

Red Cross—

according to Jack Lowery, chairman of the campus Red Cross unit.

Each contribution will add to their educational facilities. Alert, educated citizens are vitally necessary to our world of tomorrow, said Lowery.

He called on Penn State students to join with the students of many other colleges and universities in America in this drive for educational supplies for German and Austrian students.

Dinner To Honor Eminent Physicist

Dr. Henry A. Barton will be initiated as an honorary member into Sigma Pi Sigma, physics honorary. Dr. Barton, an eminent physicist, is the Director of the American Institute of Physics.

The reception will take place at a dinner in his honor on December 7. All members of the physics department at the College and members of the society will attend.

Prior to the reception he will speak at the physics colloquium in Room 117, Osmond Lab.

The American Institute of Physics is the co-ordinating and unifying organization in the field of physics. It carries on activities designed to advance physics and to serve the public interest through physics.

Matric Cards For Registration

All students must have their NEW matriculation cards in order to register in the Spring, A. W. Stewart, chief recorder, announced yesterday.

It also will be necessary for students to carry their matriculation cards at all times for purposes of identification.

Graduate, undergraduate, and special students who have not already secured their matriculation cards are asked to do so at their earliest convenience at the Recorder's Office, 109 Old Main.

Lost: One Watch; Yankee Courtesy At Stake

There's a very ordinary-looking classified ad on page eight. It explains that a watch was lost and asks the finder to please call 6679. But this ad entails something more than a lost watch.

The owner is E. Licznar, a Polish scientist who has only been in the United States three weeks. With his limited English vocabulary, Mr. Licznar is having a difficult time making himself understood and is doubly lost without his watch.

Maybe this would be the perfect opportunity for someone to show Mr. Licznar, one of the three Polish citizens allowed to come into the United States since the war, that American courtesy and thoughtfulness isn't just in books.

Old Main in 1882 housed the library, armory, laboratories, classrooms, dormitories, offices and living quarters for two faculty families.

Dr. Mather Speaks Before Federal Council of Churches

"The best defense of Christianity is the active practice of it," Dr. William Mather, professor of rural sociology at the College, said this week before the 40th annual convention of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America held in Cincinnati, Ohio.

He added that Christian performance must surpass Communist promise if it is to survive.

"The present post-war revolution," said Mather, "is a continuation of the world-wide struggle of men who feel themselves too unfairly treated to remove the handicaps and discriminations other men have put in their way. 'The churches of Christ have a great stake in the matter, for these rising peoples are looking for leadership and testing out philosophies and religions."

Dr. Mather said that Christians must decide whether men are to act toward each other as if each were a nuisance to be suppressed or tolerated, or a son of God of whom Jesus of Nazareth thought enough to die for.

New Froth Features Down With Rum

"Down with Demon Rum", says Frothy in his December appearance Tuesday.

Froth has thrown itself into the war against drinking on the side of Temperance, the WCTU, and the Salvation Army, according to co-editors Art Ward and Frank Philippar.

Monday night Froth will sponsor a temperance rally as a sneak prevue of the Tuesday Froth.

LA Suggestion Box

Jean Moore, president of the Liberal Arts Student Council, announced today that a suggestion box will be placed on the bulletin board outside of the Liberal Arts office. Miss Moore urges all students to place any suggestions or recommendations they want taken up before the council in the box.

There are 66 College agricultural extension representatives serving Pennsylvania agriculture.
