

Five O'clock
Theater Today

The Daily Collegian

"FOR A BETTER PENN STATE"

Weather
Cloudy and Rain

VOLUME 49—NUMBER 7

STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 15, 1949

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Noted Sculptor to Give Illustrated Lecture

Alexander Archipenko, noted modern sculptor, will deliver an illustrated lecture in 110 EE, at 8 p.m., Wednesday. The lecture will be sponsored by the department of architecture, and the public is invited.

Archipenko, who is director of the Archipenko Art School, in New York, will lecture on the subject, "Creativeness as a cosmical phenomenon manifested through every living creature, and crystallized in forms of art and inventions."

Considered one of the most influential living sculptors, Archipenko became a revolutionary in the field of art because for him, "art expressed itself not in the fabrication of works, but in the search of new plastic forms."

New Forms

Many new forms of sculpture have been attributed to Archipenko. He has been mentioned as the first sculptor-expressionist, since expressionism was first mentioned in 1909, when he introduced it in Paris as an art form.

Other forms include Sculpto-Cubism, Sculpto-Painting, and the deepened concave style in modeling.

Born in Kiev, Russia, in 1887, Archipenko studied art and painting in the Liev Art School and at L'École des Beaux Arts in Paris. His first one-man shows were held in Hegen, Berlin, and in other German cities.

Opens School

Archipenko came to the United States in 1923 and became an American citizen in 1928. He taught at Washington State University and later established a school of creative fine arts in Chicago. While at Chicago, he was an associate instructor at the new Bauhaus School of Industrial Arts. He is now living and working in New York City.

Agency Sales Exceed 1500

Over 1500 newspapers were distributed in the first Student News Agency delivery Sunday morning, reported Joseph Reinheimer, manager of the Agency. At the same time Reinheimer said that beginning this week daily papers will be available at the TUB at regular prices.

"The circulation was better than we expected," he continued, "and anyone who still wishes to order Sunday newspapers can do so by calling 6711, extension 212, and placing an order."

Both townspeople and students can order door-to-door delivery by calling the agency and placing their order for the desired length of time.

In case a subscriber changes his address, he should notify the agency as soon as possible so that the change can be made on the subscription list.

Late AP News, Courtesy WMAJ

Freedom Train Bill

WASHINGTON—A bill to continue the travels of the Freedom Train for two more years has gone to the Senate after the House gave unanimous approval. Majority Leader John McCormack said almost 600 towns and cities have asked to be included in the train's new itinerary.

Atlantic Alliance

LONDON — In meetings with British Foreign Secretary Bevin and Danish and Swedish ambassadors, Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange said that he believes Norway will be a founding member of the North Atlantic Alliance. The meetings were for the purpose of discussing the implications of the proposed alliance.

House

The House of Representatives will not meet tonight as was previously announced.

Cabinet Holds Open Meeting

To show the College students how their governing body works, All-College Cabinet will hold an open meeting in 121 Sparks at 8 p.m. Thursday.

This meeting will contain all of the regular reports of the Cabinet committees plus old and new business, said William Lawless, All-College president.

"We want the students to see how the Cabinet works," continued Lawless, "and the best way to do it is to hold the meeting right before the student body."

Heading the Cabinet agenda is the report from the Spring Week committee. The week, centered around the Pan Hel-IFC Ball and the 40th anniversary issue of Froth, is listed as the major social activity of the Spring semester.

Library Adds New Collection

A personal library of Latin and Greek classics, European literatures and works on theology has been acquired by the College library, Ralph W. McComb, librarian, said yesterday.

The books, the personal collection of Robert Mills Beach, who was a resident of Bellefonte at the time of his death in 1930, include about 1800 volumes, portions of which may be put on exhibition later in the year.

For many years after 1912, Beach served as preceptor of German and French at the Bellefonte Academy and built up an extensive personal library. There are some classical works in the history of art, such as Venturi's "Storia dell arte italiana," and a small working collection of materials on Dante.

Froth Features Kelly, Parodies

Gene Kelly, former Penn State student now starring with MGM, is featured in the Parody issue of Froth, which goes on sale today. Also featured are parodies of six literary giants of the twentieth century.

Kelly is pictured as director of Froth's parody movie, "The Treasurer's Report," which stars such student talent as Lewis Stone, Collegian editor; Harry Brown, Tribunal head; and, as hero, George Chapman, IFC president.

The issue also features a cover by Ralph Meier, and the regular complement of jokes, cartoons and features.

Home Ec Program

A total of 1021 persons registered for the three-day program marking the inauguration of the School of Home Economics, Dean Grace M. Henderson reported last week.

The guests included many home economists, Pennsylvania homemakers, townspeople and faculty, and high school students interested in home economics.

Attention IFC, Deans Girls Serve Cocktails

Cocktails are still being served at Atherton Hall.

Several of the girls, feeling their dates deserved more than the Sweetheart Dance, treated their fellows to a cocktail party in Northwest Atherton Lounge before the dance Saturday.

The cocktail consisted of pineapple juice chilled with frozen apricot nectar. Ginger-ale provided the "kick".

Those present were William Clark, Jo Ann Esterly, Laura Belle Harter, Lois Ruth Hayford, Herbert Houston, John Kochalka, Ruth Kroeckel, Harriett May, John McCool, Marilyn Michael, Lolita Mountjoy, James Phillips, Albert Porto, and Gilbert Reynolds.

AIM Schedules Mixer at TUB

Four items, including plans for a mixer for independent men and women, will be on the agenda of the Association of Independent Men at the general meeting in 304 Sparks at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

The mixer is to be held at the TUB February 27. Other subjects on the agenda are:

1. Formulating of the manner of assessment to be used in supplementing the AIM treasury.
2. Determining the function of Spring Week projects.
3. Selection of an Independent Sweetheart for national contest competition.

Four persons were appointed to a project committee by AIM President William Prosser at a recent executive board meeting.

The four, James Lindeman, William Norcross, Roger Rowland, and Edmund Walacavage, will consider and formulate AIM projects for the remainder of the year and will submit them for approval to the organization.

Prosser also named Walter Miller as AIM athletic chairman and appointed James MacCallum as publicity chairman.

Cohen Heads Backstage Crews In Players' Parlor Story

Backstage crews for work on the production of "Parlor Story," the Penn State Players' farce which opens at Center Stage next Friday night, were chosen by the Players yesterday.

Charles Cohen heads the entire group as stage manager. Carl Gerhart is assistant house manager, Ruth Johnson, book holder, and Ray Philips, house manager.

The house crew consists of Bob Olson, Jack Staples, Vince Tomano, and Eleanor Williamson.

Property co-managers are Dorothy Kuryloski and Fred Leuschner with a crew of Marjorie Forbes, Madeline Gardner, Roger Madigan, Ruth Makibbin, and Marguerite Williams.

Donald Liebel is the light manager, and David Silverberg, assistant light manager with Donald Dymski, Gordon, Havens and Marjorie Silverberg making up the light crew.

Costumes

The costume manager is Polly Psrader, and assistant manager is Theresa Gorka with Shirley Betts, Nancy Bricker, Shirley Brown, Daniel Bryant, William Cohen, and Eva Davies making up the crew.

Rita Lang is the make-up manager, Marilyn Brooks, assistant manager, and the make up crew consists of Corrine Engelsberg, and Shirley Rhodes.

George Miller is manager for the production and Sybel Schalit, advertising manager. The ad crew is headed by Louis Gilbert, with Rita Gould, Ruth Gross, Barbara Keller, Anita Klein, Rita Lang, Dotty Mayer, Gladys Mummau, Jane Reeser, Jacqueline Weaser, and Joy Polikoff as assistants.

Since the Center Stage productions have long runs it is necessary to supplement the various performances with different crews.

Accordionist Captures Talent Show's 1st Prize

John Hrivnak, accordionist, captured the fancy of the judges and the audience with his renditions of "Dark Eyes" and "Lady of Spain" to take first prize at the Penn State Club Talent Show Friday night.

Second prize went to Charles "Chloe" Sachse for his antics in coordination with Spike Jones records. "The Lee Brothers," Harry Kondourajian and Sidney Manes, captured third place with their song and dance routine.

China Lecture Slated Tonight

Fred F. Lininger, vice-dean of the School of Agriculture who visited China last year, will direct a discussion following the talk on "China and the United States" by the Hon. Stanley K. Hornbeck at the Community Forum lecture in Schwab auditorium at 8 p.m. today.

Mr. Lininger, who also is director of the Agricultural Experiment station, will serve as chairman of the meeting. He visited China from July to August last year.

Forum Chairman Hugh G. Pyle reiterated yesterday that reserved seat tickets for the lecture would be on sale at the Student Union desk in Old Main until the start of the lecture tonight.

Mr. Hornbeck had replaced Hanson Baldwin, military analyst of the New York Times, as the Forum speaker. He has recently been serving as professor of Chinese government at Harvard University, and has been a delegate to all the recent peace conferences.

Play
Five O'Clock Theatre
Presents
"THE PROFESSOR AND THE BURGLAR"
Today, 5 p.m., February 15
Little Theatre
Old Main
Free All Invited

China Lecture Slated Tonight

Other finalists chosen by the judges were Jack Huber and his jazz quartet, consisting of Huber, LaRue Gunnison, Walt Letkiewicz, and Rex Norton; and Phyllis Kistler, and operatic soprano.

Other contestants included the "Cake-Walking Babies," a bathrobe clad jazz band with Don Fuge, Jim Heanue, Jack LaClair, Chuck Ortwitz, George Pyle, and Gene Witmer providing the music.

Rea Carroll, soprano; Joel Fleming, an impersonator; Gerry Gilman, folk-ballad singer; Louis Goss, vocalist; Ted Mann and Larry Sloan, comedians; and Raymond Werts, a magician.

Hank Glass presided as master of ceremonies and Jacqueline Heckert, last year's winner, sang as guest star. Music was furnished by Frank Hege and the Modernaires to ease the audience over the intermission.

The judges were Louis H. Bell, Daniel DeMarino, William Lawless, Janet Lyons, Ernest Sladics, and Malcolm White, who chose five of the twelve contestants as finalists. The final choice was made by the applause of the audience.

Engineering Elections

Nominations for Engineering Student council opened yesterday and will close Thursday at 5 p.m. Nominations may be turned in to council representatives or to departmental offices.

ASME

Presentation of student papers and announcement of the coming field trip will be discussed at the student branch ASME meeting in 110 EE at 7 p.m. today.

Critique Candidates

All persons interested in working on the business or advertising staff of Critique magazine will meet in 1 Carnegie Hall at 7 p.m. tonight.

Froth

The Froth junior board will meet in the Froth office at 7:30 p.m. today.

Government Conference

A meeting of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government will be held in 3 Sparks at 8 p.m. today.

Civil Engineers

The student chapter of the ASCE, meeting in 107 Main Engineering at 7:30 p.m. today, will hear W. A. Warrick, of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, speak on "A Career in Highway Engineering."

Belles Lettres

Color Slides of literary scenes of England will be shown at a meeting of the Belles Lettres Club in Atherton Lounge at 7 p.m. today.

Parlor Story

Tickets for "Parlor Story," Players' arena production opening this weekend at Centre Stage, are available at Student Union. Price is $1.25, including refreshments and tax.

Engineering Club

The Engineering Student council will meet tonight at 6:45 p.m. in 106 Main Engineering Building.