

Book Exchange
Opens
Tomorrow

The Daily Collegian

"FOR A BETTER PENN STATE"

Weather:
Fair and Colder

VOLUME 48—NUMBER 73

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 21, 1949

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Truman Hits Reds in Speech At Inaugural

Seven Mile Parade
Follows Address

Late AP News. Courtesy WMAJ

WASHINGTON — President Truman stood hatless in a chill wind yesterday and told an inaugural audience that America must continue and expand its crusade for peace and freedom the world over. He called for what he described as "a bold new program" of economic help for peace-loving peoples, and he branded communism as a breeder of war which threatened the aims of his administration.

A seven-mile-long inaugural parade, the most spectacular in the nation's history, followed Mr. Truman's address. The president rode in an open car at the head of the procession. An armada of 700 Air Force and Navy planes thundered across the sky to signal the start of the march.

Comments on Speech

WASHINGTON — President Truman's proposal for a new program of foreign economic development stirred up widely divergent comments by members of Congress. Typical of its critics was Senator Harry Byrd, Virginia Democrat. He said the plan would not be wise or practical. Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney (D. Wyo.) described the speech as a "proclamation of economic freedom." Sen. Homer Capehart (R. Ind.) commented that the proposal sounded like a substitute for the Marshall Plan.

Jewish-Arab Peace

HAIFA—A reliable Jewish source said that representatives of Israel and Lebanon have initiated a peace agreement. The actual signing is said to have been held up until the peace talks on the Island of Rhodes are concluded.

European Union Dispute

PARIS—Efforts to draft a plan for European union have failed. Representatives of France, Britain, Belgium, Holland, and Luxembourg said there is disagreement over the proposed framework and the extent of the union's authority.

Ceiga, Heckert To Give Recital

Jacqueline Heckert, soprano, and Prof. George E. Ceiga, chapel organist, will present a joint recital sponsored by the music department in Schwab Auditorium at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Miss Heckert will be accompanied by Gay Brunner, pianist. Professor Ceiga will open the program with Titelouze's "Ave Maria Stella," followed by "Doric Toccata," by Bach.

Miss Heckert will sing "Allerseelen" and "Zweignung," both by Strauss, and "Il est Doux," by Massenet.

The organist will continue with the Adagio and Scherzo movements from Guilman's Sonata No. 5 in C minor.

Miss Heckert's concluding selections will be "The Island," and "In the Silence of the Night," by Rachmaninoff, and "The Star," by Rogers.

Professor Ceiga will perform as his final selections "Campanile" and "Toccata" from Mulet's "Thou Art the Rock," from "Esquisses Byzantines."

Last Issue

Today's issue of the Daily Collegian will be the last one of the semester. The first issue for next semester will be a special registration and orientation issue on February 4.

'Miss American Coed' Contest Opens

Formal Inauguration to Mark Opening of Home Ec School

To mark the establishment of the School of Home Economics at the College, a formal inauguration program will be held February 8, 9, and 10.

Dr. Lee Vincent, dean of the College of Home Economics at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., will be the principal speaker at the convocation February 8. She will speak on "The Contribution of Home Economics in the Education of Today's Citizens."

Milholland Gives Charge
Also at the opening convocation, James Milholland, acting president of the College, will present the charge to the School of Home Economics. The response will be made by Dr. Grace M. Henderson, dean of the new school, and two students, Cynthia Doan, of State College, and David Browne, of South Williamsport. Miss Doan is a home economics student while Browne is enrolled in hotel administration, one of the curricula of the School.

Past Heads Participate
Two former directors of home economics at the College will participate in the program. They are Edith P. Chace, of State College, now director emerita of home economics, who headed the department from 1918 until her retirement in 1937, and Dr. Laura W. Drummond, professor of home economics education, Teachers College, Columbia University, who was director of home economics here from 1938 to 1945.

Caps and Gowns

Caps and gowns will be distributed to seniors from the Athletic Store beginning January 26, and continuing until January 31. Cap and gown receipts must be presented. The caps and gowns are to be returned immediately after graduation at which time $2.50 refunds will be made, announced Richard Hill, caps and gowns committee chairman.

Chem-Phys War Booklet Review

A 68-page booklet reviewing the activities of the School of Chemistry and Physics and its aid to war research and production in the field of the chemical and physical sciences during the past war has been published recently.

Entitled "The Penn State School of Chemistry and Physics in World War II," the booklet surveys the various chemical investigations and physical research performed at the College under the direction of the late Dean Frank C. Whitmore. It also summarizes the services performed by different members of the staff in scientific research, in active service with the Armed Forces, and in the exhaustive program of accelerated training.

The booklet was compiled by Dr. Floyd L. Carnahan, of the department of Chemical Engineering, from data and information furnished by many of the staff members who participated in the war-time activities.

Ag Council Elects

Officers for the coming year were elected at the Wednesday night meeting of the Agricultural Student Council. The new officers are Don Seipt, president, dairy husbandry; Heinz Heinemann, vice president, forestry; Harvey Brown, treasurer, poultry husbandry; Patricia Carlisle, secretary, horticulture.

Dr. Grace M. Henderson

Club Sets Date Of Talent Show

The Penn State Club will present its tenth annual All-College Talent Show in Schwab Auditorium, 8 p.m. February 11, according to Ernest Sladics, Talent Show Chairman.

"With Hank Glass as master of ceremonies, Jacqueline Heckert as guest star, and 13 variety acts ranging from impersonations to jazz combos and classical singing, this show will undoubtedly eclipse the highly entertaining performances of last year," said Sladics.

Students wishing to participate are urged to sign up at Student Union before the deadline, noon tomorrow. Aspirants will be notified whether auditions will be held on either February 5 or 6.

The three top acts, as judged by audience applause, will receive cash prizes. In addition, each act will be recorded as presented.

For the first time since the show's inception, seats will be reserved. Tickets for the better-than-two-hour show will be available at Student Union on February 7. The price will be 74 cents, tax included.

Loughry Receives Ag Scholarship

Robert J. Loughry, a senior in Agricultural Education, is the recipient of the William D. and Clara Calhoun Phillips Scholarship of $300 for the second consecutive time.

Loughry won the award when it was first started last year, and has taken it again for the second straight year. The scholarship is awarded to the student who has contributed most in the development of high standards of Christian living in the School of Agriculture at the College.

He received the award on the basis of his work as an officer of the Roger Williams Fellowship at the University Baptist Church.

Loughry was a member of the winning livestock judging team at the recent contests in Chicago. He has been active in Future Farmers of America in high school and college, and at present is practicing teaching in preparation for his degree.

6 Receive Appointments

Six ROTC students of the campus unit have been selected by the Air Force for appointment in the Regular Air Force. They are Michael Fatula, Robert Lauer, Wallace Minich, Willard Tease, Curtis Truver and Richard Weil, all being graduated in January.

Registration . . .

Name Must Be On Official Roster

Rule number 15 in the Senate Regulations for undergraduate students states "no student shall be enrolled in a class until the instructor has received the student's name on the official class roster furnished by the head of the department in which the subject is taught."

Students who have completed first phase registration and desire to make any changes in their schedule, must receive a signed change of schedule form from their advisors and present this to the Board of Control any time during February 3, 4, or 5.

Baptist Leader To Address Senior Class

Mid-year Baccalaureate services will be held in Schwab Auditorium at the regular chapel hour, 11 a.m. Sunday, when Dr. Paul L. Thompson, president of Kalamazoo College, Kalamazoo, Mich., will address the graduating seniors.

One of the leading educational and religious leaders in the Baptist church, Dr. Thompson is a frequent contributor to numerous religious magazines.

Earns Degrees
The speaker procured his A.B. degree from Emanuel Missionary College at Berrien Springs, Mich., and did graduate work at the University of Nebraska, the University of Colorado, the University of Nebraska and Colgate Rochester Divinity School. From the latter he received a B.D. degree in 1932. In 1935 Franklin College in Indiana conferred upon him the LL.D. degree.

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Prof. Willa Taylor, will present appropriate music for the service. No academic dress is required.

James T. Smith, acting chaplain, announced that the first Chapel program of the new semester will be held February 6.

Chastaine Announces Ways To Obtain Commissions

Colonel Ben-Hur Chastaine, commandant of the campus ROTC, announces that Reserve Army commissions and extended active duty tours are available to students under three plans.

Veterans of any of the Armed Forces, between the ages of 19 and 32 who have completed two years of college, can apply for immediate commissions as second lieutenants in the Officers' Reserve Corps. Successful applicants are given a 12-week training course and a two-year tour of active duty with the Army, an dthe opportunity to compete for a Regular Army commission.

Collegian Reveals Paleface Mystery

What does the paleface wear?

Curiosity prompted by ads appearing in the Daily Collegian and tags worn by students around the campus announcing that "The Paleface Wears 'Um'" was dispelled today by the announcement from Marlin Weaver, Collegian co-promotion manager, that the "Um" the paleface wears is a special type of sportshirt.

The shirt is worn by comedian Bob Hope in his new western farce, "The Paleface," in which Hope stars with bosomy Jane Russell.

Purpose of the advertising campaign was to publicize the shirt, described as a cross between a double-breasted sack coat and a "loud" sport shirt, which is now on sale at one of the local shops.

Winning Coed To Reign Over Spring Week

Spring Queen Titlist
Entries Due by Feb. 11

Entries for Spring Queen, College nominee for the title of Miss American Coed, must be turned in to Student Union by 5 p.m. February 11.

The coed selected as the most beautiful of the College women will be known as Spring Queen rather than Miss Penn State, her title in the past.

Under this title she will reign over Spring Week and will be the guest of honor at the IFC-Panhel-Ball, as part of the tentative plans for the All-College Spring Week March 31-April 2.

Entries

Photographs of entries to the contest may be submitted by any collegiate group and should be at least three by five inches in size. Entrants must be regular undergraduate students in good standing at the College.

The winner of the contest will be announced in the 40th anniversary issue of Froth, March 29, and her photograph will be published in this issue of Froth.

Judging

Judging of the contest will be done by prominent members of the administration, as well as such prominent national figures as the Spring Week Committee and Froth may select. The winner of the contest will partake of any national publicity as a result of the Week.

Photographs of the winners of former Miss Penn State contests, Joyce Parker, '47, and Joyce Hodgins, '48, were published in national magazines, the former in Life, and the latter in Varsity.

Miss Hodgins also appeared on Sammy Kaye's radio program this summer.

530 Veterans Graduating

Five hundred and thirty war veterans, including five women, are among the 800 students who will receive degrees at the College commencement exercises January 31.