Baseball Shorts

Cy Miller, elongated righthander on Coach Joe Bedenk's baseballers, owns a 1-and-1 record with the Muskegon, Mich., entry in the Class A Central League. The Michigan unit is a farm team of the Chicago White Sox of the American League.

Miller, who won nine and lost two the past season as the Nittanians won 19 and lost 5, has not seen too much action with the Muskegon nine, but has participated solely as a relief pitcher.

Al Naples, ex-Georgetown University shortstop, has been optioned by the St. Louis Browns to their Springfield, Ill., farm club. Naples, who performed against the Lions this past season, made an auspicious debut in the major leagues by cracking a double his first time at bat. However, he competed in only one other game, after that.

The Brownies brought Naples up to the junior circuit last month when two regulars, Bob Dillinger and Jerry Priddy, were injured.

Hal Hackman, captain of the 1949 baseball Lions, was in State College the other day. Hackman is now playing for the Sunbury Reds of the Class B Inter-State loop. "Hack," who also exhibited his speed on the soccer field for Coach Bill Jeffrey, is in a batting slump after starting his professional career in a whirlwind fashion, but his fielding remains consistent.

Unbeaten

Penn State is one of the few teams that can boast an undefeated record against Army's vaunted Black Knights on the football field. The Lions own the only victory in a three-game series with the Cadets, as two of the contests were ties. In 1942, the Nittanians and the West Pointers played to a 14-14 deadlock. The two teams resume relations this fall, and the battle is expected to be an Eastern headliner.

Important Clash

Proof that Michigan State regards Penn State as one of the top teams on its 1949 schedule is shown in the ticket prices, released by the Spartan ticket sales manager.

Tickets for home games with Marquette, Maryland, William and Mary and Temple retail for $2.50, while the Penn State-Michigan State duets are priced at $3.60. Only other home game that costs that much to see is the billed battle with Notre Dame.

The last time the Blue and White gridders traveled to Michigan State's East Lansing stronghold, they were thrashed by a 33-0 count by the Mid-Westerners.

Turns to Football

Alan Helfrich, Jr., will be one of the more than a dozen sophomores seeking backfield berths when the Bedenk-coached pigskinners open practice sessions in late August. Helfrich is the son of

LOOKING FORWARD to a big year is Captain Jim Maurey of the wrestling team. Maurey, a native of Clearfield—the Madison Square Garden of Pennsylvania schoolboy wrestling—won three straight bouts via the fall route, before losing a season-long decision to Old Man Injury.

Five Lacrosse Foes Brace 'All' Team

Five members of the 1949 lacrosse All-America team played against Coach Nick Thiel's Lion stickmen. The team was recently announced by the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association.

Navy, a team which trounced the Nittanians, and always powerful Johns Hopkins captured three places each on the first ten. Navy's selections included Richard Seth, goal; Phil Ryan, defense, and Lee Chambers, flashy scorer, attack.

Also listed on the first team were Virginia's Robert Proutt, a defenseman, and William Fuller, one of Syracuse's terrific midfield trio.

Two more Middies, Steve Schoen and Bob Sivinski, were placed on the second team along with another foe, Bill Hooper of Virginia.

Washington and Lee, a squad that was defeated by the State-men, garnered two spots on the third team, when goalie Bill Clements and defenseman Bill Pacy were picked.

a former Penn State track great and Olympic star.

Young Helfrich, who prepped at St. Luke's in Connecticut, is 20 years old and weighs 174 pounds. He's one of the two non-Pennsylvanians on the 1949 roster.

Host of Vets

Coach Charlie Speidel, whose 1949 wrestling squad was riddled by injuries throughout the season, can plan on nine returnees for next year. Included in this list of veterans are Johnny Reese, 121 pounds; Jack Dreibelbis, 128 pounds; Al Fasnacht and Don Arbuckle, 136 pounds; Captain Jim Maurey, 145 pounds; Bill Santel, 155 pounds; Bill Corman and Bob Markle, 175 pounds, and Homer Barr, Eastern heavyweight king.

Both Reese and Maurey suffered injuries in mid-season, and had undefeated records at the time they were injured. Maurey, 145-pound runner-up in the 1948 EIWA tournament, had won three straight meets by fall.

The outstanding accomplishment by the Nittany matmen last season was the 20-10 triumph over Navy's mighty Middies. It marked the first time since 1942 that Navy had lost a dual meet in wrestling.

New Attractions Scheduled For Rec Program

Dances, movies, picnics and a riding exhibition are part of this week's recreation program as announced by C. M. Sykes, Summer director.

Tonight, the Physical Education picnic is scheduled for Black Moshannon Park. Tickets for the affair may be purchased from the Physical Education School representatives.

Tomorrow, "Captain Kidd" will be shown in the outdoor amphitheatre at the Pugh street entrance to the campus. The Hollywood film, with Charles Laughton in the lead role, is the third in a series prepared for Main Session students by the intramural department. A large crowd was on hand for last week's showing of the movie. "Second Chorus."

SPARKS
In case of rain, the site will be Room 10, Sparks Building, instead of Schwab Auditorium as usually planned. Previous commitments make Schwab unavailable.

A banquet for graduate students in the Education school is slated for tomorrow evening at the Nittany Lion Inn. Following the banquet there will be dancing at the Temporary Union Building for the people attending.

A dance sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi is on tap Friday from 9 to 12 p.m. The admission is $2.00 per couple. Gene Booth's orchestra will furnish music for dancing at the Nittany Lion Inn.
