

Sorority Rushing Enters Panhellenic Final Period

Women's sorority rushing enters its last week today as parties and coffee hours highlight the remaining Panhellenic rushing period.

Each sorority is hostess at two parties, most traditionally informal one night and formal the last night. Section I, which gave their first party last night will give a second tomorrow night from 7 to 9 p.m., includes Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Xi Delta, Beta Sigma Omicron, Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu, Phi Sigma Sigma and Zeta Tau Alpha.

Section II

Sororities in Section II, which will be hostesses from 7 to 9 p.m. this evening and at the same time Thursday night, are Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Epsilon Phi, Alpha Gamma Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Zeta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Sigma Delta Tau and Theta Phi Alpha.

Invitations for parties from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow as well as coke cards for tomorrow and Thursday must be turned in at the Panhellenic Post Office at 8 a.m. today. Rushes may pick up the invitations and coke cards from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Rushes return answers for the parties held tonight by 12:30 p.m. today and sororities may pick up the answers at 1 p.m. Coke card answers should be returned from 1 to 4 p.m. and sororities may pick these up from 5 to 6:15 p.m. today.

Thursday Parties

Invitations for parties on Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. should be turned in by sororities at 8 a.m. tomorrow. Rushes may pick up the invitations for these parties from 10 to 12:30 p.m. and should return their answers to parties by tomorrow night by 12:30 p.m. tomorrow. Sororities may pick up these answers at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

Kappa Phi Party

Kappa Phi, Methodist girls' organization, will hold a Gypsy Party at the Wesley Foundation at 7 p.m. on Thursday, October 13.

All Methodist girls who are new on campus or who are interested are asked to come, stated Nancy Smith, president of the organization. Refreshments will be served.

Mortar Board Plans Annual Mardi Gras

Initial plans for the traditional Mortar Board Mardi Gras are now being made and carried out, Ruth Lehman, president of the sponsoring organization, recently stated. November 4 is the date set for the affair.

Sororities, who are annually asked to help in presenting the affair, will soon be sent letters of instruction and request for participation. The latter will involve operating a booth to sell the wares or talents of the sorority members.

An award, usually presented to the sorority contributing the largest amount of money, will be a trophy this year. It is designed for rotation among the winning organizations for this year and future years.

Alpha Lambda Delta Offers New Service

Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, will offer a new service to freshman women, according to Miss Edith Zinn, adviser to the group. Members of Alpha Lambda Delta will tutor, free of charge, freshmen women who may require such instruction.

The honorary will hold its initial meeting of the semester in 105 Old Main at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Essay Award Given

Miss Alvina Bartos, a home economics student, has received an award in a nation-wide essay contest sponsored by the Christmas Club Association. Miss Bartos, who is a senior in dietetics, has received $25 for her essay entitled "How Christmas Clubs Have Helped Me."

New and Old Find Agreement in Dorms

In Grange dorm a charming, white-haired lady, Mrs. Neva Morris, has reigned supreme for 15 years. Across Shortlidge road, in McElwain Hall, the youngest and newest hostess, Mrs. Thomas F. Morgan is making her presence known. Occasionally Mrs. Morris, following the example of the coeds acts as a big sister to the chic Mrs. Morgan by helping with her orientation. The new hostess, full of ideas, is as wide-eyed and impressed by the splendor of her new home as any freshman might be.

Fifteen years ago Mrs. Morris was the same way, for Grange dorm was then a glamorous hall only five years old. It was the first dorm on campus to employ a full time hostess rather than a housemother who was really a housekeeper.

Rules Less Strict

Instead of 2000 girls roaming the campus in 1934, Mrs. Morris had to learn to know only 500. For this reason most rules were much less strict than they are today. Hours were the same, but the number of late permissions was unlimited.

The coed of 1949, Mrs. Morris believes, is far more attractive, self-assured and well dressed than her predecessor. Freshmen have lost much of that confused, lost look, despite the name tags and green bows. Little Mrs. Morgan heartily agrees that today's coed does justice to her beautiful, modern surroundings.

Sororities

Both the new and the old hostesses approve of sororities and feel they play an important part in college life. However, Mrs. Morris believes that while sororities have gained in prominence, they have, and will continue to become far less cliquish by living in suites.

Fraternities, on the other hand, the two Mrs. M.'s believe have lowered their standards tremendously. Mrs. Morgan, whose home is in Philipsburg often attended Penn State houseparties in her "prom-trotting" days. She was very much disappointed to discover that she wouldn't be welcome as a chaperone now, and remarked with a worried frown, "I'd feel as though the promises I made to girls' parents were being kept fully if only I knew that fraternity parties were well chaperoned."

Aside from their one mutual worry, the hostesses are very fond of Penn State. As Mrs. Morris continues her excellent job for many more years, and Mrs. Morgan begins hers by learning that it really isn't necessary to tuck each girl in bed every night there certainly seems to be little cause for any parent to worry about his "little darlin' so far from home."
