

BOOKS FOR LINGNAN, student-contributed texts for "Penn State in China," are inspected by Richard E. Pride, '40, and Chinese assistants in the Lingnan library. Last Spring's campaign to collect and ship the texts was handled by representatives of PSCA and the Daily Collegian.

Late AP News, Courtesy WMAJ

Polish Priests May Share Fate Of Mindszenty

WASHINGTON—On the heels of the case of Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary, still a center of attention in Washington and London yesterday, comes a report that 34 Roman Catholic Priests have been seized in southern Poland. Sources in Warsaw indicate that the Priests were taken into custody for reading a letter charging Polish government officials with abolishing religious teaching in Polish schools.

Meanwhile, President Truman announced that a study is being made to determine whether or not the Mindszenty case violates Hungary's treaties.

Vandenberg to Retire

WASHINGTON—Senator Arthur Vandenberg disclosed yesterday that he thinks 25 years in the Senate is enough. That's why he says he'll leave public life completely at the end of his present term in 1952. Vandenberg, from Michigan, headed the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of the 80th Congress, and became well known as a spokesman in foreign affairs.

Transit Strike

PHILADELPHIA—Last minute negotiations in the attempted settlement of the Philadelphia transit dispute have failed, and workers on the city's trolley, bus, and subway lines were scheduled to go on strike shortly after yesterday's failure to settle wage increase demands.

More Taxes Urged

WASHINGTON — President Truman yesterday called for standby authority to control prices and wages, and reiterated his request for an additional $4 billion in taxes. At the same news conference he also stated that the United States would keep silent on the matter of atom bomb supplies on hand.

Collegiate Candidates

All students interested in working on the Daily Collegian editorial staff are urged to attend the first candidate meeting in 3 Carnegie Hall at 7:30 Tuesday night. The meeting will be brief. Students are requested to bring a copy of their roster with them.

It is not necessary that candidates be journalism majors.

Club '51 Sponsors Merry Mixer Party

Club '51 under the auspices of the PSCA will hold a "Merry Mixer" for all new students on campus in 401 Old Main at 8 o'clock tonight. This mixer is planned with the express purpose of having all sophomores get better acquainted with each other. There will be a Valentine theme to the mixer and ample recreation.

'Coming Out Party' Closes Busy Week For Home Ec'ers

In referring to a task completed, we often say, "It's all over but the shouting." After the completion of the Home Ec School's inauguration program yesterday, the slogan among the students might be termed a hypothetical "It's all over but the clean-up."

As a means of relaxation after a busy week a "Coming Out Party" planned by Omicron Nu and Phi Upsilon Omicron, Home Economics honoraries and the Hotel Administration's Greeters' Club will be held in the Maple Room of the Home Ec building from 7:30 to 10 p.m. tonight.

All members of the School of Home Economics are invited to attend, according to Donald Herd, general chairman. Dancing and games will be a part of the informal mixer's program.

Other committees and their members are program, John Snyder and Ann Zekauskas; publicity, Jean Bissel, Alice Nemara; and refreshments, John Willis.

Dorm Residents To Consolidate

Four Pollock Circle dormitories will be vacated in the near future, William H. Gross, resident director, said yesterday.

Pollock Circle Dormitory Council appointed a committee at last night's meeting to find out which dorms will be vacated and the best date for moving.

At present there are 560 men in the 14 dorms, Mr. Gross said. The moves would consolidate all the residents into 10 dorms.

Those who have to move will be given a choice of either the dorms that will remain open or approximately 80 vacancies in Nittany Dorms.

Players Open Spring Season With Comedy, 'Parlor Story'

"Parlor Story," modern high comedy by William McCleery, opens Player's second-semester dramatic season at Centre Stage next Friday and Saturday nights, and will continue for the next four or five weekends.

Tickets for the arena-style production will go on sale at Student Union, 1 p.m. Monday. Group reservations may be made in advance at the dramatics office, Schwab Auditorium.

Directed by Robert Kendall, instructor in dramatics, the play concerns a topic of local campus interest, the selection of a college president.

The cast includes faces both well-known and new to campus audiences. Walter Eckley official sound technician for several productions is cast as Prof. Charles Burnett.

In the role of Governor Sam Bright is Leonard Stein, who be-

The Daily Collegian

"FOR A BETTER PENN STATE"

VOL. 49—NO. 5

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 11, 1949

Caps and Gowns

Richard Hill, Chairman of Caps and Gown Committee and David Sims, chairman of Invitations and Announcements, announced that all students graduating in June who are doing their practice teaching this semester should sign up at Student Union before March 5, for their caps, gowns, invitations and announcements. The deposits for the cap and gown is $5 and for the invitations and announcements, $1.10 each.

Student Agency Starts Delivery On February 13

The Student News Agency is making final plans for its first delivery scheduled for February 13. Joe Reinheimer, manager of the agency, reminded town students that they can still secure 14-week Sunday newspaper subscriptions by calling 6711 extension 212 and placing their order.

First Agency

The news agency, run entirely by students, was created to provide student employment and is the first of a series of agencies set up to provide services to the College students. It is sponsored by All-College Cabinet.

Students who expect to leave State College for a weekend and wish to cancel their order for that particular Sunday, should call 6711, extension 212 one week before the delivery date.

For the present, orders are being taken for Sunday papers only, but plans are being made for the delivery of daily papers in the future.

PSC To Bare Campus Talent

Final preparations have been made and all is in readiness for the annual Talent Show of the Penn State Club in Schwab auditorium at 8 p.m. tonight.

Twelve variety acts will compete for the three cash prizes to be awarded by the Club to contest winners. Six judges have been chosen to screen contestants and audience applause will decide final winners. Jacqueline Heckert, winner of last year's show, will be featured as guest singer.

Master of ceremonies for the affair will be Henry Glass, while Frank Hege and his Modernaires, will furnish the music.

Tickets, priced at 74 cents, including tax, are available at Student Union until curtain time.

Glass

School Councils List Nominations

Engineering School To Elect Members

Nominations for representatives to the student council of the School of Engineering will open on Monday, February 14.

One sophomore and one junior from each of the six engineering departments will be elected to serve for the remainder of this semester, and for the 1949-50 school year.

The present council will continue in office until May, in conjunction with the new members, to provide continuity to the council.

Nominations may be turned in to any council member or department office by any engineering student. The deadline for nominations is 5 p.m. on Thursday. Nominees are required to have at least a 1.0 all-college average.

The election will be held February 25, according to Lawrence Scabera, Chairman.

All engineering students are urged to support a strong student council by showing interest in the nominations and participating in the elections.

Education Nominees To Fill in Cards

Nominations for new representatives to the student council of the School of Education will be accepted at the Student Union desk in Old Main from Monday until Thursday at 5 p.m.

Eleven nominees will be elected, six from the education curriculum, three from psychology, and two from industrial arts.

Qualifications needed by the nominees are enrollment in the School of Education as a student lower than the seventh semester, and a 1.2 all-college average.

Persons making the nominations must fill out a card containing the following information: name, address, semester, all-college average, curriculum, and activities.

The election will be held on Feb. 24 and 25 according to Robert Gabriel, acting president of the council. The place will be announced later.

Deadline Extended to Tuesday For Spring Week Candidates

The deadline for submitting entries in the contest to select the coed who will reign over Spring Week at the Spring Queen has been changed from today until 5 p.m. Tuesday, according to Jack Senior, program supervisor for Spring Week. Senior said the change was made in order to allow fraternity, sorority and dormitory groups a chance to meet and choose an entrant.

"The Spring Week Committee hopes that every organization on campus will sponsor a coed entry for Spring Week," said Senior. "We want to pick the coed who is without a doubt the most beautiful at Penn State to represent the College in the Miss American Coed contest."

Entrants must be regular undergraduate students in good standing at the College, and may be sponsored by any college group. All entries should be submitted to the Student Union desk and must be accompanied by a photograph no smaller than three by five inches.

Announcement of Winner

The winner of the contest will be announced in the 40th anniversary issue of Froth, March 29, and will be crowned Queen of Spring Week later in the week. As Miss Penn State, she will be eligible for the selection of Miss

American Coed in the nationwide contest sponsored by NYU Varieties magazine and Chesterfield cigarettes.

Other Winners
If she is as fortunate as her two predecessors, Joyce Parker, '47, and Joyce Hodgins, '48, she will see her picture in a national magazine such as Life or Variety, and she may appear on the Sammy Kaye program next summer.

A part of the Spring Week publicity program, the Queen's picture will appear in many Pennsylvania newspapers.

News Briefs

Blue Key

Newly initiated Blue Key members are reminded by William Shade, president, that their hats, shingles and keys are available at the Graduate Manager of Athletics Office in Old Main.

Delta Sigma Pi

Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi who still have the alumni newsletter mailing envelopes in their possession are requested by president, Edwin Mambeck to return them and the alumni lists to Donald Mills, Sigma Phi Alpha fraternity house.

Home Economics

There will be a mixer for the members of the Home Economics School and their guests on the ground floor of the Home Economics Building from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. today. Dancing and games will be the entertainment and refreshments will be served.

Degree Candidates

Candidates for advanced degrees in June 1949 should report promptly to the Recorder's Office, 109 Old Main, and fill out diploma cards.

Deutscher Verein

Bei der Vorstandswahl des deutschen Vereins die am 19. Januar stattfand, wurden die folgenden Mitglieder gewaehlt: Donald Reist, praesident; John Graves, Vizepraesident; Jo Reist, Schriftfuhrerin; und John Koss, Schatzmeister. Die naechste Zusammenkunft findet am Mittwoch, den 16. Februar, im Living Center, Home Ec Building, statt.

Bible Fellowship

The Penn State Bible Fellowship recently elected Charles Robinson president. Other officers are Craig Frantz, vice-president; Marie Card, secretary; and Charles Derr, treasurer.

Friese Publishes Text

A text book, titled, "Course Making in Industrial Education," by John F. Friese, professor of industrial arts education at the College, has been published by The Manual Arts Press, Peoria, Ill. The book consists of 20 chapters.

Clothing Drive

The WSGA clothing drive for European relief will continue this week. Boxes have been placed in the Women's dormitories.