

Booters Meet Bisons; Try For 2nd Straight

By GEORGE VADASZ

Soccer fans—and there are many hereabouts—can watch Coach Bill Jeffrey's soccer unit in action against Bucknell on the Lion booting layout behind the East football stands at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

The veteran Lion mentor, age 57 in years and 21 in spirit, will be after his 128th victory since he began coaching at Penn State in 1926.

His brilliant record with Nittany soccer teams includes 12 unbeaten seasons, 127 wins against a mere 21 setbacks, but what's more amazing than that, from 1932 until 1941 his charges scampered through 65 games without a single loss.

Last year the Lions breezed through their nine game slate suffering but one setback. For their superb play, two of the Nittanians, halfbacks Ralph Hosterman and Dick Hannah were selected for All-American honors while another, forward performer Harry Little, received honorable mention.

BEST THIS DECADE

Last year's unit was tabbed by Jeffrey "the best in 10 years," and again this year another promising campaign is ahead with 12 returning 'S' winners in the fold.

But to add joy to the friendly Scot, a duo of above par soccer veterans, Joe Lane, a junior, and Ronald Colman, a sophomore, are out to bolster a team all ready composed of some of the best soccer talent in the East.

Only sore spot in the Blue and White's all-victorious plans is the goal tending assignment. For two seasons Jeffrey was blessed to have Gene Graebner, an All-American, tending the nets for him, but last year, and again this, neophytes are being groomed to stop scoring threats.

GOALIES

Last season, Ed Taggart, a sportscribe who covered soccer for the local paper, was assigned in mid-season to fill in as goalie and did a commendable job. This year, in search of talent, Jeffrey spent many weeks in the summer in grooming George Lawther, son of the former Lion cage mentor, for goal tending duty.

Either Lawther or Ron Coder, a versatile athlete and number-one pole-vaulter of Coach Chick Werner's track team, will be guarding the nets tomorrow.

HALFBACKS

Will Kraybill, a letterwinner as far back as 1945, will team up with team Captain Ralph Hosterman and Dick Hannah at the halfback slots. Red Emig will be the halfback reliever.

In his starting forward line, Jeffrey has four men who scored in last week's opener against West Chester. The forward performers who'll greet the opening whistle will be Clarence Buss, Harry Little, Joe Lane, Ronald Colman, and Ted Lieb.

RELIEF DUTY

Ready to spell the starters will be three of last season's letterwinners, Spence Boyer, Harry Lawroski and Dick Yeagley.

Bill Yerkes, a newcomer to the varsity this year after a successful season with the jayvees, has been named to start along with veteran Chuck Margolf at the fullback posts. Jack Kurty will be ready to spell either of the fullbacks.

Bucknell last week opened its season with a 4-0 setback against the always-powerful Temple Owls.

Roe Brilliant As Dodgers Nip Yanks, 1-0

By Joe Coppa

There was joy in Flatbush again as Preacher Roe, slim southpaw mainstay, of the Dodgers spun a bewildering maze of curves and screwballs past Yankee bats and treated the 70,053 fans in attendance to a brilliant 1-0 shutout at Yankee Stadium yesterday.

Roe was brilliant in the tight spots, striking out three, issuing no walks, and stranding seven enemy runners on the bases. Only two enemy runners advanced as far as second and one to third, as Roe's stellar mound performance ran the string of Dodger pitching to eighteen consecutive innings without issuing a base on balls.

RASCHI

Vic Raschi, who entered the game with a 21-10 mark and defeated the Red Sox in the season finale to give the Yanks the flag, pitched good enough to win ordinarily as he allowed the Bums seven hits, struck out four, and issued one free pass—of the intentional variety.

The game's lone tally was scored in the second inning, when Robinson doubled to left with none out, daringly advanced to third when Hermanski popped foul to second-baseman Coleman behind first, and scored on Gil Hodges' single to left.

Again the Dodgers threatened in the third when, after Robinson struck out, Hermanski hit a low, sinking liner into right-center which hooked past DiMaggio on the wet turf and carried to the wall for a triple. Rackley, who started the game in place of injured Carl Furillo, then hit a slow roller to Coleman, who threw home hurriedly to nip Hermanski at the plate on a close play, the first rubbarb of the Series ensuing as a result of Umpire "Beans" Reardon's decree. Hodges ended the inning with a fly to right.

RALLY HALTED

Yankee fans sensed a rally in the fifth as Coleman doubled to the left field corner with one away. But Reese made a spectacular play on Silvera's bid for a hit into left by coming up with a backhanded stab and throwing to first to nip the runner, Coleman advancing to third. The best Raschi could do was ground to third for the inning's final out.

The game's only run loomed more important as the game continued on into the eighth. Then the Yanks put on a last-ditch (Continued on page eight)

Football Forecast

Penn State will climb back into the win column this week against Boston College, according to pigskin prognosticator Joe Harris. Harris predicts that the Nittany Lion will roar over the Boston College Eagles to the tune of a 20-7 victory this weekend at New Beaver Field.

Last week, Harris had a 78.2% percentage for accuracy. While he picked Army over the Lions, his score was a little off, 28 points to be exact. Harris predicted a 14-7 win for the Cadets as against the actual 42-7 count. Winner appears at the left.

Sportcasters Feted

Two major league baseball sportcasters and the man in charge of the Atlantic football network will be guest speakers tonight at the Centre Hills Country Club.

Bob Prince, who broadcasts the Pittsburgh Pirates games, and Claude Haring, who is the television announcer for the Philadelphia Athletics and Phillies, will collaborate with Les Quail on the speaking duties. Prince and Haring will broadcast Saturday's game between Penn State and Boston College at Beaver Field.

John Daugherty for the extra point.

Tonight's schedule pits Delta Chi against Phi Sigma Kappa, at 7 o'clock Alpha Phi Delta against Delta Theta Sigma at 7:45, Alpha Sigma Phi against Delta Upsilon at 8:30, and Alpha Sigma Phi against Delta Upsilon at 9:15.
