

Frosh Women, Green Ribbons Make Reappearance at College

Five hundred freshman women and 500 green ribbons will once again make their appearance at the College as the doors for freshmen enrollments and customs open next Fall.

In addition to these green bows and small name cards which the girls will be required to wear, WSGA has retained the rule of absolutely no association with men, the latter being defined as any conversation more than "hello".

Even freshmen hours are rigidly defined and during the first three weeks freshman women must be in their dormitories by 9:15 p. m., on week nights and by 9:30 p. m. on weekends.

Move-Up Day

However, regulations are not quite so strenuous as the semester advances. Following the three week no-dating period, freshman women may have three dates per weekend, although customs may not be removed until Move-Up Day, somewhat arbitrarily set by Judicial.

To avoid complete confusion and perhaps provide a few laughs and sighs of relief at having missed such torture, we print a portion of the regulations and customs.

Freshmen Regulations

1. It is the earnest desire of upper-class women to become better acquainted with freshman women and to have new women know members of their own classes well as those of the upper classes. Since it is best to get a good start with college work during the first three weeks of class, there will be absolutely no association with men. During the first three weeks freshman women must be in their dormitories by 9:15 on week nights and by 9:30 on weekends.

2. Following the three-week no-dating period, freshman women may have three dates per weekend.

a. One o'clock and one ten o'clock will be granted to be taken either Friday or Saturday night.

b. On week days, freshman may associate with men until 5:30 p. m.

c. There must be no dating for athletic games.

d. During the week freshman are required to be in their dormitories by 9:15 p. m.

3. Special permissions will be granted to freshmen for any big weekends there may be. There is a special ten o'clock permission once a month that may be used for out-of-town guests, movies, etc. This permission is not to be used for dating.

4. No member of the upper classes has the privilege to grant immunities to freshmen.

Freshman Women's Customs
1. Any student entering as a freshman in any of the four-year courses shall be required to participate in College customs.

2. The regulation hair ribbons for freshman women will be green and their measurements will be four inches in width and three-quarters of a yard in length. All freshman women are required to wear them beginning with the first day of classes until the date Judicial sets for their removal.

3. Regulation name cards which freshman women are requested to wear are three-by-five inches. The name of each girl must be printed on her card in heavy black letters one inch high.

4. All freshmen shall keep off the grass until Move-Up Day.

5. All freshman women who break customs shall appear before the Judicial Committee and be punished in accordance with the severity of their offenses.

Swim Club Elects Mitinger President

Lucy Mitinger was elected new president of the WRA Swimming Club at a meeting held last week.

Lois Evans was elected vice-president; Elizabeth Webber, secretary-treasurer; and Jane Levy, publicity chairman.

Activities of this year's club included the annual aquacade and telegraphics, in which the College team placed third in the Eastern Region.

A continuation of this program will be carried out next year with a tentative hope of a program of intramural swimming similar to those conducted in basketball, volleyball and softball.
