

Lyons Active in Government Since First Year on Campus

Ever since her freshman days, Janet Lyons has been actively interested in the Women's Student Government Association.

As president of the governing body which passes the rules affecting all women students on campus, Jan has previously served in WSGA as freshman senator, sophomore senator and vice-president.

On the whole, she says that the coeds have "cooperated well on projects and drives sponsored by WSGA. This cooperation is probably best seen through the House of Representatives where each living unit is represented. At the present time, the House is working hard on May Day plans.

Janet is especially interested in seeing the women turn out for the mass meeting March 22, when WRA-WSGA nominations will take place. "We expect a good turnout," she said, "for the coeds should realize the officers they elect now will represent them next year."

Among the many things that WSGA has accomplished this year are the passing of blanket permission for coeds, and 11 o'clock permissions for coeds over 25, working with committees on PSCA, Core, WSSF, Religion in Life Week, Pan-American Day and many other campus organizations such as those mentioned.

May Queen
At the present time, coeds to be selected as May Queen and her attendants are being nominated by living units. Mother's Day teas, the Junior-Senior Faculty Reception, the annual WSGA May Day and dance are also fast approaching reality under WSGA.

April 28 is the date set for the WSGA Convocation and during spring vacation the College plans to send representatives to the National Convention in New Mexico.

Jan calls Lancaster her "home town," and has one brother who is attending Franklin and Marshall College there.

Many Activities
Finding time for many activities besides those which she participates in as a result of WSGA, the dark-haired senior is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, Sorority, Mortar Board, All-College Cabinet, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, the Student Union and Student Welfare Committees, and is active in intramural sports.

Enrolled in the School of Home Economics, majoring in child development, Janet was director of Buchanan's Park in Lancaster last summer.
