"WILL IT RAIN TONIGHT?"

... everyone wants to know, but military and air-line pilots must know and know promptly!

To help transmit this information, the Bell System maintains the largest facsimile transmission system in the world . . . a network nearly 20,000 miles long.

Over these wires the United States Air Force, in cooperation with the United States Weather Bureau and other government agencies, is able to send up-to-the-minute weather charts and maps to many points simultaneously. Each receives a faithful reproduction of the originals. The chance for error is eliminated, valuable time is saved.

This network is a part of America's vast communications system—the finest in the world. The job of maintaining and improving this system, of keeping the cost of telephone service as low as possible, never ends.
