

Lacrosse Team To End Season This Weekend

Face Hobart, Colgate In Final Encounter

Penn State will bring its short lacrosse season to a close in a two game, week-end stand on foreign soil facing Hobart on Friday and finishing up against Colgate, Saturday.

Hobart, flashing an undefeated record over a tough seven-game route, conquered Cortland State Teachers, 9-4, Tuesday in its last outing.

Disregarding Penn State's four-game losing streak, Hobart Coach "Babe" Kraus views the Lion test as the stiffest the Purple will face this season.

The Statesmen oppose the Lion stickmen minus the services of Don Williamson, All-American defenseman, out the last three games with a bad back and Otto Berk, dependable mid-fielder, who was benched with a leg injury.

For the past two years Colgate's stickwielders have had tough sledding, winning only one out of seven last year and being far from impressive so far this spring.

Mark Galloway, in his first term as lacrosse mentor, has made numerous personnel shifts in an attempt to work out a strong starting line up. Outstanding among the Warrior athletes is Captain Austen B. Colgate, a two year standout, who will direct the team from his inside attack position.

IM Peg Ringers Begin Tournament

Intramural horseshoe tossers wasted little time moving into the action of their abbreviated schedule as 21 different teams won victories this week, either in matches or by forfeit. Following are the scores that space permits:

Don Arbuckle and Bob Parr, Beta Theta Pi, lost to Chet Christensen and Bob Morgan, Pi Kappa Phi, 21-6, 21-8, but the winners turned around and dropped their next match to Jim Yetter and Olin Simpson, Alpha Zeta, 21-9, 21-18.

Bill Phillips and Ed Root, Sigma Chi, won by forfeit. Howard Bland and Gil Goldstein, Beta Sigma Rho, defeated Phi Sigma Kappa's Al Chieppor and Charley Jones, 21-15, 13-21, 21-13; and Bob Wampler and Vane Lee Henry, Phi Gamma Delta, upset Ron Kane and Tom Robinson, Phi Kappa Psi.

Jack Hanby and Pen Hallowell, Alpha Gamma Rho, Art Lorber and Myron Sloan, Zeta Beta Tau, Bob Hartley and Bob Serials, Delta Chi, and Bill Glov and Irwin Kriecheff, Sigma Alpha, won by forfeit.

Lions and Spartans Clash Saturday In Season's Top Track Meet

Distance Runs Highlight Topnotch Cinder Program

By Joe Brou

Two titans of the collegiate track world will put their undefeated records on the line when Penn State and Michigan State clash Saturday on New Beaver Field.

The interest will not be centered on the meet itself. A good share of the spotlight will be on the individual battles which will take place in quite a few of the events.

Both teams are loaded with better than average talent and both have hung up impressive records this season.

The Spartans, under Coach Karl Schaldeman, gained tremendous prestige April 16 when they were tied by the University of Southern California, 61-61, in the Los Angeles Coliseum. It was the first dual meet the Trojans failed to win since 1945.

The Green and White also claims a victory over the strong Notre Dame cindermen, having taken the measure of the Irish by an 86 to 56 count and winning 9 of 15 events. The Spartans also dominated the Drake Relays April 29 and 30 by taking three firsts and placing in four other events.

NOT IDLE

But while Saturday's opponents have been performing the above deeds, the Lions from the Nittany Valley have not been taking things easy. The forces of Coach Chick Werner opened their season in impressive fashion by topping Navy and Penn at Annapolis, outscoring both rivals' combined point total.

The Lions followed with a fine showing in the Penn Relays, capturing three events and placing in two others. Last week Penn State swamped the Red Raiders of Colgate by an 86 1-3 - 39 2-3 score.

As for the individual competition, no small amount of attention will be focused on the distance races, where Penn State's Horace Ashenfelter will trade strides with four of the country's top distance men.

QUARTET

The Michigan State quartet of Captain Tom Irmen, Bill Mack, Jack Dianetti and Warren Druetzler have swept everything before them this year. They captured all three places in both the mile and the two mile runs at USC, won the four mile relay at the Drake relays and won the one-mile run at the Notre Dame meet, in addition to taking all three positions in the two mile race at the same meet.

All four of the distance men are capable of doing the mile under 4:19. Dianetti and Mack are expected to travel the distance in the mile with Irmen and Druetzler scheduled for the two-mile.

But the Green and White runners don't stand alone in making life miserable for the opposition. Penn State has also acquired the happy habit of sweeping the distance runs. Bob Freebairn, Paul Koch, Bob Auman, John St. Clair and John Bates have led the Lions to victory at different times during the season.

However, the man who is expected to furnish the main compe-dition to the invaders is the Penn State captain, Horace Ashenfelter. Ash has also chalked up an outstanding record this year. He won the two-mile invitation run at the Penn Relays, took the same event at the Annapolis meet and did an impressive job as anchor man on the winning four-mile relay team at the Penn Relays.

Coach Werner thinks Ashenfelter is capable of turning in a 4:12 mile under pressure; of the variety the Michigan State quarter is able to apply. Records will be in danger when the Lions and Spartans clash this week.

AGR Beats DU; Wins Soccer Title

By Harry Endres

Alpha Gamma Rho nosed out Delta Upsilon, 1-0, to cop the intramural soccer championship yesterday.

Bill Worthington booted the lone goal of the hard-fought contest past D. U. goalie Chuck Drazenovich late in the second period. Outstanding defensive play was turned in by A. G. R.'s Bill Yerkes as he halted one D. U. attack after another.

Delta Upsilon's Joe Lane led his team's attack, just missing a score when his kick halfway through the second stanza struck the right post of the A. G. R. goal. "Rusty" Lieb played a good game for the D. U.'s on both offense and defense.
