

College Plans Moms' Events

May Day Ceremonies, Drama, Sports Set For Mother's Day Weekend

By Lew Stone

Are you wondering where to take Mom this weekend when she comes to the College campus? Wonder no longer, for the College has a full schedule of events planned for her from the minute she gets here until she boards the train for Hometown.

If she arrives today, she will want to see either "John Loves Mary" in Schwab at 8 p.m. or "This Side of Bedlam" at Center Stage at the same time. While you send the mater off to get a glimpse of dramatic productions here at the College, you and your date can take in the Coronation Ball in White Hall at 9 p.m.

Busy Day

But Saturday will really be the busy day!

Tomorrow morning, the day begins with the opening of the campus exhibits. The Combined Arts Exhibits, including work in all the arts will open at the Tub. "Prints of Modern European Artists" are shown in Simmons Hall; student architectural drawings on the third floor of Main Engineering; Combined Arts in the foyer of the College Library; scene design and photographs from productions in the Green Room, Schwab; student murals and sculpture done in art education in the temporary classroom building; and student work in home art in the Home Economics building.

Have you had time to catch your breath yet? After a short tour of these places, you can then take Mom to a tea in the girls dormitory from 2 to 3:30 tomorrow. And then pop comes into the picture, for he (with mom along, of course) gets the chance to tour the women's dormitories from 2 until 3:30 p.m. tomorrow.

May Day

At the traditional May Day festivities at Holmes Field at 4:30 p.m. Lillian Skraban will be crowned May Queen.

The School of Chemistry and Physics will hold an open house from 2 to 5:30 p.m. tomorrow, complete with guided tours.

And of course, for the sports-minded, the Eastern Intercollegiate in golf today and tomorrow; lacrosse with Syracuse at 2 p.m. tomorrow; tennis with Duquesne at the same time tomorrow; and JV lacrosse with Oberlin at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Players' Shows

If you miss either "John Loves Mary" or "This Side of Bedlam" tonight you can see them at the same time tomorrow night. Also in White Hall at 8 p.m., modern dance classes will cut capers at a recital.

Sunday chapel service in Schwab at 11 a.m. will have Dr. Howard Scharfe, of the Shadyside Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, as the speaker. The College Symphony will give a concert in Schwab at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Sorority Teas

Numerous individual functions are also planned for Mother's Day weekend, such as sorority teas and breakfasts.

Maybe the above will have given you a little idea of what is going on and where to take Mom.

If you still can't figure out where to take your parents this weekend, you can always tour the campus.

And if you're still at a loss of places to go this weekend, . . .

Well, you can't say we didn't try!

Named to Art Council

Viktor Lowenfeld, professor of art education at the College, was elected a Council member of the Eastern Arts Association at the recent convention in Boston, Mass. He also is a member of the Council of the National Committee on Art Education.

Pi Kappa Alpha Wins Bridge Tourney

Pi Kappa Alpha was announced winner of the 1949 Duplicate Bridge Tournament, sponsored by the Interfraternity Council, at the IFC-AFC banquet at the Nittany Lion Inn Wednesday night.

Individual team high scores were Pi Kappa Alpha East-West, with a total of 220 points, Sigma Pi North-South, with a total of 210 points.

The first-place winners had a grand total of 366 points; Sigma Pi was second with 362 points; Sigma Nu, third with 332 points; and Delta Tau Delta, fourth with 326 points.

Members of the winning team were Frank Mathias and Charles Cyphers, North-South team, and Raymond Williams and Alen Fisher, East-West team. Sigma Pi's high North-South team was George Stifflinger and Frank Fryburg.

Gross Urges Students Report Foreign Travels

Anticipating a record number of student-tourists to foreign countries this summer, Col. Henry M. Gross, director of Selective Service for Pennsylvania, recently issued a reminder that all Selective Service registrants must keep their local board informed of their whereabouts.

He also emphasized that this applies to registrants after they reach the age of 26, even though they can no longer be inducted without their consent.

Must Report Dates

In order to comply with the law, student-tourists departing from this country should report to the local board their date of departure, approximate itinerary, and date of expected return. This may be done by mail.

Then, within five days after return the registrant should again report to the local board giving his old address, or, in the event of change, the new address.

Must Register

If a student-tourist becomes 18 years of age during his tour, the law requires that he register at a convenient local board office within five days after the date of his return to this country.

While he did not believe that there was any widespread intent to violate the law, Colonel Gross declared that the halt in inductions had probably caused misunderstanding in the minds of registrants as to certain legal obligations.

Sunday Chapel Hears Scharfe

Dr. Howard C. Scharfe, pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh, will speak on "Our Going Out and Our Coming In" at the College Chapel service in Schwab Auditorium 11 a.m. Sunday.

As special recognition for Mother's Day at the College, the Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Willa Taylor, has prepared a selection from the first movement of Brahms' "Requiem."

Dr. Scharfe, B.A., B.D., D.D., has received honorary doctorates from Grove City College and Rutgers University. He is a native of Ottawa, Canada, and before his present pastorate in Pittsburgh was associated with the Westminster Church of Buffalo, N. Y., and with the First Presbyterian and Trinity Church of South Orange, N. J.

Dr. Scharfe is a member of the executive committee of the Council of Churches of Christ of Allegheny County, a member of the Board of the Pittsburgh Association for the Improvement of the Poor, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Presbytery of Pittsburgh, and a member of the Board of Pensions of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

Photo Contest Deadline Nears

Prizes totalling $30 are offered in the amateur photography contest being sponsored by the Penn State Alumni Association and closing May 16.

Some entries already have come in for the contest, the association has reported. First prize will be $15.

Outdoor and indoor collegiate life, campus and local scenes will be subject matter for the contest. All prints will become the property of the association and may be used in alumni publications with proper credit.

Judges for the contest will be Louis H. Bell, director of the department of public information; Robert S. Beese, Delmar P. Duvall and Edward Leos, photographic experts on the College staff. The contest will be open to all students and faculty members. Camera enthusiasts may obtain further information from Ross B. Lehman, 104 Old Main.

Ag School Field Day Program Includes Weed Control Talks

All phases of chemical weed control, from basic research on herbicides to recommended spray equipment, will be included in the program for the Second Annual Weed Control Field Day to be held June 14, at the School of Agriculture of the College.

Tours of experimental plots, demonstration of equipment, and talks on weed control will feature the field day, Dr. Stephen Raleigh, the chairman, announced.

Effects of chemical weedkillers with various field crops as well as vegetables will be shown, along with results obtained in tests of various concentrations of the many herbicides available at present. Methods of application for both pre-emergence of the plant, and control of weeds after the plant has appeared, will be emphasized along with precautions involved in using the new tool in the age-long battle against weeds.

Mechanical weedkilling equipment, such as flaming, sweeps and shovels on cultivators, all will have a place in the field day event. However, reports on experimental work with such crops as potatoes, corn, garden crops, small grains, and woody plants will highlight the day's attractions. All plots will be marked and research workers will be on hand at each area to explain to visitors just what chemicals are used, the concentration and method of application, permitting visitors to see results for themselves at the same time.

WSSF Reports $980.51 For Philippine Project

Individual and group contributions plus the proceeds from the Faculty Talent Show give the World Student Service Fund a grand total of $980.51 for its Philippine book project, according to Mark Elcan and Donald Copelin, co-chairmen. This does not include the proceeds from the Spring Carnival, estimated at $1000.

Highest collective group contributing was the fraternities with $237.37. Next highest single amount was netted from the Faculty Talent Show which added $198.80 to the relief fund. Nittany Dorms' $93.24 contribution was third on the list. Then came the faculty with $74.60 and sororities with $71.32.

50 Vacancies Remain Open In Mexico City

More than 50 vacancies are still available for students desiring to attend the six or ten weeks summer sessions at Mexico City College starting June 15.

Intensive courses are offered in Spanish, literature, fine arts, philosophy, economics, history, archaeology, sociology, and phases of Mexican life or culture.

Room and board in either hotels or private homes may be secured for approximately $45 a month. Transportation to Mexico City may be arranged by sharing rides and expenses in private autos or by Greyhound. Suggested steps in registering for the session are as follows:

Secure and fill out an application blank and return it to Dr. Philip C. Newman at 112 Sparks. Veterans should secure a certificate of admissions from Dr. Newman and present it to the VA for a certificate of eligibility for the summer.

Check all courses for credit transfer with R. E. Tschan, director of admissions, in Old Main.

Secure a tourist visa from any Mexican consul or before crossing the border into Mexico. The school is approved only for P. L. 346 and veterans must take a minimum of six or a maximum of 12 credit hours for the flat tuition fee of $100.

Additional information may be secured by contacting Dr. Newman at 112 Sparks from 9 to 11 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, or at his home by calling 6384.

Penn State Club Crowns Sweetheart

Mary Elizabeth Robbins, commerce and finance junior, was crowned "Sweetheart of Penn State Club" at the club's semi-formal dance at the Delta Sigma Phi house Saturday evening.

The "sweetheart" received a corsage and a blue-and-white seed pearl pin.

About 35 couples attended the dance and president Joe Hudak expressed his satisfaction that the affair was a success. Hudak and Joe Manus acted as co-chairmen.

Obituary

In Memoriam:

James O'Dwyer Dunaway
Inasmuch as Dunaway is more than somewhat dead, as dead as a ticket to the Spring Week Carnival, funeral services will be held privately. Burial will take place in the path of the steam shovel at 9:30 p.m. Monday.

Dunaway was taken ill when relieved of his duties as promotion manager of Froth. Taken to the infirmary, he was treated with aspirin to stop the bleeding, and a coke to wash it down. The medical verdict was that he should have rallied, but his spirit was broken; he had lost his reason for living. His last words were, "I want to be burned on a pyre of the great LAST CHANCE issue of Froth," the passing so often desired by Friends and relatives of the deceased, and anyone who happens to be in the neighborhood are invited to attend the burial. Keepers and waiters are encouraged to mourn nearly everybody.
