

IM Baseball Quints Stage Busiest Night of Season

The largest intramural basketball program scheduled this season goes into action on the Recreation hall courts beginning at 7 p.m. tonight.

Thirty-six independent and fraternity teams will battle in 18 games on the three available courts, games starting approximately every 40 minutes after 7 p.m. and continuing until after 10:05 p.m.

The complete schedule follows:

7 p.m.—Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Kappa Delta Rho, court one; Gazelles vs. Nittany Co-op, court two; Foresters vs. Twenty Niners, court three. 7:40 p.m.—Dorm 28 vs. Dorm 27, court one; Dorm 3 vs. Interrogatives, court two; Dorm 21 vs. Dorm 24, court three. 8:20 p.m.—Watts Stars vs. Shrimps, court one; Golden Eagles vs. Warriors, court two; Team X vs. Century Boys, court three.	9 p.m.—Ramblers vs. Coal Crackers, court one; Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, court two; Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Beta Theta Pi, court three. 9:35 p.m.—Theta Xi vs. Delta Tau Delta, court one; Beta Sigma Rho vs. Theta Kappa Phi, court two; Alpha Chi Sigma vs. Phi Kappa Tau, court three. 10:05 p.m.—Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Chi Phi, court one; Delta Chi vs. Sigma Nu, court two; Sigma Phi Alpha vs. Pi Lambda Phi, court three.
--	---

Lions Leave for Capital Face Heavy Schedule

Penn State's basketball combine entrained for Washington, D. C., early this morning for two skirmishes that may make or break them.

The first encounter of a top-heavy card, which finds the Lions playing three games in five days, pits the State cagers against a tough American University outfit in Leonard Gym at 8:30 tonight.

Tomorrow night State will oppose the always-dangerous Hoyas from Georgetown University in the National Guard Armory in the nation's capital. Saturday the fatigued Lawthermen will stagger on to the Rec Hall court in their home inaugural against Washington and Jefferson College.

Lawther revealed yesterday, in a surprise move, that he will use his trump card, Milt Simon, in a starting role in the attempt to begin the week on the right foot.

SIMON IN BAD SHAPE

With Simon still in bad shape from a painful 'charley horse,' Lawther is banking on the psychological angle that the sight of last year's "peerless" leader on the hardwood will act as a spur to the rest of the team. The Nittany warriors' record shows a 40-33 loss to Pittsburgh in the Smoky City last Saturday.

Simon, who replaces Carl Nordblom, will have husky Terry Ruhlman as a running mate at the forward positions. Although in action only a week prior to the Skyscraper U. game, Ruhlman showed much promise in coming through with six sorely-needed points.

Marty Costa, who seems to improve with each succeeding game, will start at center and together with Ruhlman, will bulwark the defense.

STAR AGAINST PITT

Will Parkhill, tall playmaker from Yeadon, and 'Little Joe' Tocchi, midget ballhawk from New York, will set up the team's strategy from the guard spots. Both Costa and Tocchi were outstanding for the State dribblers against Pittsburgh, scoring 11 points apiece.

Lou Lamie, sophomore from Arnold, has caught the eye of the Nittany high command and will be given a chance to display his wares in the vital number six spot. Nordblom, Ken Weiss, an accurate setshot, and lanky Syl 'Stretch' Bazinski round out the first-string replacements.

Last year Penn State took a 45-24 decision from the American U. hoopmen who have yet to record their first win over the Centre County collegians.

Winning Streak

The first extended winning streak in Penn State football history came between 1911-1913 when the team won 17 consecutive games.

Between The Lions

By Tom Morgan
SPORTS EDITOR

To the Annals

The news that Michigan State yesterday joined the Western Conference, alias the Big Nine, sent us scurrying to the Daily Collegian archives to discover when Penn State last played football with a Big Nine titan. (The Spartans will be host to the Nittany Lions next season.)

In this pursuit countless oddities in Penn State history caught our attention and delayed us so much that, by the time we had invaded Collegian annals as far back as 1930, we were ready to cry "Kamerad" and our printer was hollering for copy.

But it was worth it. In the Penn State Collegians of November 14 and November 18, 1930 (it was semi-weekly then) we learned when the Lion last tangled with the Western Colossus called the Big Nine.

The foe was Iowa's Hawkeyes, the site Iowa City, and the unfortunate outcome was a 19-0 defeat for Coach Bob Higgins' clan.

Interceptions

The account of the battle: "Holding a heavy Iowa team on even terms for almost three periods, Penn State's eleven weakened during the last part of Saturday's game in Iowa City, and finally succumbed to an alert Hawkeye aggregation, 19-0.

"Four Lion passes were intercepted by watchful Gold and Black players and this fact very nearly accounted for the Nittany defeat..."

Edwards and End

Playing his last season for Penn State in 1930 was a first-string end, Earle Edwards, who is now Nittany end coach on the staff of his ex-tutor, Head Coach Higgins. However, Edwards saw no action in the Iowa tilt because of injuries in a previous game.

The skirmish with the Hawkeyes marked the last time the Penn State will have invaded the Big Nine bailiwick before next year's Spartan clash.

Play-be-Play

What caught our interest about the '30 fray was that Nittany students gathered in Schwab Auditorium the afternoon of the game and, through the medium of telegraphic returns direct from the playing field at Iowa City, received a description of the game given by a College cheerleader.

Also present in Schwab was the Blue Band, and a few "specialty acts" supplied by the department of music kept the fans occupied at halftime.

Jim Coogan, then a student and now sports publicity director for the College, tells us, "A dramatic radio recreation of a football game was quite a treat in those days...Radio play-by-play broadcasting hadn't reached full scale yet, so we used to gather in Schwab for telegraphed reports of the highlights of the game."

"Bowl Bid"

Also in the November 14, 1930, issue of the Penn State Collegian we came upon a note that College officials had turned down a post-season charity game with Gettysburg, proposed by a Harrisburg newspaper. We quote:

"After consultation with Director of Athletics Hugo Bezdek, President Ralph D. Hetzel sent the following telegram: Athletic authorities have decided that post season game impossible because of unusually heavy schedule this year and consequent physical exhaustion of boys and serious handicap to their academic work. Regret necessity for this decision but under circumstances it seems wise."

PRINTING

Multilithing — Addressograph Service
COMMERCIAL PRINTING
Glennland Bldg. Phone 5682

Lingerie for a Lovely Lady

Sheer flattery... a lacy gift of lingerie. Give her a delicate slip... a chic pair of pajamas. See how she loves your thought and cherishes her gift. Let us help you select her gift today!

Smart gals always see what CHARLES has first.

CHARLES

SOUTH ALLEN STREET

Eastern Conference Ruling Doesn't Affect Us --- Hig

Penn State football players will not be affected by the Eastern College Athletic Conference's rule of three years of varsity competition until they arrive on campus, stated Football Coach Bob Higgins yesterday.

Saturday at the group's annual meeting, the E. C. A. C. ruled that all member colleges must return to the standard of three years of varsity competition in any sport within a five-year span, with freshman and transfer students barred from varsity sports until they had put in a year of residence.

"Students at the teachers colleges are not considered transfer students when they come to Penn State as sophomores," said the Nittany coach, "and competition in teachers college athletic events is not considered as Penn State varsity competition."

"I still don't like the system of not having any freshmen ball players," continued Coach Higgins. "Of course the College can't do anything about the situation at present, but I'll be glad when we go back to having freshmen at spring football practice again."

NO PLACE CAN COMPARE WITH

THE NEW Paradise Cafe

114 SOUTH SPRING ST. BELLEFONTE, PA.

PLAYING THIS WEEK Thursday and Friday

Tru-Blu Sextet

- 'WILD DAVE' BRINER
- 'STASH' COLLINS
- 'G-STRING' HENRY
- 'SHOELESS LOU' LEVI
- 'THE OLD PROFESSOR'
- 'DOC' SAVIGE

P-L-U-S

Xmas Clam Bake Friday

No Cover — No Minimum EXCELLENT SERVICE

Intercollegiate Sports

Intercollegiate sports have been administered as a department in the School of Physical Education and Athletics since 1930.

NOW AT YOUR WARNER THEATER

Catham

Edward G. Robinson
"NIGHT HAS A THOUSAND EYES"

State

Veronica Lake
Billy DeWolf
"ISN'T IT ROMANTIC"

Nittany

Internat. Film Club presents
French Film Hit
'JENNY LAMOUR'
English Sub-titles

"You'll be Home for Christmas"

But just to make sure your girl and you have Christmas Dinner together... here's what's cooking at THE ALLENCREST:

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

The Annual CANDLELIGHT DINNER

ROAST STUFFED TURKEY BAKED HAM

There'll be a roaring fire to warm you and Christmas Carols to cheer you

THE Allencrest TEA ROOM