

9 Badminton Players Move Into Flight Finals

Nine swingers battled into the finals in five of the eight fraternity flights in the College's intramural badminton program on Rec hall courts this week.

Soccer Hopefuls Stage Drills On Golf Course Practice Field

About 26 Lion soccer hopefuls are in the midst of Spring booting drills on the golf course practice field. The Jeffrey men, who went through last year's schedule with a 7-1-1 record, have their eyes focused on a perfect slate in this fall's soccer wars.

The veteran Scot will have 11 of last season's 'S' winners plus three letter winners from previous seasons back for service this fall.

Only four, goalie Ed Taggart, team captain Dean Witmer, and fullbacks Frank Taucher and Jim Kline were lost via graduation from a team that Jeffrey considered "the best this decade."

Two All-Americans, halfbacks Ralph Hosterman and Dick Hannah, will spearhead the booting Lions and there is a possibility that the other half of the Hosterman brother-act, Ken, may see action this fall. Ken is now trying his athletic skill on Coach Joe Bedenk's diamond nine. Fullback Red Emig, Forwards Clarence Buss and Harry Little are also vying for baseball berths, while Dick Hannah is one of the sparkplugs of Coach Nick Thiel's lacrosse men.

Tabbed as an All-America by Jeffrey last year before inequity rules prevented him from donning a Blue and White soccer uniform, Joe Lane is out for spring drills and the blonde dribbler has stood out in recent practice sessions.

Only two letter winners, Ted Lieb and Chuck Margolf, have been active in spring drills so far. But it is a group of last season's jayvee performers that have caught Jeffrey's eye.

Among them is Bud Cope, a fullback; Bill Yerkes, a husky halfback; and Henry Weimer, who performs either at the half or fullback spot.

Bucknell transfer-student Bob Markley might also fit into Jeffrey's future plans, as might Phil Sprungling, a native of Bermuda. Don Tedrow, outside right, has also looked impressive.

Nanticoke where he worked as a breaker boy and repaired mine cars in the coal mines.

Work in the mines was interrupted for Fred by the outbreak of World War II. He went to Panama after basic training and then was attached to Carlson's Raiders. Malaria caught up with Fred on Guadalcanal and he went to New Caledonia for rest and relaxation.

WON WAR BONDS

On New Caledonia, exhibition bouts were arranged. To regain his strength, Fred began training. He entered bouts and won many war bonds for out-pointing opponents.

However, Fred does not remember the boxing on New Caledonia as his most interesting incident in the Pacific. Fred visited the island Apia, British Samoa, and there saw the grave of Robert Louis Stevenson. Fred, an ardent reader of Stevenson, considers this visit the high spot of his Pacific tour. To reach the grave it was necessary to climb a terraced hill which takes two hours to ascend. But the deep downward slope cuts the return trip to ten minutes.

ADMIRATION FOR HOUCK

After returning home, Fred decided to go back to college. A deep admiration for Leo Houck brought him to Penn State, but when he began at State he was still weak from malaria. Determined to regain his strength, he worked out daily. For the first year he tired easily, but gradually his stamina returned.

Lion boxing coach Leo Houck says of Fred, "I've never had a more loyal boxer on my team." Houck points out that the Nanticoke veteran reported for daily drills even when he was not considered for a starting berth on the team. This persistence was rewarded as Smith moved to the varsity.

"If you're hurt, you can't lie down," seems to pay dividends for the Smith named Fred.

MAN FAINTS AT LOW PRICES

The high cost of living took its toll in reverse today. Joe Smudge is so used to paying high prices for everything that when he ran into a low price for a better product, he bit the dust!

Seems a friend lent him a wonderful razor blade - PAL Hollow Ground. Joe went to the store to get some more. "How much?" asked Joe. "Still only 10¢ for 4," said the clerk. That's when Smudge fainted. "What?" said Joe when he came to, "Why I pay twice that for blades that aren't half as good." P.S.: Don't be fooled by price. Try Pal Hollow Ground yourself. You still get 4 for 10¢, 10 for 25¢, 21 for 49¢, 44 for 98¢. For either Double or Single Edge razors.

Delta Upsilon Handball Duo Joins Quarter-Final Ranks

Delta Upsilon's John Frassenelli and John Mink fought their way into the quarter-finals of the intramural handball doubles tournament at Rec hall Monday night.

Drubbing Ivan Kolarik and Ernest Lieblein of Lambda Chi Alpha, 21-15, 21-13, the DU duo joined the select circle with Pi Kappa Alpha and Alpha Epsilon Pi, who blasted their way into the quarters last week.

and hesitated as Hoover went through his routine.

Hoover's antics set up the first Bison score. After faking to the fullback, he passed the ball off to Ostendarp, who raced and dodged his way 55 yards to cross the goal line untouched.

ORSINI

After twelve plays, the visitors relinquished the ball to Penn State, and the Lions swung into action. Tony Orsini raced around end for 25 yards aided by a timely block thrown by Fred Felbaum. But the forward progress ended there and when the Lions couldn't score on 12 plays, Bucknell took over.

Hoover almost broke away for a score and on the following play passed to End Walt Hall for a 35-yard scoring play.

When the Penn State squad again secured possession of the ball, it opened a passing attack. Tony Orsini threw a 15-yarder to Dick Koerber; Owen Dougherty threw to Orsini for 10, and then Orsini, on an end run, almost scored but the referee ruled that he stepped out of bounds on the 20-yard line.

Bucknell retaliated with its

Two independent doubles combinations reached the semi-finals in their tourney. Milt Silberman and Herb Rossman trounced Milt Simon and Marty Costa, 21-14, 21-10, and Al Tkac and Walt Cominsky doused Bob Hart and Ralph Palmiero, 21-16, 21-9.

Indie handball, however, is a double elimination tournament and a team must lose twice to be out of the race. Eugene Kashmar and Bill Miller, after losing last week, came back to sock Chet Kisiel and Rudy Ralf, 21-14, 21-8.

In other fraternity games, Art Silverman and Joe Fiore, Sigma Chi, defeated Paul Holder and Jim Raymond, Phi Kappa Psi, 21-19, 21-10; Franny Rogel and Ray Ulinski, Kappa Delta Rho, came back to sock Norm Restaine and Bob Ward, Theta Kappa Phi, 20-21, 21-14, 21-8; and Henry Mattern and Joe Colone, Sigma Nu, won by forfeit.

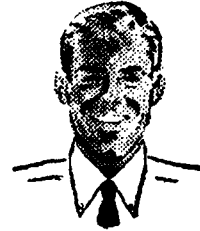

own passing attack, and a 60-yard pass play, Tom Egan to Fred Mur-names, chalked up TD number three for the Lewisburg team.

Following this third score, the Lions scored via a pass and line buck and the scrimmage ended shortly afterwards.
