

Editorials and columns appearing in The Daily Collegian represent the opinions of the writer. They make no claim to reflect student or University consensus. Unsigned editorials are written by the editor.

Still Growing

Penn State's growth is still continuing, as the official inauguration of its eighth undergraduate school, Home Economics, testifies.

That the establishment of the new school was far from unwarranted is shown by the diversity of its educational offerings, and the breadth of its fields of study.

This wide range of interest is revealed by the imposing list of the School's departments, which includes child development and family relationships, clothing and textiles.

Foods and nutrition, home economics education, home management, housing and art; and hotel and institutional administration.

Additionally, there are the divisions of home management, family economics, housing and home equipment; and home art in the department of home management, housing and art, as well as the divisions of commercial consumer services and home community relationships.

The Board of Trustees is to be commended for authorizing this progressive move, and congratulations are in order for Dean Grace Henderson and the administrative officials who organized the new school.

But it is to be fervently hoped that we don't stop here, that the flood of progress be permitted to continue, reaching out into ever-widening realms of academic interest.

Even now a need exists for at least two more new schools. Courses in the arts, for instance, are scattered through many departments in several schools. In addition to the arts curricula in Liberal Arts, architecture and art history come under the School of Engineering.

The combination of all such courses into a School of Fine Arts would be another forward move. Still another essential addition would be a School of Business.

The Daily Collegian

Successor to THE FREE LANCE, est. 1887

Published Tuesday through Saturday mornings inclusive during the college year by the staff of The Daily Collegian of The Pennsylvania State College. Entered as second class matter July 5, 1934, at the State College, Pa., Post Office under the Act of March 3, 1879. Subscriptions — $2 a semester, $4 the school year.

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Madison Ave., New York, N.Y. Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco.

Editor Law Stone Business Manager Vance C. Klepper

Managing Ed., Arnold Geston; News Ed., Malcolm White; Sports Ed., Tom Morgan; Feature Ed., Loretta Neville; Society Ed., Frances Keener; Asst. Soc. Ed., Claire Lee; Edit. Dir., John Bonnell; Betty Gibbons; Promotion Co-Mgr., Dick Brown; Asst. News Ed., Dot Hunsberger; Senior Board, Rosemary Squillante.

STAFF THIS ISSUE

Managing Editor Charlotte Seidman
Copy Editor Jean L. Israel
News Editor Pauli Moss
Assistant Ray Koehler, Kermit Fink, Dorothy Laine
Advertising Manager Marlin A. Weaver

The Safety Valve

Valued — Needed

TO THE EDITOR: The selection of a senior class gift is something to which every senior should give a great deal of thought. The gift should be something of value which is needed on the campus and which is not readily obtainable with the funds that are currently available.

It was with a great deal of alarm that I read in a recent Daily Collegian, "... the biggest part of the fund should go into a single gift so that it would be known as the gift of the class of '49." It makes me shudder to think that the class of '49 might be egotistical enough to choose a gift that would merely render lip service to our school.

Would it not be far better to contribute our seven thousand odd dollars to a fund for a student press, for example, and sacrifice our "class of '49 publicity" for a weapon which can carve out a better school and a better nation?

—Charles S. Phelan, '49.

As Collegian news editor, Mr. White's interest in the student press should be obvious.

The intent of his remark was that the fund would be more useful in one place, whether or not the class of '49 received exclusive credit, than dissipated among several causes.

Collegian Gazette

Wednesday, February 9

PENN STATE Chess Club, 3 Sparks, 7 p.m.
DELTA Sigma Pi, Beta Theta Phi House, 7:30 p.m.
MORTAR BOARD, Dean of Women's office, 8:30 p.m.

College Placement

Combustion Engineering Co., February 11, eighth semester in ME.

Bethlehem Steel Co., March 14 and 15, eighth semester in ME, EE, IE, CE, ChE, MEng, Met, Cer. Report to 204 Old Main to fill out preliminary application form.

Archer-Daniels-Midland Co., February 21, eighth semester in ChE and Chem for research and sales service.

General Motors Corp., February 21 and 22, eighth semester candidates for B.S. Degrees in ChE, ME, EE, IE, Met, CF. M.S. candidates in Phys, ME, EE, IE, ChE. Ph.D. candidates in Phys. Men with at least a 2.0 average completing junior year in June 1949, men who graduate in June, but plan to go on with graduate work, men who are now doing graduate work and who are candidates for M.S. degrees in 1950, for Summer Employment ME, EE, ChE, Met.

At the Movies

CATHAUM—Don Juan.
STATE—Hills of Home.
NITANY—Son of Monte Cristo.

"Any Lab?"

Traffic Code

Continued from page one
is now accommodating two-way traffic.

Captain Mark of the campus patrol advises persons driving to athletic events at Rec Hall, who want to leave suddenly, not to park in front of Rec Hall because cars are parked bumper-to-bumper there.

Lacrosse Meeting

Coach Nick Thiel has announced that a lacrosse meeting for all members of the team and prospective players will be held in 221 Rec Hall at 4:30 p.m.

Coach Thiel reminded interested sophomores that experience is not required.

Home Ec ---

Continued from page one
cipals and home economics educators at 3 p.m. in 114. At 4 p.m. Edith Chace will speak on "The Development of Home Economics at the Pennsylvania State College."

At 7 p.m. a fashion show will be held in 114. The garments used have been made in clothing classes and will be modeled by the students themselves. The Home Management Houses will be open to visitors from 10 to 12 a.m., and 2 to 4 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday and 7 to 8 p.m. Wednesday. Simmons Hall will be open to visitors from 3 to 4 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

The program will conclude with movies in 118 and 14 at 9 p.m.

PENN STATE BIBLE FELLOWSHIP Chapter of INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

Announces its Spring Calendar

- February 8-11: Campus Conference, Donald Fullerton
- February 18: Miss Barbara Dixon
- February 25: Missionary Theme, Bishop Elam Stauffer
- March 4: "Christ, Our Prophet," Paul Kurtz
- March 11: "Christ, Our Priest," The Rev. George McNeely
- March 18: "The Old Testament Shadows of Christ's Sufferings," Jack Miller
- March 25: "Christ, Our King," Dr. Robert R. Fritsch
- April 1: "Why the Cross?" The Rev. Ralph H. Stoll
- April 8: "Why the Resurrection?" Robert C. Smoot, Jr.
- April 15: Easter Vacation
- April 22: To be announced
- April 29: "Christ is Coming Again," Dr. William Mierop
- May 6, 7, 8: Spring Conference: Titan Metal's Camp Hate-to-Leave-It, Lamar, Pa., Joseph T. Bayly
- May 13: "Cross-Eyed Christianity," The Rev. Lester J. Soerheide
- May 21: Banquet

Meetings Held in 405 Old Main at 7:30 P.M.

All Students Welcome

FOR BEST RESULTS USE CLASSIFIEDS

We Will Deliver on Valentine's Day

Every Box Filled With Our Own Candy

