Sororities are required to turn in coke cards at 8 a.m. Monday for coke dates with rushees on Tuesday and Wednesday. Rushees may pick up the coke cards from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday and return them from 1 to 4 p.m. Sororities pick up the coke cards from 5 to 6:15 p.m. the same day.

Chapel Announces Sunday Speakers

Dr. James M. Henry, the American Director of the Board of Trustees of Lingnan University, will be guest speaker at College Chapel services in Schwab Auditorium, 11 p.m. Sunday.

An ordained minister of the Presbyterian Church, Dr. Henry served as pastor of the Church of the Covenant in Washington, D.C., and Peck Memorial Chapel before going to Canton, China, in 1908. He taught at Lingnan University beginning in 1919, and served as its president from 1924 until 1948. Part of this time from 1941, he was a prisoner of the Japanese in Canton.

In addition to Dr. Henry's talk, Dr. Henry S. Brunner, chairman of the Penn State-in-China Committee, will speak briefly on the latest news from the present representatives of Penn State at Lingnan.

Today . . .

The Nittany Lion Roars

FOR a belated registration crew who tackled the task—with fine results—of putting us all through the Armory-advisor-Rec Hall-Carnegie mill, and emerged with a few battle scars. The process grows shorter and shorter as years pass—thanks to extra expense and concern of the registrar and the streamlined thinking of a few efficiency-minded.

Mens' Dorms To Have New Adviser Plan

During the earlier months of the summer, plans for an Advisory Counseling Program for the men's dormitories in the Pollock-Nittany Areas were worked on in the Dean of Men's Offices. Such a program has been approved and is in immediate effect.

The need for such a plan has been obvious for some time, especially at the present as the 38 units in the two areas represent 1890 students.

The counseling program is set up to aid the student in adjusting himself socially and academically.

Program Needed

According to D. A. DeMarino, Assistant Dean of Men, "A program was needed in order to supplement that of the classroom, thereby realizing the value of total educational development of the individual. To do this, a project was devised to give the student aid through the medium of resident advisers."

So, the two Areas were divided into eleven zones and supervised by a Chief Resident Adviser. Joseph Errigo was the man chosen for this position, appointed by, and directly responsible to the Dean of Men's Office.

Mr. Errigo is supplied with ten staff assistants who are instructors and graduate students selected by the Dean of Men. These men handle units of three dormitories apiece on the Pollock Circle side and four apiece on the Nittany side. Mr. Errigo will direct the work of his staff although each zone will retain its own autonomy and contribute to the welfare of both areas.

Advisers

The resident advisers are as follows: Stanley Luft, Frank Shinaly, Robert Koser, Daniel Cottone, Joe Errigo, Robert Short, Richard Chaplin, Owen Bransford, Robert Heckel, Ernest Prox, and Richard Curto.

The advisers will cooperate with student government and will assist in maintaining conditions conducive to effectual College study. They are primarily concerned with advising and offering counsel to students. They will be responsible for dormitory discipline, but only when the men will not accept their own responsibility. Each adviser will supervise and assist Hall Presidents and will have between 120 and 180 in his own zone.

Non-Racial Barbershop Opens

Success Crowns Group's Year-Long Efforts; New Shop Established Opposite Post Office

A non-discriminatory barber shop has been established in State College, the Council on Racial Equality said yesterday.

The announcement by Prof. Harold Graves of CORE came after a year of agitation for establishment of such a shop which at one time produced a two week-long boycott of downtown barbers who refused to cut the hair of Negroes.

Prof. Graves said yesterday that CORE tickets, which entitle the holder to a free haircut, would be redeemed at the shop, located on East Beaver avenue opposite the Post Office.

The tickets were sold two years ago to raise funds for setting up such a barber shop. A fund of more than $1,800 for this purpose was raised by CORE before the beginning of last year.

Mark Butler in Charge

Prof. Graves said that CORE has approved the barber shop, run by Mark Butler, who came to State College this summer to inquire about setting up the shop. He said that the shop definitely does not discriminate against Negroes.

Downtown barbers consistently have refused to cut the hair of Negroes, forcing them to cut their own hair or go out-of-town for haircuts.

Last November CORE placed advertisements in Pittsburgh and Harrisburg newspapers in an attempt to locate barbers willing to operate such a shop. A number of replies were received but the difficulty in obtaining equipment and living quarters for the barbers held up further action at that time.

Boycott Opposed

At about the same time, a movement arose to boycott the barbers, but CORE opposed such action, seeking to withhold a boycott until its plan was given a trial.

CORE did not view establishment of a non-discriminatory barber shop as solution to the problem, but rather hoped in this way to bring about a change in the policies of downtown barbers.

Picketing Halted

Picketing was halted after the Christmas holiday and never was taken up in earnest again. An informal committee was formed in an attempt to negotiate with barbers to change their policy, but these efforts failed. Then a one-day token boycott was called by NAACP.

There was little action then until May, when the Pollock Circle and Nittany Dorm councils offered CORE the use of a room in the PUB for a barber shop. They quickly learned, however, that the proposal probably would have to be approved by the Board of Trustees. At that time, CORE officials said they would favor such a plan.

Nittany Lion Shrine

SYMBOLIZING THE MIGHT and tenacity of Penn State stands the mighty Nittany Lion. Now imprisoned in granite, the same fearsome beast once roamed the wilds which now nestle the Pennsylvania State College.

The Lion Shrine is probably the most photographed spot on the campus and is a must on all tours of the college.

Leonides, AIM Organize Mixer for Stay-At-Homes

AIM and Leonides will attempt to keep those students not attending the Army game occupied and happy by holding a mixer and dance at Rec Hall from 9 to 12 p.m. tomorrow. New sophomores and transfer students are urged to take this opportunity to get acquainted.

The independent men's and women's organizations, joint sponsors of the dance, have named it, appropriately, "Keep the Home Fires Burning Mixer." A program is planned for the intermission including singer Maynard Hill and other campus favorites. Admission to the dance will be free and dress is informal.

Rose Eifert, president of Leonides, added that another dance is being planned which will include the freshman women as soon as freshman customs are over.

The "Home Fires" mixer is the first joint social event of the 1949-50 school year sponsored by the two independent student organizations.
