

Late AP News Courtesy WMAJ

Economy Wave Fails To Halt Appropriation

WASHINGTON—An economy wave in the Senate was blocked yesterday for the fourth time in a row when the chamber approved a bill to spend more than $750 million on flood control and waterways.

A similar bill in the House of Representatives calls for $158 million less than that figure, but a joint Senate-House conference probably will reach some kind of compromise.

Lilienthal Says Another

WASHINGTON—David Lilienthal, atomic energy commissioner, told the Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday that another research fellowship is held by a student without clearance for secret work. Isidor Edelman, a Boston medical student, will be called to testify Monday.

Lilienthal has been the target for some sharp questioning by the committee about a commission fellowship awarded to a Communist student, Hans Freisadt.

The secretary of the Communist Party's National Legislative Committee, Arnold Johnston, told a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee earlier that the Communists are opposed to being outlawed. He said the party will go underground if Congress passes restrictive legislation.

McCarthy Walks Out

WASHINGTON — Republican Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin walked out of a Senate investigation meeting yesterday when the committee refused the use of lie detectors on Army witnesses in the Malmedy massacre trials. He charged white-wash.

Chairman Raymond Baldwin, another Republican, replied that McCarthy apparently takes unsupported affidavits of Hitler storm troopers against the sworn testimony of American military men.

Mediator

WASHINGTON—The Federal Government put a mediator on the scene of the peace talks yesterday between the UAW and the Ford Motor Company.

A dispute over the starting time for negotiations on a new union contract threatens to end the talks.

Clair To Lead Cheering Section

Richard Clair, arts and letters junior, has been elected head cheerleader for 1949-1950. He has been on the squad since his freshman year in 1945.

Junior cheerleader for 1949-1950 are Joseph Brower, Joseph Courtney, Norman Fryman, Victor Lynch and Rudolph Valentino. Selections were made at tryouts by Eugene Wettstone, assistant professor of physical education; Harold R. Gilbert, graduate manager of athletics and William Bonsall, retiring head cheerleader.

George Kurtz and Benjamin Carbeau respectively were designated first and second associate cheerleader.

To Travel

Dr. R. Wallace Brewster

Brewster Goes On Trip Abroad For Summer

Dr. R. Wallace Brewster will be in store for some new experiences in foreign lands when the professor of political science sails to Europe this summer as a member of the faculty of the School for Social Research in New York City.

Dr. Brewster will be traveling between Paris and Annecy, France, and Nottingham, England, with groups of teachers. The trip is being conducted in cooperation with the Columbia University travel-tours.

Trip to Italy

After his duties are completed, Dr. Brewster may go to Italy. He also intends to visit Scotland "to stamp around on the old sod."

Dr. Brewster received his bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees at the College where he graduated in 1928. Later he obtained his doctor of philosophy degree at the University of California.

During his undergraduate days, he was active in Thespians, Players, Blue Band, orchestra, and men's debate. He participated in the first international debate to be held at the College, with Oxford University.

Administrator

After he got his doctor's degree in 1934, he became administrative head of the Penn State center at Uniontown, and later at Pottsville.

From 1942 until 1944, he was head of the government mileage corporation in the Office of Price Administration. In 1944, he returned to the College to teach political science, and he now ranks as a full professor.

Dr. Brewster is the author of a textbook, "Government in Modern Society," which is in use at the College.

Radio Hobby

He says that he has several hobbies "in mothballs." Radio has occupied some of his spare time, and he hopes to obtain an amateur license.

He is adviser to the Liberal Arts Student Council, and a member of Phi Mu Alpha, Pi Sigma Alpha, Pi Gamma Mu, the American Political Science Association and past president of Pi Lambda Sigma, pre-law honorary.

Radio Station To Honor Allen

Ted Allen, All-College president, has won the radio station KDKA summer scholarship in competition with two other students from Ohio State University and West Virginia University.

The announcement was made by the Pittsburgh station after finals were held there Thursday. The scholarship includes a $100 gift and a job at the station during the summer.

Allen will work with KDKA's farm program director Homer Martz and will aid in developing at least a full hour's show daily. Dr. Harold K. Wilson, vice dean of the School of Agriculture, said that Martz, a Penn State graduate, is considered one of the nation's top farm broadcasters.

IFC Booklet---

(Continued from page one)

of IFC are: Gerald Gottlieb, Pi Lambda Phi, managing editor, and John Augsburg, Kappa Sigma, news editor.

Staff members retained from this year are John Tague, Kappa Sigma, business manager; and Malachi Pancoast, Kappa Sigma, circulation manager. Donald Preate, Alpha Phi Delta, will serve as promotion manager.

Sigma Tau Names Snook President

John Snook was recently elected president of Sigma Tau, all-Engineering honorary.

Also put into office were Frederick Auch, vice-president; Robert Tinstman, treasurer; Richard Pulling, corresponding secretary; Harold Clark, recording secretary and James Smith, historian.

Prof. Allen H. Forbes, associate professor of Electrical engineering, will take over the duties of the retiring advisor, Prof. David L. Markle, also in EE.

Liberal Arts Council Reports On Placement Survey Project

"Several projects were undertaken by the Liberal Arts Student Council that might well be tried by other councils if they are not already doing so," declared Jean Moore, president, yesterday.

In a report of the Council committee for placement survey of Liberal Arts graduates, Mackay Emmert, chairman, said, "The committee worked in conjunction with Prof. Henry B. Young in querying Liberal Arts graduates by postal card.

"The card requested information concerning types of jobs held since graduation, employers, locations and any change of address. This way we'll be able to compile a complete directory of L.A. grads for use of L.A. students.

Need for Survey

"A definite need during the past few years for such a survey has been evidenced by the many inquiries of L.A. students asking what types of jobs are open to them."

Leonard Abrams, chairman of the committee on student-teacher relations, stated, "In an effort to improve the quality of instruction in the L.A. School and improve student-teacher relations,

PNPA Honors Writers; Conference Ends Today

That the need to "needle the American citizen to think for himself" is one job for the editor of a small city newspaper, was emphasized yesterday afternoon by Miss Rebecca F. Gross, editor of the Lock Haven Express, in an address before the Pennsylvania Press Conference.

The conference, which ends today with a speech by P. D. Fahnestock, of the Economic Cooperation Administration, is being held at the Nittany Lion Inn under the sponsorship of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association and the Department of Journalism at the College.

Awards were presented last night to winners in the editorial contest sponsored by the group. Tom Lyon, sports editor of the Centre Daily Times, received a first award in the sports event news story classification of newspapers under 15,000 circulation. His winning story was, "Panthers Halt Nittany Unbeaten String at 17."

"On most papers of 10,000 circulation or less," Miss Gross said, "the editorial page is handled by someone who does it in the time he can spare or steal from other work. Yet the work of these one-man editorial pages is tremendously important.

"It is important that somebody should be needling American citizens to do a little thinking of their own, and who can do it better than the one-man editorial page pilot."

Dean Warnock

Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men at the College, in speaking before the group, said, "Of the editor who is writing an editorial I ask that he follow the same instructions which he gives to his reporters in writing news—get all the facts. This is especially important in editorials written about local affairs and problems."

Quinton E. Beauge, editor of the Williamsport Gazette, described the organization of a community advisory committee during the war and the community benefit which had resulted.

In discussing meetings of the committee, Mr. Beauge said, "There is no community project that does not get a thorough going-over and you may imagine what such a discussion means to me as I ponder an editorial approach."

"If you want to learn what others think of your editorial policy, a particular editorial, or your newspaper in general, get yourself a cross section of such men who are not afraid to disagree."

Charles Hanner, military science and tactics; John Gatinak, naval science.

partment of journalism at the College.

Awards were presented last night to winners in the editorial contest sponsored by the group. Tom Lyon, sports editor of the Centre Daily Times, received a first award in the sports event news story classification of newspapers under 15,000 circulation. His winning story was, "Panthers Halt Nittany Unbeaten String at 17."

"On most papers of 10,000 circulation or less," Miss Gross said, "the editorial page is handled by someone who does it in the time he can spare or steal from other work. Yet the work of these one-man editorial pages is tremendously important.

"It is important that somebody should be needling American citizens to do a little thinking of their own, and who can do it better than the one-man editorial page pilot."

Dean Warnock

Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men at the College, in speaking before the group, said, "Of the editor who is writing an editorial I ask that he follow the same instructions which he gives to his reporters in writing news—get all the facts. This is especially important in editorials written about local affairs and problems."

Quinton E. Beauge, editor of the Williamsport Gazette, described the organization of a community advisory committee during the war and the community benefit which had resulted.

In discussing meetings of the committee, Mr. Beauge said, "There is no community project that does not get a thorough going-over and you may imagine what such a discussion means to me as I ponder an editorial approach."

"If you want to learn what others think of your editorial policy, a particular editorial, or your newspaper in general, get yourself a cross section of such men who are not afraid to disagree."

Carnival Chairman Estimates Profit

Final statement of the net profit of the All-College carnival held April 29 is not available because there are still some outstanding expenses, according to Edmund Walacavage, former chairman of the Inter-Class Finance Committee. He estimated the profit to be in the neighborhood of about $700, somewhat less than was originally believed.

A correction in the original tabulations shows that in addition to the first-place winner, Beta Sigma Omicron, and the second place winner, Delta Chi, there was a tie for third place between Theta Chi and Tau Kappa Epsilon. Both fraternities will be awarded the third prize of $15 worth of records.

Checks for the original $5 deposit and other expenses were mailed to the participating organizations yesterday.

SENIORS, DON'T FORGET YOUR ALMA MATER

Keep In Touch With Campus Activities And The Success of the Nittany Lions!

SUBSCRIBE TODAY

$2.00 SEMESTER      $ 4.00 YEAR

Name.....

Address.....

Enclosed: $2.00 Sem ( )      $4.00 Year ( )

The DAILY COLLEGHAN
Campus State College, Pa.

Make Studying More Fun!

GET:

- COOKIES
- CANDY
- ICE CREAM
- SANDWICHES
- SODA POP
- PRETZELS
- POTATO CHIPS

—at—
The NITTANY DELL
420 E. College Ave.

BUY! SELL! TRADE!

YOUR TEXT BOOKS AT

KEELERS
Cathaum Theatre Bldg.