CORE Reaffirms Pledge To Support Barber Shop

Renewing its pledge to seek the establishment of a non-discriminatory barber shop, the Council on Racial Equality decided Monday night to keep in touch with a State College business group which has promised support, said Dr. Harold F. Graves, faculty co-chairman of CORE.

If current negotiations between the town barbers and a student-faculty-town committee should fail, CORE will proceed with its plan to set up a non-discriminatory shop, Dr. Graves said.

A negotiating committee spokesman said yesterday that the group is standing by pending the result of a meeting of the State College Junior Chamber of Commerce tonight. Richard McCord, a town businessman, is the chamber's president.

Negotiating Committee

Members of the negotiating committee, selected last week, are Dr. Ernest H. Freund, assistant professor of philosophy; William Lawless, All-College president; and the Rev. Robert H. Eads, pastor of the University Baptist Church.

CORE also has decided to support the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in its action to petition the Pennsylvania state legislature to have barber shops included in a 1949 statute which prohibits discrimination in public accommodations.

Investigation

A committee was appointed to investigate possible discrimination in certain honorary societies on campus. The organizations will receive questionnaires asking what membership restrictions are contained in their constitutions. The Council voted to charge semester dues of 50 cents per person and $1 per organization.

Ceiga, Campbell Recital Soloists

The third in the series of recitals being presented by the College music department will be held in Schwab Auditorium beginning at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Soloists for the program will be Prof. George E. Ceiga, chapel organist, and Frank Campbell, baritone. Mr. Campbell is a graduate assistant in music education and part-time instructor in the borough public schools. He will be accompanied by Gay Bruner at the piano.

Organ Recital

Professor Ceiga will open the recital with "Ricercare," by Palestrina, followed by "Prelude," by Purcell. Next the organist will play "Fugue ala Gigue," by Bach.

Mr. Campbell will sing "Maedchen mit den Roten Mueendchen," "Marie," and "Im Herbst," all by Franz.

Professor Ceiga will continue the program by performing Choral, Prelude and Fugue ("O Traugkeit, O Herzleid") by Brahms, and "Spring Song," from Bonnet Historical Recitals, by Shelley.

Britten's Works

Two of Britten's works, "The Bonny Earl" and "The Sally Gardens," will next be performed by Mr. Campbell. His own composition, "Where's My Lord's Robe?" will follow.

Professor Ceiga will conclude the recital with the Toccata from Widor's Fifth Symphony.

Israel Asks UN To Investigate Jewish-Arab Situation

Late AP News, Courtesy WMAJ

ISRAELI—Israel has accused Britain of displaying a menacing attitude toward the State of Israel, and the Jewish government has asked the United Nations to investigate the situation.

The Israeli representative, Aubey Eban, said that British troops have arrived at Aqaba. He declared that the action will be interpreted as a threat against Israel.

Walks, Shrubs To Save Grass

Additional walks and shrubbery will be placed along three campus grass areas which now bear a heavy load of foot traffic, when recommendations of All-College Cabinet's Keep Off the Grass Committee are carried out.

The improvements, announced by George Bearer, committee chairman, include the laying of a walk parallel to the north side of Main Engineering building as soon as ground conditions permit.

New Walk

This walk would give persons coming west from the mall a direct path to engineering units located west of Main Engineering. Walter Trainer, supervisor of landscape construction and maintenance, said it has been impossible to have grass grow in this area for years, because of its constant use by pedestrians.

A walk or shrubbery will be placed between Central Library and Burrows building, and another will extend along the north end of Holmes field, across Pollock road from Osmond Laboratory.

In the latter case, the Cabinet committee urges pedestrians to use the walk already provided, crossing the field from south of McAllister Hall. Solution of this problem may require construction of a walk from the northwest corner of Holmes field to connect with present walks near Temporary building.

Committee Opposed

Mr. Trainer reported the Bearer committee opposed to this step on the grounds that baseball playing on the field in spring and summer would constitute a hazard.

Chains and posts like those in front of Schwab Auditorium will be placed along the mall in front of Carnegie Hall, the committee announced.

Commerce Group Elects Officers

Delta Sigma Pi, international commerce fraternity, recently elected three officers to replace the graduating seniors who held office in the organization.

Newly elected senior warden is Robert Goodman while the junior warden elect is Donald Vanneman. George Vadasz was elected historian.

Last night Delta Sigma Pi brothers attended a meeting in the Home Economics Building to hear reports on the National Economic Meeting. The invitation to attend this meeting was extended to Delta Sigma Pi by the Economics Club of the College.

No Letter Shortage In Old Main Basement

A new mail-handling record was recently set by a little-known group of workers in the basement of Old Main.

A total of 101,587 separate pieces of mail were addressed, sorted, and mailed by the staff of the Alumni Association Mailing Room during the month of November.

Included were five issues of the Football Letter, an issue of the Penn Stater, monthly bills, news for District Clubs, and receipts for alumni dues.

The Penn State Christian Association, department of public information, Pennsylvania School Press Exchange, American Association of University Professors, textile chemistry and Lion's Paw sent out releases, during that month, while issues of the Faculty Bulletin, The College, and Summer Sessions were made available to their readers via the campus postoffice.

Other jobs included addressing and mailing Penn State Engagement Calendars and the mailing of 119 copies of the History of Penn State by the staff, which is headed by Mrs. Bertha Lucas. Mrs. Lucas is the only full time employee of the Alumni Mailing Room, but Mrs. Mary McClintock and Mrs. Helen Henninger work on a half-time basis.

Men Debaters Meet Temple

Four members of the Penn State men's debate team will participate in four intercollegiate debates in the New York and Philadelphia areas this week.

Harold Brown and Melvin Katinsky will take part in a radio debate at Temple University today defending the negative side of the question, "Should A Federated World Government be established?"

Brown and Katinsky will debate St. Joseph's College on Thursday and Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute on Friday. In both debates the Penn Staters will take the affirmative on federal aid to education.

Thursday evening John Kelly and Peter Giesey will travel to Bryn Mawr to debate the intercollegiate question of federal aid to education. They will defend the affirmative. All contests will be decision debates.

Debaters Meet Juniata Tonight

The third home debate for the women's debate team will be held in 312 Sparks at 7:30 p.m. today. Jane Fouracre and Barbara Schiffman will meet the negative team from Juniata College. Miss Fouracre will be constructive speaker and Miss Schiffman cross examiner. Dean Pearl O. Weston will preside as chairman. Subject for the debate will be "Resolved: that the federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunity in tax-supported schools by means of annual grants." The debate will be cross-examination style.

Intercollegiate Debate

Four members of the squad took part in 10 intercollegiate debates in the Philadelphia area over the week-end. Christine Altenberger, Florence Feinberg, Jane Fouracre, and Jan Kurtz composed the teams which debated at La Salle, the University of Pennsylvania, St. Joseph's, Swarthmore, and Temple. Topic for all contests was the 1949 intercollegiate debate question.

Pi Gamma Alpha

"The Problems of Representation in Art" will be the discussion topic at the meeting of Pi Gamma Alpha, art honorary, in Simmons Lounge at 7 p.m. today.

Soph Hop Features 'Hell And Henderson'

"Hell and Henderson" await the dancing public at the Sophomore Hop in Recreation Hall, February 18.

Playing in an atmosphere of fire and brimstone, smacking of the devilish and supernatural, "Skitch" Henderson, his piano and his orchestra will provide music for dancing from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. at the annual soph-sponsored affair.

In announcing the engagement of the Henderson orchestra, Hop committee co-chairmen, Roger Rowland and Jack Boddington, explained that early planning had been hampered by a mix-up with a dissolving orchestra booking agency and that Charlie Spivak could not appear as previously announced.

Ticket Price

Tickets will be priced at $4 per couple. Refreshments will be served at the dance.

The Henderson orchestra, featuring singers Nancy Reed and Andy Roberts, was born shortly after the war and boasts an exclusive Capitol recording contract, together with a record of personal and radio appearances. Those witnessing the recent Jimmy Stewart picture "Magic Town" may have recognized the Henderson technique in the score.

Began as Soloist

"Skitch" himself began his musical career as a piano soloist, inspired by the savage harmonies of the Duke Ellington band. His keyboard stylings crept into the arrangements of such top-ranking orchestras as Tommy Dorsey, Artie Shaw, and Glen Gray. The outbreak of the war found him dividing his time between guest appearances and his duties as house conductor and pianist for NBC in Hollywood.

War Performances

The air corps monopolized his talents for a time during the war and he returned to continue his career, working with Frank Sinatra and others. Now, with an orchestra to back his flying fingers, he will journey to State College for his first appearance in Rec Hall.

Working with Rowland and Boddington in the laying of final plans for the Hop are Donald Atwood, Isobel Greig, John Kirch and Robert Longenecker.

Speech Students Give Readings

Two one-half hour readings will be given by the advanced oral interpretation class in the Home Ec Living Center at 7 p.m. tonight.

Joseph Kelly will read Stephen Vincent Benet's "The Devil and Daniel Webster," and June Williams will give "A Doll's House" by Henrik Ibsen.

These readings are part of a monthly series which began with the presentation of Maxwell Anderson's play "Joan of Lorraine" in November by Mrs. James Smith.

Kelly, who is from Lewistown, represented the College in the Intercollegiate Poetry Reading Festival last April.

Miss Williams is a senior in education from Philadelphia.

Soccer Squad Elects Captain

Ralph Hosterman was elected soccer captain for the 1950 campaign at the annual Lion soccer banquet at the State College Hotel last night.

Hosterman, selected to an All-America center halfback position this week, succeeds this year's high scoring captain Dean Witmer.

Sparkplug of this season's booting aggregation which turned in an impressive record of 7 wins, 1 loss and 1 tie, Hosterman was praised for his fine field generalship by his mentor, Bill Jeffrey.

Fifteen soccermen were awarded their varsity sweaters and letters while eight received their gold soccer awards. 1949 lettermen include Spencer Boyer, Clarence Buss, Harold Hackman, Richard Hannah, Ralph Hosterman, James Kline, William Kraybill, Harry Lawroski, Theodore Lieb, Harry Little, Charles Margolf, George Phillips, Frank Taucher, Edward Taggart, Dean Witmer and manager Joseph Sumner.

Graduating seniors who were awarded gold medals were David Binns, James Eters, James Kline, Charles Margolf, Edward Taggart, Frank Taucher, Dean Witmer and manager Joe Sumner.

Engineering Societies

Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Tau will hold a joint meeting tonight at Beta Sigma Rho fraternity at 7:30 p.m. today. Dr. Paul Beall will speak on "Industrial Relations for the Engineer."

Blue Key Completes Dinner Dance Plans

Blue Key, junior men's activities honorary, recently completed plans for their annual formal dinner dance. Louis Epstein was named dance chairman by William Shade, Blue Key president.

Dance committee members are Craig Elliott and Richard Yeagley, band committee; Fred Silverman and David Karp, invitations committee; John Lackenmeyer and Carl Swaize, hotel arrangements committee; Elliott Krane and George Vadasz, publicity committees.

News Briefs

Pi Gamma Nu Meeting

Pi Gamma Nu, social science honorary, will hold the first meeting of a series of programs in north east lounge, Atherton, at 8 p.m. today.

Topic for the meeting will be "What Is Sociology Doing, Its Methods and Research." Dr. Jessie Bernard will be in charge. The meeting, open to the public, will be followed by a coffee hour.

Chem Eng Society

K. W. Given of General Electric Co. will be guest speaker at the meeting of Chemical Engineering Society in 105 White Hall at 7:30 p.m. today.

PS Flying Club

Stenson aircraft performance data will be presented in the first of a series of reports by O. H. Schwanger at Penn State Flying Club's meeting in 415 Old Main at 7 p.m. today.
