

Patman Raps Voting Change

WASHINGTON—A congressman warned yesterday that the Ku Klux Klan or the communists might elect a U.S. president if a proposed change is made in the election system. Representative Wright Patman of Texas referred to a proposed constitutional amendment that would replace the electoral college with an automatic division of state electoral votes on the basis of popular balloting. Thus, a mere electoral plurality would be sufficient to elect a president. Patman declared the danger is that numerous minority parties might spring up, dividing the vote.

Military Pay

WASHINGTON—A discussion involving the new pay-raise plan for the military developed yesterday in the House Armed Service Subcommittee.

A civilian committee recommended a boost of nearly fifty per cent for one-star generals and admirals, and three per cent for the lower grade enlisted men.

Independents Sponsor Mixer

John Hrivnak, first place winner of the recent All-College Talent Show, will be the feature attraction at the "February Thaw," a mixer sponsored by all campus independent men and women at the TUB at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Along with the tricky accordionist, Hank Glass will also appear on the program which will include such entertainers as Charles Sachse, the Spike Jones impersonator who captured second place in the talent show.

Music for the mixer will be furnished by Bill Rogers' Collegians, a nine piece orchestra. All new students at the College are invited to attend. There is no admission charge.

Committee members for the affair are Rose Eifert, Ann Allan and Ruth Phillips for Leonides, William Manus for AIM and William Hohns for the Pollock Circle Council.

Nittany Dorm Council members on the committee are Martin Berkowitz, Jack Diamond, George Wolf and William Zakor.

Campus Frosh Vie For 'Mother' Title

Freshman women on campus are being considered individually, in the search for the most beautiful, talented, active and intelligent freshman woman in the nation, in connection with premiere celebrations of the forthcoming film "Mother Is a Freshman."

Since only 62 coeds are on campus, it will be possible to consider all of them, according to the Daily Collegian committee which is arranging the local beauty and talent contest.

Winner of the local competition will be joined by finalists from Penn State Centers at Altoona, DuBois, Erie, Harrisburg, Hazleton, Pottsville and Swarthmore, for final judging on March 10.

"Miss Penn State Freshman" will be crowned at the Cathaum theater premiere of the Loretta Young-Van Johnson comedy that night, will receive $100, and will participate in national judging for a vacation trip to Hollywood.

To insure against overlooking worthwhile prospects, names and qualifications of lovely and talented freshmen should be submitted to the Collegian before Sunday.

Religious Groups To Meet Today

Today's schedule of events for Religion-in-Life includes:

11 a.m.—TUB—"Common Elements of the Jewish and Christian Faiths" by Oswald Elbert and Rabbi Samuel Volkman.

4 p.m.—Woman's Building—"Brotherhood of Man—A Challenge to the Races" by George M. Houser and Ira De A. Reid.

Atherton Lounge—"Courtship and Marriage" by Rev. Bruce Gideon, or William M. Smith.

Tribunal Starts 'Getting Tough' With Violators

Tribunal secretary James Richards yesterday issued a warning that violators of campus regulations will be severely penalized for failure to cooperate with future summonses.

"We are starting a 'get tough' policy in regard to students who consistently ignore notices to appear before Tribunal," Richards said.

His statement came on the heels of Monday night's meeting in which three traffic violators were fined one dollar each and several others were let off with warnings.

One of the cases which prompted the Tribunal secretary to issue his warning to future violators was that of a student at last week's hearings who was brought before the judicial body for his second, third, fourth, and fifth offenses.

The guilty student was fined four dollars. Under present regulations, however, he could be fined up to a total of $18.

Richards added that students who flagrantly ignore a Tribunal summons may be taken before Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock.

State Party To Elect Chiefs

Preliminary nominations for officers to fill State Party clique posts will be made at the party's first meeting of the semester in 121 Sparks at 7 p.m. Sunday, according to James Bachman, acting all-college clique chairman.

At the meeting, the party's method of voting within the clique will be outlined. There will be one representative for each 15 students desiring representation, and that representative will be authorized to cast his vote upon presentation of a petition form signed by 15 students.

The forms will be distributed to those desiring to become representatives at the meeting and should be filled out before the following Sunday, when the final election of clique officers is scheduled to take place.

Offices to be filled include all-college clique chairman, vice-chairman, secretary, financial director, senior class chairman and junior class chairman.

AIM To Choose Representatives

Eight representatives to AIM posts will be chosen at special elections held in Sparks building tonight. The schedule of elections follows.

Room 16, 6:20 p.m., Ward 10; 6:40 p.m., Ward 7; 7 p.m., Ward 5; 7:20 p.m., Ward 18.

Room 18, 6:20 p.m., Ward 25; 6:40 p.m., Ward 15; 7 p.m., Ward 1; 7:20 p.m., Ward 9.

Ward 10 is bounded by East College avenue, Locust Lane, Garner as far as Fairmount, and Fairmount east to Pine; Ward 7 by West College, West Beaver, South Burrows, and South Frazier; Ward 5, by South Sparks, West Beaver, West College, and South Barnard; Ward 18, by Allen, Beaver, Miles, and Foster.

Ward 25, by East Foster, South Allen to Nittany avenue, Nittany southward, Frazier, and Locust Lane, excluding Cody Manor; Ward 15, by West Beaver, West Nittany, South Burrows, and South Atherton; Ward 1, by North Allen, East Park avenue, the borough line, and the Bellefonte-Central railroad; Ward 9, by East College avenue, East Beaver, South Pugh, and Miles.

Men living in these areas, who have not received postcards announcing the event, are urged to attend.

Country's Father Saves Mother Work

Haven't you heard? Well, once upon a time there was a man named George Washington. Didn't you send him a card?

Many of us probably were greeted with something to this effect as we stood in the State College Post Office yesterday with our laundry cases, staring at the closed parcel post windows.

We noticed that red "22" on the calendar but just didn't connect the Father of Our Country with soiled linen. Let's hope the profs whose classes we missed through the delay can see how it happened.

Ed Elections Begin Today

Election of representatives to the Education Student Council will be held tomorrow and Friday afternoons at the Student Union desk, Robert Gabriel, acting president, stated.

According to a revision of the Council's constitution, election time has been changed from May of each year to February. Three representatives from each of the School's divisions will be elected from the list of nominees.

Nominations made thus far include: Elementary Education—Patricia Botkin, Jill Bowney, Peggy Good, Nancy Mendenhall and Jane Swagler.

Secondary Education—William Brodsky, Dolores Hyden, Ruth Lehman, Sandra Marks, Frances Nichols and Robert Olson.

Psychology—Robert Gabriel, Corbin Kidder, Erwin Lesser and James McDougall.

Nominees should turn in a picture of themselves to Student Union by noon today, Gabriel added.

35 Receive Scholarships

Thirty-five students have been awarded scholarships, James Milholland, acting president of the College, has announced.

They include John W. White, scholarships of $100 each to Robert C. Gerhard, junior in geology and mineralogy; Rose Intorre, sophomore in home economics; and Theodore J. Williams, senior in chemical engineering.

'Sentimental Gentleman' Brings Orchestra to Rec Hall April 1

Tommy Dorsey

The "Sentimental Gentleman of Swing," Maestro Tommy Dorsey, has been signed to play for the annual IFC-Panhel Ball, scheduled for Rec Hall Friday, April 1, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., announced Jack Fast, dance co-chairman.

The dance will highlight the much publicized Spring Week. In releasing the ball committee's choice, Fast said: "The committee in selecting Dorsey hopes to bring to the campus a name band that plays both popular and classical music—the type that students like to hear and dance to."

16 Piece Outfit

Dorsey will bring to the Nittany Valley a 16 piece band plus Stuart Foster and the Four Clark Sisters known as the "Sentimentalists."

Denny Dennis, sensational British singing star, will also appear with maestro. Singing with Dorsey, Dennis has become one of the most popular new singing stars in the American entertainment world.

Not merely a well-known and leading maestro content to rest his laurels, Tommy Dorsey, the beloved T. D. of the jitterbugs, is also a highly respected musical artist who has made numerous classical recordings.

Topflight Trombonist

Tommy's multitudinous fans appreciate his mastery of the trombone, but few realize that Dorsey is even more a top-flight swingman with the siphon. Victor Records gave an indication of the maestro's mastery of his instrument by issuing a Red Seal record, heretofore reserved only for Toscanini, Heifetz, Kreisler and others of that ilk.

Heading the ball committee are co-chairmen Adelaide Finkelston and Jack Fast. Other members of the group are Delores Jelacic, Lillian Skraban, Thomas De Mar and Sam Tamburo.

Atomic Essay Contest Set

For the best undergraduate essay submitted on the topic, "The Moral Implications of the Atomic Age," the Philosophy Department will award a $25 prize, according to Dr. John M. Anderson, head of the department.

The essay should be from 2,000 to 5,000 words, and should discuss the relation of human value and scientific techniques, indicating the significance of this relation in contemporary life. It may suggest a solution to the problem raised.

Any undergraduate student regularly enrolled at the College may submit an essay. Judges will be the staff of the Philosophy Department, who will judge primarily the cogency of the reasoning, coherence of presentation and style of writing, rather than the particular view presented or the conclusions of the topic.

All essays must be submitted to Dr. Anderson, 217 Sparks, by 5 p.m. May 12.

Course Offered In Meal Planning

Persons interested in improving their skill in planning and preparing family meals are invited to register now for a non-credit course offered by the School of Home Economics at the College.

The group will meet weekly on Thursday from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. to prepare and serve a simple well-balanced, low-cost meal. Interested persons should register by calling Mrs. David Cowell, the instructor, at 3324.

Parking Order Stays in Books

State College's much-discussed ordinance section which bars 2 a.m. to 6 a.m. parking will remain in the books.

That was determined at a meeting of Council last night in which a motion to draw up an amendment confining the section to business and industrial zones lost by a slim 3-2 margin.

Collegian Candidates

All students interested in working on the editorial staff of the Daily Collegian are urged to attend the second candidate meeting in 8 Carnegie Hall at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Candidates that signed up for the newspaper last week are also to attend this meeting.

It is not necessary that candidates be journalism majors.
