman will take over the duties of debate manager to replace Helen Dickerson who is practicing teaching.

Red Cross Holds Notebook Drive

The International Notebook Collection to which Penn State students contributed last year is being continued this year. The drive begins Monday and will last for one week.

Boxes will be placed in all fraternities, sororities, men's dormitories, and town houses and living units. Every student that possibly can is asked to give a notebook that is in good and usable condition, one or several fillers, and one or more pencils.

The Red Cross College Activities Committee on campus is sponsoring this drive. The project is strictly a college endeavor. Similar drives are being conducted on campuses all over the country.

College and university students have a difficult time in Europe. (Continued on page three)

AIM Council Plans Treasurer Election

Association of Independent Men's Council will elect a treasurer and make appointments to standing committees, when it meets in 405 Old Main at 7 p.m. Monday, said William Prosser, president.

Members will be appointed to the publicity, social, and athletic committees, and a historian will be named. Prosser urged all representatives to come to the meeting.

AIM Council was elected by independent men in October. It has adopted a constitution, and its president is a member of All-College Cabinet.

Sigma Delta Chi Host to Chet Smith

Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism honorary, will be host to Chet Smith, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Press, at a smoker at the Beta Sigma Rho fraternity house at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Football movies will be shown.

All men enrolled in the journalism school are invited to attend.

Sam All-American!

Turn to page 4 for details of Tamburo's selection on Collier's Team.

Rec Hall Set For Big Ball

A holiday theme of "Dance to the Light of the Silvery Moon" will highlight the traditional Harvest Ball tomorrow night at Recreation Hall.

The ten-piece orchestra of Allen Snair will provide "Music Designed for Dancing" from 8 p.m. to midnight for the semi-formal affair.

Tickets for the first Saturday night "big" dance of the year are on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main, priced at $1.50 per couple.

Admissions have been restricted in order that the dance floor will not be unduly crowded, as has been the custom in previous years, Jayne Pollard, ticket chairman, pointed out.

Co-chairmen of the dance committee are Ted Jensen and Joseph Slakas, Pat Carlyle heads the decorations crew, and Herman Auker is chairman of publicity for the occasion.

Newman Club Holds Outing

Philip Des Marais, executive-secretary of the Newman Club Federation, will speak at the Newman Club communion breakfast at the Nittany Lion Inn at 10 a.m. Sunday.

An informal dance, sponsored by the club, will be held in Woodman Hall at 2 p.m. in the afternoon with music by the Penn State "Blue Notes."

A current Newman Club card will admit a member and one guest.

News Briefs

Thespians, Masquerettes

An informal dinner dance will be held for all members of Thespians and Masquerettes at the State College Hotel tomorrow at 6 p.m.

Members of the cast and crews of "Bring Back My Wingback" are invited to the dance which will begin at 9 p.m. Music will be provided by Huff Hall and his orchestra.

Ski Club

Penn State Ski Club will hold a square dance at Alpha Sigma tomorrow at 9 p.m.

CORE

There will be a meeting of the Council on Racial Equality at 8 p.m. Monday in Room 415 Old Main.