Employment Office Aids Students In Securing Part-Time Positions

The Student Employment office in the TUB is maintained by the College to help students secure part time employment while attending College. The service is provided free of charge and enables employers and students to work through a central office in meeting their needs.

Last year the agency had approximately 1600 applicants, and from September to June it found 7000 jobs for the students. This year it expects about 2000 applicants, and, according to Supervisor of Student Employment Allan Reece, jobs will exceed the '48-'49 total. The agency has already handled between 700 and 800 applications this semester.

The Employment Agency operates on a priority system based upon the degree of financial aid needed and the semester standing of the applicant. All things being equal, the upper classmen will be given preference. These criteria are modified by availability, job proficiency, and the possession of skills as they relate to specific jobs.

The office is notified of many different types of jobs; some are semi-permanent and others of short duration. The various types of work most frequently handled by the office are:

Meal jobs, working in the College dining commons, various boarding houses, and fraternities; store work, including clerking, fountain dispensing, stock handling, and cleaning of offices and stores.

Other jobs include Student agencies, office work and summer jobs in resort hotels and camps.

The agency expects a sufficient number of jobs to provide some income for all applicants, however during the first three weeks of school with extremely large numbers of persons coming through the office demand exceeds supply. Those who have registered and have not as yet been placed should continue to check with the office.

ADS To Give Annual Award

Alpha Delta Sigma, men's national advertising fraternity, will award a $700 scholarship each year to an outstanding A.D.S. member, it was announced at a meeting of the organization Thursday night.

Donald W. Davis, national president and acting-head of the journalism department at the College, made the announcement.

Plans were discussed as to the method of selecting the recipient of the award and the chapter's recommendations will be submitted to the National Committee.

The scholarship will be used to further the recipient's training in advertising and may be taken at any Class A institution awarding a masters degree in advertising.

Students' Letters Remain Unclaimed

Approximately 1000 letters with incomplete addresses still are unclaimed in the dean of women's office and in 112 Old Main. It is believed that some of the letters contain money and other valuable papers which students have been expecting since the beginning of the semester, and have not yet received.

Women may inquire in the dean of women's office and men must report to 112 Old Main for the mail. If you have not received a long awaited epistle, it will be to your advantage to check the growing stacks of mail in Old Main. Some of it may be for YOU.

BX Distributes Book Receipts

Students who sold books through the student book exchange must stop at the BX office in the TUB with their book receipts this week to get their money.

Books which were not sold should be picked up this week, or they will be sold to an agent from Pittsburgh who will be at the TUB the beginning of next week to buy used books directly from students.

The office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Watson To Head Who's Who Staff

Edwin Watson was elected editor of "Who's Who in the News" at Penn State" at a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi Sunday night.

"Who's Who in the News" is a yearly publication of Sigma Delta Chi, men's national professional journalism honorary. It includes short biographies of approximately 200 outstanding students on campus.

Students to be honored are selected by a committee made up last year of the All-College president, WSGA president, Athletic Association president, editor of The Daily Collegian, and editor and associate editor of "Who's Who."

Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary, will chose soon an associate editor, who will work with the editor.
