Syracuse Takes 12-7 Win As Nittanites Lose 4th

By Ray Koshler

By way of proving they aren't the dainty wafers their name might imply, Syracuse's Saltine Warriors lacrosse team smashed through the Penn State defense line for 12 goals to conquer the Lion stickmen 12-7 Saturday afternoon on New Beaver field.

This game made possible the continuation of two streaks.

For the Orange it nipped another step in the direction of National lacrosse championship play, as its stickmen came through with their sixth straight win this season. On the other hand, State's crosse bearers were inflicted their fourth consecutive loss.

MIDFIELD TRIO

Unhappily for Penn State, the Nittany Lions found the highly-regarded midfield combination of Syracuse deserving of all arguments for All-American honors. Albeit the headsup State defense managing to keep the out-of-state invaders from scoring their average 17 goals per game, it was purely a case of being outfought and outmaneuvered by the classy Orange team.

Although the score would indicate differently, the Lions looked better than in previous home games and it was no disgrace to go down before the top ranked team in the New York State area.

State actually outplayed its guests the first and third periods, but the Syracuse midfield combination of Bill Fuller, George Cody and Bill Archbold, plus some handy assistance from substitute Warren Hyde, turned the tide in the Orange favor the second and final periods.

Ed Belfield and Bob Louis each scored two goals for the Lions with Ed Finley and Captain Rog Nestor looking good on both offense and defense.

ARCHBOLD

Archbold, making an all out bid for All-American mention was red-hot for the Warriors as he fired four goals into the Nittany nets. Hyde, with three points and Cody, with two, followed him in the scoring column. Handling the ball in classy fashion in front of the State net, Fuller and Cody gave the small crowd an afternoon of thrills with their stickhandling and generalship.

Not to be outdone by the scorers, Orange goalie, Sonny Merritt, flashed a well nigh impregnable defense at the State attackers.

Both teams scoring in alternate sequence, the first period wound up a surprising 3-3 deadlock. Nestor and Belfield twice sandwiched in goals between markers by Hyde, Fuller and Mahaney.

Valentino, Colman Glamorize Lion Sportsmen

Penn State athletic teams, renowned for their prowess on the field of combat, may take on a different hue next year as glamour invades the Nittany Lion sports scene.

Lured by the magic names of Ronald Colman, and Rudolph Valentino, the female population at State sports contests can be expected to treble.

Although, as yet, none among the distaff side has been known to swoon over the gyrations of blond Rudy Valentino, gymnast par excellence, the addition of Colman, a halfback hopeful for Coach Bill Jeffery's soccer team, may be too much for femmes to endure.

According to Jeffery, Colman, a product of St. Louis, Mo., will come to Penn State with a reputation of bearing close watch. At present Colman is a freshman at Edinboro State Teachers College.

Of course the Democrats, ever ready to take hold of an advantage, have slipped their own "ringer" into the ring in the personage of one Harry Truman, freshman from Uniontown.

It's not known whether this Truman is an ambidextrous hurler or not.

with a shot from the right of the goal and Syracuse was off. Hyde, Archbold and Cody all hit before the period ended. Bud Thomas prevented a Lion shutout the second period with a beautiful twisting shot that found its mark beneath Goalie Merritt's stick.

Lion Batsmen Tie Navy, 6-6; Meet Villanova

Rain Cancels Lion Rally In 8th; Seek Win Today

Seeking its sixth straight win, Coach Joe Bedenk's Nittany baseballers play host to Villanova's nine today at 4 p. m., on the New Beaver Field diamond. The Lions are hoping for better luck with the weatherman, who has predicted showers for today. Two of the Lion's tilts have already been rained out, while Saturday's game with Navy was halted at the end of the seventh inning with the score tied at 6-6.

MILLER TO PITCH

Cy Miller, who hurled four two-thirds innings after relieving Al Tkac at Annapolis will toe the rubber for the Bedenkmen. Jack Kurty will do the catching.

Against Navy, the Lions jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first two innings, only to fall behind when Navy rallied with five runs in the third.

In the first inning, Hen Albright walked and went to second on Gene Solomon's sacrifice. Captain Hal Hackman walked and Stan Laganosky fanned. Dick Wertz singled, scoring Albright and sending Hackman to third. Hackman scored when Navy's Solomon fumbled the ball in left field.

Bill Tegtmeyer walked to start the second inning, and advanced to second on Clarence Buss' sacrifice. Al Tkac doubled, scoring Tegtmeyer and tallied himself when Albright rapped out a single.

RALLY

The Sailors came roaring back with a six hit barrage off Tkac in the next inning, which, accounted for five runs, before Miller was summoned from the bullpen to halt the rally. Navy increased its lead to 6-4 in the bottom of the fifth as the future admirals scored once on two hits.

The visiting Lions tied the ball game up in the seventh on three hits and Hackman's steal home. Three more hits, including Jack Kurty's third triple in two games, gave the Nittanites a three run bulge in the eighth, but the

Army, Cornell Victims In Extra-Day Playoff

By Frank Conte

It took three days to do it, but when the fairways were cleared and the last divots replaced, the Penn State golfers under the direction of Coach Bob Rutherford had won for the third consecutive season their sectional E.I.G.A. golf crown.

As a result of Saturday's action, the four teams in the Lions' section were in a two won and one lost deadlock which necessitated a play-off on Sunday.

Tommy Smith

'Little Tom' Smith Swings Big Club On Golf Course

by George Vadasz

"Those three putts I took on the third green were the turning point in my game on Sunday," commented par-busting Tom Smith while putting on the practice green yesterday in preparation for the forthcoming Eastern golf-playoffs next week.

"Pete Smith of Cornell took a par-three on the 10th and that gave both of us five points. After that I settled down and shot par golf except for number 13 and 17. I birdied those."

SCORES A 67

Although his 68 score is a present Penn State course record, last year playing with his brother, Jerry, Jim Noble and Don Hart, he posted a three under-par 67 in a practice round. (Par for 18 holes last year was 70, it is now 69.)

Instead of singing "Take Me Out to the Ball Park" it has always been "Take Me Out to the Golf Course". An easy task indeed, for as Tommy puts it, "we live only an eight-iron shot away from the golf course."

In a system of scoring in which the outright winner received one point toward team score for each hole he won and one-half for any man involved in a tie, the Nittany linksmen were nine points ahead of the second team with a total of 54½ points.

SMITH OUTSTANDING

Outstanding not only for the Rutherford men but also in the entire three day tournament was Jeannette's Tommy Smith, junior Penn State golfer who burned up the links with such scores as a 69 on Friday and low of one under par 69 on Sunday.

Smith was one of the four golfers, one from each of the teams, who was picked to feature the matches. Along with Rose of Army, Burrenress of Pitt and Pete

Sunday's Summary:

Smith, Penn State, 9 points; Smith, Cornell, 6½; Rose, Army, 5.
Boyle, Penn State, 7½ points; Peek, Cornell, 7½; Moran, Army, 6.

Total points: Penn State 54½; Cornell 46½; Army 43.

Smith of Cornell, Smith did not disappoint the gallery of more than 150 who were on hand for Sunday's play-off. Despite the excellent play exhibited on the part of many contestants, Smith was far and away the outstanding golfer in the tournament field.

STAGE SET

In Saturday morning competition, Cornell defeated Penn State who had previously taken Pitt, and Army downed Pitt for its second win having beaten Cornell on Friday. This set the stage for a crucial battle for the Lions in their afternoon engagement with Army. The Nittany golfers came through by besting the men from West Point.

Meanwhile Cornell was handing Pitt its third defeat, which brought about the three way tie. Cornell finally came out in the second position when they ended the eighteen holes on Sunday 45½ points while Army took third with 43.

Joe Durniak scored eleven points in the play-off to lead the Lion scoring parade. Joe Boyle, Lion captain, also played excel-

Nargorny Socks Crucial Homer

The count was three and two on the hitter with two down in the bottom half of the last inning and his mates trailing Delta Upsilon, 1-0, when Bill Nargorny proved to Alpha Tau Omega fans that the game "ain't never over 'til the last man is out."

Nargorny picked that critical three and two pitch to slash a home run into outer gardens for A. T. O. Friday night forcing the game into extra innings and eventual postponement. The contest was one of four second-round I. M. softball battles.

Delta Upsilon drew first blood in the one-one battle when they led off on Hal Catherman for an unearned tally in the fourth inning. A. T. O., was going nowhere with the offerings, of D. U., Bob Hicks.

But in his final appearance, Nargorny, reserve right-fielder for the A.T.O.'s, proved he had something more than a legendary character. named. Casey. The game-buster leveled off on Bob Hicks' pitch and sent it streaking into open country to tie up the game.

Darkness forced postponement of further action after the eighth inning and the two teams will meet to settle the issue at 6:30 p. m. today.

Meanwhile, Alpha Sigma Phi slammed out eight hits for a 4-2 victory over Phi Delta Theta; the Independent Penn Haven squad blasted a quartet of tallies in the first inning and another in the sixth for a 5-4 over Mary's Muggs' and Delta Tau Delta pounced on Alpha Zeta, 8-3.

Alpha Tau Omega and Delta

Upsilon steal the show with their renewed struggle on New Beaver field one at 6:30 p. m. tonight. In other games, Phi Gamma Delta meets Pi Lambda Phi, and Alpha Chi Rho crosses bats with Chi Phi at the same time on fields two and three. The red-hot American Society of Civil Engineers meets the Ramblers in the independent tourney semifinals on the golf course field also at 6:30 p. m.
