

Conflict Exam Schedule

A list of students who are scheduled to take conflict examinations has been sent to the heads of departments for which conflicts have been scheduled. The instructor in charge should read the list of names to the class at the next meeting. Only students who have filed a conflict examination will be permitted to take these examinations. Students who did not report a conflict examination and who would like to take a conflict examination will have to make arrangements with the instructor in charge.

Here's the Nittany Lions' trio of midget basketball floormen, none of whom stands higher than five feet, nine inches in a "tall man's" sport. Left to right are Ken Weiss, five-feet-eight; Joe Tocci, five-feet-seven, and Milt Simon, five-feet-nine.

John Reese and Captain George the 121-pound class. Reese Schautz are both potentials for wrestled last week against Princeton and won.

Jim Walker and Jack Dreibelbis still are in the running for the 128-pound berth, and the starter hinges on the outcome of last night's elimination bout.

Newcomer Dick "Bucky" Edinger has advanced in eliminations this week to challenge the supremacy of Al Fasnacht at 136-pounds. Fasnacht saw action against Princeton, but dropped his first varsity bout.

MAUREY

Jim Maurey will grapple at 145-pounds, while Mickey Silverman will wrestle at the same weight in the Jay-Vee meet. Grant Dixon will represent the varsity and Larry Shallcross the Lion Cubs in the 155-pound division, while Bob Hetrick will be after his second win at his 165-pound post. Aubrey McIlvaine will fight in that weight against the Big Red juniors.

The 175-pound position will be held down by Bill "Spider" Corman, with Bob Markle scheduled

Sports a la Fem

By Clarice Liinch

The winter spotlight has fallen on a host of activities, of which basketball, the only major sport which originated in the United States, is the most popular and profitable.

Basketball is a rougher game than it may appear to be. In certain sections of the Midwest they say that the tough guys play basketball while their weaker brothers take care of the football.

POLITE

In spite of all this, it is a polite game. Although no rule mentions it specifically, players are prohibited from taking off their shirts on the court. Grady Lewis, player-manager of the St. Louis team, was fined $100 for just such an action.

College basketball seems to be the most popular variety of the game. While basketball is successful in almost all colleges, the high school and professional brands are, in most cases, profitable only in smaller cities. The professional teams in metropolitan areas invariably wind up in the red while high school teams in large cities are all but buried.

GARDEN

Madison Square Garden, however, is always jammed for the big college games which are played there. Unfortunately, too many colleges are in the same class as Penn State, the seating capacity in the gyms is most inadequate. If you check the figures, you'll find that basketball ranks second only to softball in the number of spectators who see the games each season.

Phi Delta Theta

The results of officer elections held at Phi Delta Theta recently are as follows: president, Walter Shaffer; vice-president, Raymond Caton; secretary, John Thompson; warden, William Hickey; librarian, Robert Hooper; chaplain, mond Canton; pledge master, Donald Thompson; chorister, Ray-John Griffith; house manager, Russell Powell and treasurer, Harry Schuttle.

for that class in the Jay-Vee entanglement.

Homer Barr and Wally Chambers are the two Blue and White heavyweights. Barr will have his first real test of the season when he and Clark square off in the evening's final bout.

A former Penn Stater, Fred Reeve, will meet Corman in the 175-pound clash, while Coach Miller has listed his other varsity starters as Earle Wilde, 121; Pete Bolanis, 128; Captain Joe Calby, 136; John Adams, 145; Bob Hoagland, 155; Charles Taft, 185; and Clark at the unlimited position.
