

Simmons Women Present Musicales, Classical Records

Simmons Hall women will present "Classical Musicale," a music program featuring long playing records, in Simmons Lounge, 8 p.m. today.

All students are invited to attend the program which will open with Handel's "Alcina Suite" and will be followed by Beethoven's "Fourth Piano Concerto" and Schubert's "Great C Major Symphony."

If sufficient interest is shown, the idea will be continued.

Coeds Compete In Telegraphics

Coeds will compete in the first meet of National Telegraphic Swimming in White Hall pool at 7:45 p.m. today.

The nature of the meet requires that girls swim against time in order that scores may be sent to Skidmore College, host school for this year's competition. A second meet to allow for the betterment of ties will be held Friday, February 25.

Approximately 50 schools enter Telegraphics each year, and each entry is placed in a region. They may qualify for first, second, third place, etc., in that competition as well as for a place nationally.

Teams from the College have done consistently well in placing regionally and nationally, last year's team placing first in the Eastern Region and fourth, nationally.

Team members who have completed the eight one-half hour daily swim periods necessary for entry are Lois Evans, Marilyn Guillet, Commie Keller, Lucy Mitinger, Reta Reed and Betty Jane Strom. Miss Ruth Leonard is coach of the team and is assisted by Miss Jacque Zivic.

Philotes To Honor Advisors at Tea

Philotes will entertain their advisor, Miss Marie Haidt, associate professor of physical education, and their prospective advisors, Dr. Jessie Bernard, associate professor of sociology, and Dr. Agnes McElwee, associate professor of English composition at a tea in the study lounge of Simmons on Saturday from two to four. Members of Philotes will serve refreshments.

An open meeting for all independent women will be held in the second floor lounge of Simmons at 7 p.m. Monday. This meeting is mainly for prospective members and all independent women are urged to attend.

Philotes was organized in 1937 to bring independent women into a closer relationship in their social life and activities. Discussions, speakers, and social functions are all included in plans for this semester.

Women's Honorary To Compile List Of Chaperones

A list of available chaperones for group dances and social events is being compiled in the Dean of Women's office.

This project was undertaken at the request of the Dean of Women who found that many organizations had difficulty in securing chaperones for dances and social affairs.

At its weekly meeting Mortar Board elected new officers to fill vacancies left by graduating seniors. Lois Resler was elected treasurer; Marjorie Gorham, historian; and Nancy Ault, Frances Keeney and Patricia Kinkead were chosen to write an article for the Mortar Board Quarterly, national publication.

Easton Man Wins Sorority Contest

David Bergstein of Easton won the portable radio given by Alpha Epsilon Phi in their contest sponsored January 25 for the sorority's local project, the Penn State Nursery school.

Of the $150 the sorority has raised for the project, $100 will be given to the school and the rest will go to the GI Nursery school.

Alpha Delta Sigma

Donald Baker was recently elected secretary and Frank Rose, treasurer, of Alpha Delta Sigma, men's national advertising honorary.
