USSR Opposes Yugoslavia As UN Entry Would Give Seat To Czech Satellite

Lake Success — Andrei Vishinsky, Russia's Foreign Minister, told the United Nations Security Council that the election of Yugoslavia would be neither fair or just. He asserted that the naming of Yugoslavia would be a challenge to the Soviet Union which would have "painful consequences" but did not say what Russia would do if Yugoslavia got a Security Council seat instead of Czechoslovakia.

Nominees Okayed

Washington — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee put its okay on three presidential nominations today. Mon C. Wallgren, former governor of Washington State, was approved for the Power Commission. James Mead, former Democratic senator of New York, was okayed for the Trade Commission. Mrs. Eugenie Anderson, Red Wing, Minnesota, was named ambassador to Denmark. She is America's first woman ambassador.

Frosh Finally Allowed Dates

Name Cards Are Passe, Green Ribbons Remain

Following the three-week no-dating period, which ends today, freshman women will be able to associate with men until 5:30 p.m. on weekdays and will be allowed three dates per weekend.

However, there will be no evening dating during the week until second semester, according to Miss Edith Zinn, who emphasized this point in order to clear up a misunderstanding which seems to be prevalent among the freshmen women.

Dating Regulations
Regulations regarding weekend dating are as follows:
1. One one o'clock and one ten o'clock will be granted, to be taken either Friday or Saturday night.
2. Friday and Saturday dates may begin at noon.
3. Freshman women may date on Sunday until 5:30 p.m.
4. There shall be no dating for athletics events.
Freshman will continue to wear ribbons until judicial decrees their removal; however, name cards may be discarded after today, said Miss Zinn.

The Nittany Lion Roars

FOR Don Ashenfelter, younger brother of last year's Nittany Lion track and cross-country star, Horace.

Competing in his first inter-collegiate meet, Saturday, Don was the first of six Lion runners to breast the tape ahead of the opposing NYU harriers. His time, 27:10, was very good, considering the soggy condition of the course.

A flick of the tail and a purr of pleasure for a second "Ash," who looks like a good bet to keep the name Ashenfelter in front of track and cross-country enthusiasts for another two years.

Nittany Dorm Officers Preside Over First Council Meeting

Newly elected officers of the Nittany Dormitory Council presided over that group for the first time Monday night when the council met to discuss numerous issues facing the members.

Under the direction of President-elect Francis Turk, the council set up public relations, scholarship, dining hall, publicity, and recreation committees for the coming semester and appointed Raymond Evert parliamentarian.

Mail Discussed

During the course of the meeting, the question of creating a new method of mail distribution to eliminate the long lines which develop under the present system was discussed as was the possibility of direct catering and dry-cleaning services being established in the dorm area. Student-tended vending machines for the dorms were discussed. Consideration was also given to the finding of a more suitable meeting place than the PUB, because of the noise and confusion which interferes with the conduct of business.

Date Advanced

In order that members of the council may go home to vote in local elections next month, the November 7 meeting date was advanced to November 9. Location of the meeting will be announced later.

In addition to Turk, other men elected to offices in the council, and the posts they fill, are: William Zakor, vice-president; George Demshock, recording secretary; Lowell Keller, corresponding secretary; Kenneth Maxwell, financial secretary; and David Mutchler, treasurer.

LA Adds New Labor Course

Labor-Management Relations is the newest curriculum to be added to the ever-enlarging list of College courses. As stated in a pamphlet issued by the School of Liberal Arts, "the purpose of the curriculum is to combine with a liberal education, an introduction to the various bases and specialized phases of labor-management relations."

Leading in four years to a Bachelor of Arts degree, the course provides for students enrolled in the curriculum to obtain practical experience by working in some business or industry for at least three months before the senior year.

Main Objective

Consequently, one of the main objectives of the course is to help graduates promote better labor-management relations. To prepare students who are looking forward to careers in the aforementioned field with industry, labor unions, government agencies, or as teachers is the other objective.

Interested students planning to enter the field are urged to acquire some competency of immediate vocational value, such as accounting, stenography, time and motion study, interviewing, or aptitude testing. This preparation can be assisted by the proper choice of electives.

Ben Euema

Administration of the curriculum is conducted by a special inter-school committee of seven members including one representative each from the Departments of Economics, Industrial Engineering, and Psychology. The committee is headed by the Dean of the School of Liberal Arts or his personal representative. At present, the members are Ben Euema, chairman; R. W. Brewster; C. E. Bullinger; B. V. Moore; A. A. Reede; and S. W. Russell.

Weather Today

Partly cloudy and warmer. Temperatures ranging from 48 to 70 degrees.

Nominations For Councils Are Now Open

School Representatives Help Supervise Elections

Elections for representatives to the student councils of six schools of the College will be synchronized for the first time this year.

William Shade, chairman of the All-College elections committee, has announced that the six councils will hold their elections from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. on Oct. 26 and 27.

Voting will be held at the same time this year for these six schools: Chemistry and Physics, Engineering, Home Economics, Liberal Arts, Mineral Industries, and Physical Education and Athletics.

Nominations Open

Nominations for the councils currently are open, and the present presidents of the councils must turn in to Shade by Saturday their lists of students nominated for office.

The president of each student council will select two representatives from his school to work with the elections committee in supervising the balloting; their names are to be submitted to Shade. They will be in charge of checking off the names of students as they cast their ballots.

Balloting

Balloting for offices in the Chemistry and Physics council will be held in the main lobby of Osmond laboratory, while Engineering students will vote on the first floor of the Main Engineering building.

The Home Economics election will be held on the first floor of the Home Economics building, and Liberal Arts students will vote in the main lobby of Sparks building.

The first floor lobby of the Mineral Industries building will be the scene of voting for that school. Men in the Physical Education school will vote at Irvin Hall, and women will vote at White Hall.

Matric Cards

Matriculation cards must be presented for identification of voters, with no student to be allowed to vote without presenting his card. Counting of ballots will begin immediately following the close of the elections.

Gifts Received For . . .

Blue Band Anniversary

The quick-stepping Blue Band had a two-fold reason for celebration at the Nebraska-Penn State game last Saturday. It was the 50th anniversary of the musical group, and the famous Blue Band, in honor of this occasion, received a birthday gift of six matched sousaphones worth $4,000.

George H. Deike, of Pittsburgh, a trustee of the College, presented the instruments at an alumni homecoming luncheon. Mr. Deike made the award in honor of the six members of the Penn State Drum and Bugle Corps of 1899, the predecessors to the 80 piece Blue Band.

Hummel Fishburn, director of the present-day band, accepted the silver-plated sousaphones. He said they would replace the badly worn and unmatched instruments the band had been using.

NAACP Plans Protest Rally

A rally of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will be held in 219 EE at 8 o'clock tonight in protest against a court decision against three Negroes in Groveland, Florida.

According to William Meek, president of the local chapter, all NAACP chapters are meeting to raise $20,000, necessary to start a new trial combatting a decision that sentenced two Negroes to death and one to life imprisonment for the "alleged" rape of a white woman.

"The sentence," Meek said, "was pronounced after an all-white jury, with no medical testimony or objective evidence, handed down a verdict of 'guilty,' although one victim had never seen the other two before arrest."
