

Cadets Loaded with Usual Power As Nittany-Army Contest Nears

By BOB KOTZBAUER

All-Americans come, and All-Americans go, but Earl Blaik's Black Knights of the Hudson, like old man river, just keep rolling along.

Gone from the team that last season romped through eight straight games, only to tie Navy in the year's finale, are such stars as Bobby Jack Stuart, Winfield Scott, Bill Yeoman, Joe Henry, and a raft of others, 18 all told. Blaik can describe this year's remnants no stronger than "mediocre."

But the Cadets, who last week rolled up their twelfth win in succession, have an enviable habit of annually developing some of the top collegiate stars in the nation and this year is no exception.

STARDOM

Already listed for stardom by "those who know" are quarterback Arnold Galiffa, fullback Gil Stevenson, and end Dan Foldberg.

Galiffa, in his third and final season as field general of the Cadet "T" formation, is a cool and precise master of the techniques of attack. A ball-handler deluxe, and a passer ranking with the best, Galiffa is a sure bet to land on somebody's All America, 1949. He will spark the wide-open Army attack.

For power through the middle, and speed around the flanks, Blaik has a standout fullback in Gil Stevenson, who last season led the Army team in rushing with a mark of 887 yards, and boasted a 5.1 average per try.

FOLDBERG

End Dan Foldberg, brother of Army's sterling Hank and called better than his brother by some scribes, is the pass snarer for the Black, Gold and Grey, and not just an average receiver. Pulling in Galiffa's aeriels is his business, and the business is solvent. Last week against Davidson, Foldberg dragged down two passes, one 42 yards, the other 20, and both for touchdowns.

On the other flank is Army's intercollegiate heavyweight boxing representative, Bill Kellum, and veteran John Trent, and all the way down the line, the Cadets glisten and sparkle. Running from the halfback spots, Jim Cain and Frank Fischl round out a not-too-heavy backfield, but one that can do things with a ball.

That's the offensive team that Coach Blaik looks at with a tinge of optimism. His defensive platoon was heaviest hit with the entire forward wall from tackle to tackle having to be replaced.

According to Penn State's Jim O'Hara who scouted Army at the Davidson, 47-7, picnic, Blaik has done a pretty fair job filling the empty holes. "They do everything well," O'Hara says. "They run hard, hit hard and pack a lot of speed. They also have the ability to capitalize on the other team's mistakes."

The masterful strategy of Earl Blaik can't be neglected in summing up Army's 1949 capabilities. Blaik has been amazingly consistent in racking up victories at West Point, his over-all Army record showing a total of 58 games won, 10 lost, and 6 tied.

Whether or not the Cadets will be Eastern Collegiate Champions again this season depends a great deal on tomorrow's battle with Penn State's Nittany Lions.

Record Holders Swim In IM's

All but two of the swimmers who set four new intramural records last year will be competing again when the current campaign gets under way.

Only Jack Nelson, of Pi Kappa Phi's championship team, who set the 60-yard freestyle record of 32 seconds, and Phi Epsilon Pi's Dave Magaziner, a member of the record-smashing 120-yard free style relay, will not compete this year. Senior earned his varsity letter last season and is now ineligible, while Magaziner has been graduated.

Harry Nelson, Alpha Sigma Phi, and Bob Krayer, Delta Chi, co-holders of the breaststroke mark, and Al Goldenberg, Murray Rosetsky, and Weiser, of Phi Ep's title-holding relay are all expected to enter.

Booters Open 1949 Season

Although most of the "eyes of Nittany" will be upon the drag-out battle between the Lions and the Cadets at West Point, the Penn State soccer team will unveil its wares on the Beaver Field soccer layout, behind the East stands, at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

At that time the State booters square off against the soccer forces of West Chester State Teachers College.

Either George Lawther or Ron Coder, a versatile athlete and number one polevaulter of the track team, will be guarding the nets.

Will Kraybill will team up with all-Americans Ralph Hosterman and Dick Hannah at the halfback positions. Bill Yerkes and Red Emig will be ready for relief duty.

Not exactly shy on material for the forward wall, Jeffrey plans to start Ted Lieb, Ronald Colman, Joe Lanes, Harry Little and Clarence Buss up front.

Two new fullbacks, Fred Sperling, a performer who showed up well during last spring's booting drills, and Jack Kurty, an able baseball catcher, are trying to get Jeffrey's nod for a starting berth tomorrow. Veteran Chuck Margolf will be the other starting full-

Travel Directions

Bums Take Lead

By sweeping their doubleheader with the Braves via scores of 9-2 and 8-0, while the Cards were set back, 7-2 by the Bucs, the Dodgers yesterday regained first place by a half game in the tight senior loop race. The Bums have two, and the Cards three to play before the season finale on Sunday.

The junior loop race continued deadlocked when Jupe Pluvius intervened in the scheduled Nats-Bosox and A's-Yanks games. These games will be played today, before the Sox and Yankees meet in a crucial two-game set over the weekend, which will probably decide the outcome.

Basketball Call

All candidates for the Penn State basketball team are asked to report for the first practice session of the season at 6:30 p.m. Monday, October 3, in Rec Hall. Candidates should bring their own equipment.

football, and tennis singles must be made by 5 p.m. Monday, October 3, in 213 Rec Hall.

Football Forecast

After missing last week's game by 35 points, Joe Harris, nationally known football prognosticator, has switched his loyalty to the enemy camp and predicts a 14-7 Army win over Penn State. Harris also picks Penn to defeat a strong Dartmouth eleven and S.M.U. to avenge last season's only defeat by taking Missouri 20-7.

This feature comes to the Collegian through the courtesy of Harris' brother, an alumnus of the College.

The West Point-bound Nittany football team will leave from the water tower by bus this morning at 10:45 and will catch a train in Lewistown at 12:29 p.m. Stop-off point will be the Bear Mountain Inn outside New York City.

Team plans call for leaving New York City at 3:45 a.m. Sunday, arriving in Lewistown at 9:18 a.m. and State College about 10:30 a.m.
