

Dairy Show Awards Include Cash, Trophies, Merchandise

Nearly $100 in cash, several hundred dollars worth of merchandise, and a number of plaques, cups, and trophies await winners in the contests and divisions of the 24th Annual Dairy Exposition to be held at the College May 7. The show is sponsored by the Dairy Science Club and includes events in both Dairy Production and Dairy Manufacturing sections.

Drawing for cows to be fitted and showed will be held in 117 Dairy Building 7:30 p. m. today. A student dairy judging contest in the production section April 23 and a student dairy products judging contest in the manufacturing section a week preceding the show are scheduled.

The feature May 7 is the fitting and showing contest of purebred animals of the five dairy breeds from the College herds, special events in the production section, and dairy products exhibits by the manufacturing group.

Awards and prizes, donated by breed associations, dairymen and organizations allied with the dairy industry, will be presented at a banquet following the show.

Robert Bodine is show manager and Clyde Wilson assistant manager. Herman Auker is chairman of the group reviving the souvenir booklet for the show, a feature that had been dropped when the exposition became a war casualty. John Melchor is arranging the dairy cattle judging contest to be held April 23. Vernon Smith Jr. is chairman of the manufacturing division contest, and John Crummy is in charge of publicity.

Main winners in last year's show were Robert McKown, grand champion showman; Geraldine Hindenach, grand champion fitter; William Deisley, dairy manufacturing champion; and Norman Hooven, dairy cattle judging champion.

Replacements at close-attack are Stan Domash, a stickhandler from Swarthmore, and John Hughes, a senior.

Thiel bemoaned the freak schedule which carded the State stickwielders for five rough and rugged games within one and one-half weeks to open the season.

Also feared by Thiel are Loyola, Navy and Syracuse who will appear in the Lion lacrossers' only home engagements.

minute recommendation, and was not one of the four original proposals recommended by the senior gift committee.

Sum Too Large

A recommendation that caps and gowns be purchased for the use of graduating seniors was voted down after it was disclosed that the sum required was too large to be covered by the senior fund.

Blanket alumni association memberships for the entire class were rejected also, the criticism being that the use of the fund for such purpose would be equivalent to re-distributing the money back to each individual senior.

A motion from the floor that the money be used to establish a scholarship fund to be handled by the alumni association was not approved by the required majority.
