More Walks To Be Built

On recommendation of the "Keep-Off-the-Grass" committee, walks are being built diagonally to the TUB. The walks will follow a direct northerly course from the intersection of Pollock road and the walk which runs past the Temporary buildings.

The walk will eliminate at least two "Wear-Out-the-Walks" signs. More walks were recommended by the committee and will be built during the summer upon authorization by the College, said Walter W. Trainer, supervisor of landscape, construction, and maintenance.

Other landscaping projects include the completion of the grounds at Simmons and McElwain this spring and a revision of the entrance to Old Main into a horseshoe arrangement. Plans for the summer include an extension of the rear drive at Atherton around the east side to Shortlidge road.

Offer Awards To Ag Students

Agriculture students interested in the Danforth Fellowship or the KDKA scholarship should file application with the chairman of the school's committee on awards, Prof. Ralph E. Patterson of the Ag Eng department, by tomorrow.

The Fellowship provides for special study this summer, while the Pittsburgh radio station scholarship is for $100 and affords an opportunity to work at the station during the summer.

Dr. Harold K. Wilson, vice dean of agriculture resident instruction, urges all Ag students to study the rules governing distribution of more than $3000 in fellowships, scholarships, and awards available to them. Some of these prizes could not be awarded last semester because eligible students failed to apply.

Topping the list of awards to be made this semester is the Borden Award of $300. In addition, there are the All-College scholarships and awards announced each semester, two special awards for 2-year students in agriculture, and 29 others.

Two-Man Team Captures Cup In Debate Clash

A two-man debating team from the College copped the championship cup in the second annual Washington and Jefferson College debating tournament in Washington, Pa., Saturday.

Richard S. Schweiker and Peter M. Giesey defeated two West Virginia University debaters in the finals to capture the event. They debated affirmatively on the question: "Resolved, that the federal government should adopt a policy equalizing opportunities in tax supported schools by means of annual grants."

The team, which won five preliminary rounds to enter the finals, received a trophy which has been on display in the Corner Room this week.

College negative team for the tourney was represented by John Meszaros and Leo Burns. The teams were accompanied and coached by H. J. O'Brien, instructor in speech.

Teams from Allegheny, Westminster, Pitt, Duquesne, Carnegie Tech, Mt. Mercy, Ohio State and Bucknell also participated.

Beboppers Set For Concert

Occupying one of the top spots in a sparkling Spring Week schedule, the College's first all-bop concert will enliven Schwab Auditorium at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Musicians playing in the group will be Arnold Sprague and Robert Chacona, trumpet; Arnold Taylor and Donald Krebs, drums; Richard Anderson and Harold Claus, tenor sax; Russell Henry and James Riley, bass; Robert Miller, alto sax; and Dean Alspach, piano.

The bop concert follows in the wake of the Dixie vs. Bop program last spring, and the Tru-Blu concert given in the fall. Saturday's concert, according to directors Sprague and Taylor, represents a presentation of pure bop, the newest form of American jazz.

Easter Egg Hunt

An Easter egg hunt is being planned for the children of Windcrest by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity. The event will take place on the grounds surrounding Old Main on April 16. Eggs will be hidden on the grounds and prizes will be awarded to those children finding the greatest number of eggs.

The hunt is being supported by the Pollock Circle Council, men eating at the Nittany Dining Commons and other organizations.

Waring Honors College Singers

A warm welcome and royal salute were given the Penn State Glee Club and the College by Fred Waring yesterday when the Glee Club appeared as special guests on the morning broadcast.

The genial conductor questioned Dave Eldridge, manager of the Glee Club, at the beginning of the program as to the tour and history of the group. The club then joined the Pennsylvanians in singing "Hail to the Lion".

In saluting the College the Pennsylvanians played and sang Waring's original composition, "Hills of Old Penn State".

Prof. Frank Gullo, director of the Penn State Glee Club, then led the group through the "Russian Picnic", featuring Maynard Hill, tenor soloist. They were accompanied by Betty Reynolds at the piano.

Waring's salute to Penn State closed with the Pennsylvanians singing the "Nittany Lion Toast".

Kelly Declines Spring Week Invitation

Gene Kelly, M-G-M movie star and former student at the College, has declined an invitation to attend Spring Week.

Kelly was invited to attend the affair by Phi Kappa fraternity, of which he is a brother. In answer to the invitation, the film star wrote—

"Thanks for your very nice invitation. There's nothing I'd like better than to pay a visit to State again.

"Unfortunately, I'll be shooting on a picture at this time and it will be impossible for me to make it.

"Please say 'hello' for me to any and all of my old friends."

Larsen Loses Frosh Contest

Rosemary Larsen, Penn State's blonde hopeful in the Miss All-American College Freshman contest finished out of the money according to a telegram received yesterday by the Daily Collegian from the sponsors, Twentieth Century-Fox.

Awarded the week's vacation in Hollywood by the predominantly feminine panel of judges was Marilyn Overby, University of Florida. Runners-up were Mary Haskell, University of Texas; and Claire Molzen, Syracuse.

Miss Larsen, who is attending the Penn State Center at Erie, reached the finals after a contest on the campus in connection with the premiere of "Mother Is a Freshman."

Wet Fete?

All our feverish hammering and sawing may be slightly watered-down.

With plans completed and booths in the final stages, there is only one thing that may "dampen" the turnout for tonight's carnival.

You guessed it. The weatherman predicts that today will be cloudy with showers and cooler tonight.

Phi Deltas Annex IM Wrestling Title

By Bob Kotsbauer

Phi Delta Theta last night cornered the intramural wrestling team championship, snaring three individual titles on the Rec Hall mats.

Before approximately 1500 rabid but partisan Spring Week fans, Ted Aiken, 121-pounder, beat out a 9-5 decision over Sheldon Leisawitz, Phi Epsilon Pi; Bud Pierce, 165-pound stalwart, won by referee's decision over Kip Sieber, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; and Tom McDermott, heavyweight, took a forfeit from Chuck Beatty, Kappa Sigma.

The Phi Deltas piled up a total of 110 team points, far ahead of second place Phi Gamma Delta, who with Charley Rodgers winning out in the 128-pound class, piled up 68 points. Third was Delta Upsilon with 63 counters, while Sigma Nu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon split fourth place honors with 59 markers apiece. Beta Theta Pi was sixth with 52 points.

Thriller of the night's action, between Bud Pierce and Kip Sieber, kept fans on their feet through the third round as Sieber fought back after a discouraging disadvantage to knot the count at the final whistle. Riding through the first two stanzas with an effective leg ride, Pierce led going into the third, 6-3, but had to take the down position.

With 30 seconds to go, Sieber, urging out his final energy, scored two counters with a near fall over the Phi Delt, and added another marker with three seconds time advantage. Referee Jim Mohnney, however, gave the bout to Pierce for aggressiveness.

Aiken won the light-weight title by taking-down Leisawitz twice, scoring with two reverses and a near fall together with time, while the Phi Ep's loser scored with two reverses and an escape.

Fans got a laugh in the second period of this bout when Aiken, riding Leisawitz, argued with the bench instructions of Bud
