

Machines Dominate Politics In Nittany Dormitory Area

Much has been said and written of the odious machine politics of the Boss Tweed and Kelly eras, but few realize that such a unique situation exists in the Nittany Dorm area of the College—student government there also being of the machine type.

This organization is not of the power politics kind, however, the machines here containing candy, cokes and cigarettes.

The governmental setup of the Nittany Dorm Council rises from the basis that all profits derived from the various machines operated by this self-sufficient community go into the Nittany Council treasury.

In the area are four candy machines, one cigarette dispenser and a coke machine. Ed Adamitz is the owner of the candy and cigarette machines.

No Taxation

Residents of the Nittany area have student government without taxation—their treasury base on profits accruing solely from the machines. Out of the treasury are paid two-thirds the Lioness expenses (official Nittany and Pollock Circle news organ), stationary (for council activities) and president's expense account. In addition, in conjunction with other committees, all social events are based on treasury funds.

To date the Nittany council has not been forced to assess its members because the machines have earned enough income to cover running expenses.

VOTE LION FOR EXPERIENCE & ABILITY

The experienced, capable people who can do a good job in next year's student government. The Lion Party's candidates are equipped to deal with the serious problems of your student government. They don't owe allegiance to any fraternity or independent group for putting them into office. If elected, they will represent the whole student body, not just a few powerful clique leaders. Don't be snowed by politicians' promises, like the bicameral government which the State Party keeps promising to do something about. The State Party was for it last year; this year, after a year in office, they're still for it; but nothing has been done. And nothing will be done, positive or negative, unless you VOTE LION and elect people who will get results. Go to Old Main today and vote, and VOTE LION.
