

Student Councils

Liberal Arts

This is the fifth in a series of stories to be published by the Daily Collegian concerning the student councils of the various schools of the College.

The Liberal Arts Student Council was organized in 1941 to promote the School of Liberal Arts on campus through various techniques encouraging higher scholastic and cultural standards; to foster better student-faculty relations; to make recommendations on the curriculum; to conduct polls on pertinent questions by means of a carefully weighted sampling technique; to provide for all other matters pertaining to the welfare of the students in the School of Liberal Arts except those expressly assigned to the College student government association.

Prime requisites for membership include registration in the School of Liberal Arts and an all-college average of 1.5. Preliminary self-nominations of candidates are made during the second week of the fall semester of each year. From this preliminary list, the incumbent members of the council whose terms are about to expire select 60 names, which names constitute the final nomination list. Selections are made on the basis of scholastic average and demonstrated interest in the school and college as a whole.

During the third week of the fall semester, the Liberal Arts student body elects 25 members from the final nomination list of 60. The term of office is one year.

Meetings are held at the discretion of the president but usually average about one a week.

Among the projects under consideration for this year are a revision of the constitution to provide for more adequate membership and election procedures, a committee to complete a list of the Liberal Arts alumni which might furnish valuable alumni contacts in a particular area that a student may wish to settle, and a suggestion box outside of Dean Euwema's office. If these suggestions are at all practicable, they are referred to a council committee for further consideration and recommendation.

A committee has been appointed to promote plans for some kind of a student-faculty mixer later in the spring. In an effort to improve the quality of instruction in the LA School so that students will get the most out of their courses, a committee has been appointed to accept constructive suggestions from any student, to then discuss them with the council as a whole, and if deemed valid, to inform the professor concerned.

This council also has two representatives on the committee to sponsor another "Faculty Talent Show."

Officers of the council are Jean Moore, president; Elliot Krane, vice-president; Jane Sutherland, secretary-treasurer; Dr. R. Wallace Brewster, faculty advisor.

Lion, State Heads Stop Politics For Dinner

Politics makes strange dinner companions.

An exchange dinner proposal initiated by the Interfraternity Council may be responsible for bringing the two rival party chairmen, Howard McCoy of the State clique, and Morton Snitzer of the Lions, together over desert and demi-tasses.

Chi Phi, McCoy's fraternity, and Phi Sigma Delta, which Snitzer calls home, by the luck of the draw will exchange house members Tuesday night.

If the two party chiefs do meet, it will be their first formal get-together. Prior to Wednesday night's IFC meeting, the clique heads had never met.

Ag School Mixer Features Informal Entertainment Ideas

Informality will be stressed at the first Ag School student-faculty mixer in White Hall at 8 p.m. today. According to the Ag Hill Breeze, "mixing among the students and faculty will be furthered by seating many of the guests on the floor."

Group singing, classical and modern piano solos, selections by the Alpha Zeta quartet, and other group-participation activities are on the program. Dr. Kenneth Hood, agriculture economics extensionist, will be master of ceremonies.

The mixer is planned to become an annual Ag School social activity. More than 1000 are expected to be in attendance tonight.

Committees for the mixer include Dr. Anthony C. Richer and Edgar Loy, co-chairmen, arrangements; Prof. Elton B. Tait and Carrol Howes, co-chairmen, entertainment; Instructor Glenn O. Bressler, Miss Mable Satterthwaite, and Eugene Wolff, co-chairmen, refreshments; Paul Beck, Jean Brown, Louis Herr, Arthur Nesbitt, and Marguerite Rondish, general arrangements.

Mrs. Lyman E. Jackson, Mrs. Harold K. Wilson, Mrs. J. Martin

Fry, Mrs. Fred F. Lintner, Walton Engman, Galen Matter, David Muth, Vernon Smith, and Margaret Switzer, serving.

Hosts and hostesses will be Prof. and Mrs. Paul H. Margolf, Instructor and Mrs. Max Dawdy, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. King.

First GI Refunds

Book refund checks for veterans will be distributed by the Bursar as follows:

M-Z Tuesday, March 22

A-L Wednesday, March 23

Non college assessed fees and penalty charges will be deducted from the refund checks in accordance with a schedule available at the Bursar's Office.

Refunds will not be made at this time to those veterans whose period of eligibility expires prior to the half-way point in the semester and whose fees must be prorated between the veteran and the Veteran's Administration. Nor will refunds be made to those veterans whose receipts are not in order and who will be notified to this effect.

Payment to these two groups will be made as soon as possible.

Hillel Sponsors Purim Carnival; Proceeds Go to Overseas Relief

The Hillel Foundation will offer everyone a chance to have a good time for a good cause at its Purim Carnival at the Foundation, 8 to 12 p.m. tomorrow.

The carnival marks the Jewish holiday of Purim, a holiday of feasting and celebration. All proceeds from the carnival will go to the United Jewish Appeal for overseas relief.

Booths will be sponsored by various fraternities, sororities and independent groups. Some of the booths will be "Hoop-A," "Chuck-a-Luck," dart throwing and a white mice race. Special games and movies will liven the carnival, with a booth selling Hamaschen, a cake eaten especially on Purim.

Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the Purim Queen and King. Among candidates for Queen are Marjorie Alsborg, sponsored by Phi Sigma Sigma, and Shirley Gause, Alpha Epsilon Phi. Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity is sponsoring Thelma Farkas and Sigma Delta Tau. Joan Lappen. Those announced as candidates for King are Norman Appel, sponsored by Phi Sigma Delta, Mitch Epstein, Phi Lambda Phi, Steve Segal, Phi Epsilon Pi, and Byron Schader, Zeta Beta Tau.

Voting for the royalty will be by ballots which may be purchased in any number at the Carnival. The crowning will take place at 11:30 p.m. The carnival is open to the public.
