

Lingnan Continues Despite Communism

"The fall of Canton to Communist forces does not mean the end of the Penn State-in-China program," Richard E. Pride, of the faculty at Lingnan University, said Friday.

During the period of transition from one government to another, Christian influences at work in China may have their greatest opportunity to do good, Pride explained.

Pride, who went to Lingnan to teach horticulture in 1947, arrived in State College with his wife, Martha, and his 16-months-old daughter, Miriam, on Wednesday and probably will be here for two or three weeks. They are visiting at the home of Mrs. Ralph L. Watts.

Although future plans are not definite, Pride says they probably will spend several months with G. Weidmann "Daddy" Groff, who is developing a plant exchange service between China and the United States at Laurel, Fla. Groff went to China in 1911, founded and was dean of the Agricultural College at Lingnan University, and remained there until just prior to World War II.

Leave of Absence

Pride and his family left China on September 13, beginning a one-year leave of absence. He plans to return to Lingnan next summer.

Commenting on the confused conditions and civil war that has been sweeping China, Pride said that the feeling of the students at Lingnan probably could be summed up in this way.

"We're not Communists, but we're tired of the type of government we had."

Lingnan, which had suffered some damage during the Japanese occupation of Canton, has pretty well recovered, Pride explained. Penn State played a part in that recovery. In addition to sending the Sunday chapel offerings to Lingnan, Penn State faculty and students last year sent more than 4,000 books to help replace those destroyed by the Japanese.

"These books," Pride said, "have been labeled and form a special part of the library at Lingnan."

Lingnan last year had a record enrollment of 1400 students, about 400 of these being students who migrated from the Communist-occupied provinces in the North. The enrollment this year is about 1000.

Trend Changes

With the advance of the Communist forces, the trend in enrollment has shifted from the liberal arts to the technical subjects, such as the sciences, medicine, and agriculture, Pride reports. He said the Communists have been stressing the study of "practical things."

Pride said that of the 13 American and two British staff members at Lingnan, eight Americans and one Briton have remained at Canton.

"We're hoping that Lingnan will not be too much disturbed by the change of government," Pride said, "and hope the good that Penn State has been accomplishing in China for nearly 40 years may continue through the Penn State-in-China program."

PSCA Drive

(Continued from page one)

The student with an interest rating card on which are listed several projects of the PSCA now in progress or being planned. The student may check that project in which he is interested.

To students contributing more than $2.50 membership cards honored in most city YMCAs and indicating agreement with the purposes of the PSCA will be mailed upon request.

The PSCA offers a varied program to its members throughout the week. Each Tuesday night the four commissions of the CA—Christian Heritage, Personal and Campus Affairs, Social Responsibility, and World Relatedness—meet to discuss various topics within the range of their subject area.

As an example of these discussions, the Social Responsibility commission is now studying civil liberties on the campus and the commission of Personal and Campus Affairs is discussing campus dating.

An effort is made by all the groups to look at problems in the light of the Christian faith.

The commissions also carry out projects such as sending a deputa-tion team to the county home and county jail, and receptions for foreign students.

Division Leaders

The division leaders of this week's drive are the following: Ted Allen, fraternities; Norman Wheeler, Pollock and Nittany Dorms; John McCool, Tri-Dorms; John Kockalka, Don Horton and William Renshaw, men in town.

Division leaders that will contact the women on campus are: Loisruth Hayford, Atherton Hall; Nancy Smith, Simmons Hall; Evelyn Sebastian, McElwain Hall; Rosalind Nichols, small dorms, Woman's Bldg., Grange, McAllister and cottages; and Priscilla Wilson, Helen Dreher, and Judy Luchek, women in town.

News Briefs

"The Negro Soldier"

A documentary motion picture, "The Negro Soldier," will be shown at a meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in 210 EE at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Liberal Arts Council

The Liberal Arts Student Council will meet in 409 Old Main at 8:15 tonight to elect officers for the coming year, Elliot Krane, acting president said today.

Students nominated for office are: Joel Fleming, Earl Schaffer, George Vadasz, Dorothy Werlinich for president; Herbert Arnold and Ted Wiedenmann for vice-president; Mary Conrath and Dorothy Luft for secretary-treasurer.

PSCA Commissions

The PSCA commission on Personal Life and Campus Affairs will meet at the home of Dr. L. L. Bernard, 808 W. Fairmount avenue at 7 o'clock tonight. The commissions on Christian Heritage, World Relatedness, and Social Responsibility will meet in 304 Old Main at 7:30 tonight.

Penn State Thespians

The Penn State Thespian Club has invited members of the club, Masquerettes, and all personnel (and their guests) connected with their recent production, "Welcome Willy," to an informal party and dance at the Theta Chi fraternity from 9-12 p.m. next Saturday. Jack Huber and his band will provide music.

Air Reserves

The Liaison Officer from Johnstown will be present at a meeting of the Air Force Reserves in 3 Carnegie at 7 o'clock tonight.

Belle Lettres Club

Dr. Robert E. Dengler, head of the classical languages department, will speak on the "Greek Drama" at a meeting of the Belle Lettres Club in the N.E. lounge of Atherton Hall at 7 o'clock tonight.

Canterbury Club

The Canterbury Club of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church will hold an overnight cabin party at the Christian Association Cabin on Friday. Girls interested in staying overnight should call the Rev. John N. Peabody at 3455 before Thursday.

Ed. Honorary---

(Continued from page one) well as several members of the original organization who now belong to the local chapter.

The girls were pledged at a tea held in the northeast lounge of Atherton Hall Sunday. They are: Jean Anderson, Jane Ann Barton, Mabel K. Bowman, Lois Jean Burrell, Marilyn Clark, Mary E. Christ, Bernese Curson, Rose Eifert, Mrs. Mabel Emmanuel, Sally Ann Folger, Joan Fredrickson, Norma Sue Goodman, Mrs. Millicent Gray, Margaret A. Green, Eugenia Hall, Virginia J. Hartman, Suzanne Kirshner, Evelyn Laning, Ellen Large, Ruth Lehman, Anna L. Light, Joan Lowry, Elizabeth McDowell, Frances McNitt, Nancy Maurer, Grace Miller, Jeanette Molloy, Frances Oler, Lucille Phillips, Mrs. Dolores Pierson, Shirley Polinson, Mrs. Gertrude Ruther, Barbara Siluffman, Jackie Schock, Mrs. Doris Seiler, Catherine Wible, Dorothy Yarnell and Sara Yoder.

6 Represent College At ASM Sessions

Six faculty and former faculty members of the College actively participated at sessions of the American Society of Metals at Cleveland last week.

Prof. John A. Sauer, head of the engineering mechanics department, Joseph Marin, professor of engineering mechanics, and Eugene Klier, assistant professor of metallurgy, presented papers on research being done at the College and attended the metals show during the convention.

Dr. Max Gensamer, former chief of the Miner technology division on campus, was chairman of the Technical Session of Mechanical Metallurgy, in which Professors Sauer, Marin, and Klier participated.

Others who presented technical papers at the convention were Dr. William Langford, formerly of the metallurgy department, Professor Benjamin J. Lazan and Don C. Lemmon, both of whom were formerly in the engineering mechanics department.

Doctors Gensamer and Langford are now with the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., Mr. Lemmon with the General Electric Co. Professor Lazan is now head of the materials engineering department at Syracuse.

Authority

Dr. Robert T. Oliver, professor and head of the department of speech at the College, is widely known as an authority on Korean affairs and has written extensively on the subject. In 1946, he was a guest lecturer at the University of Korea, Seoul, and in 1948 at the Asia Institute.

CLASSIFIEDS

FOR SALE

'40 CHEVVEY 4-door sedan. Very good condition. Call Haag 7851.

1947 LADD trailer, 18 1/2 foot with bottled gas, running water, within walking distance of campus. Vesper Rody's Trailer Camp. Phone 3965.

THREE (3) bows, 65, 47, 40 lbs. pull respectively. Prices reasonable. Pollock Circle, Dorm 8, Room 6.

LOST

LOOSE LEAF notebook, blue. Lost downtown. Contact Charles Schultz 519 West College Ave. Phone 3308. Reward.

LOST—Light colored raincoat. Lord & Taylor label. George Rice. Name tag. White cap in pocket. Phone 2638 after 5.

LOST—Lady's Hamilton wrist watch Saturday afternoon. Please return to 244 E. Nittany or call 2598. Reward.

FOUR RAVELLE Color Slides of aged, Section NK Syracuse game. Call Joe Hess, Colonial Hotel.

THREE STRAND pearl bracelet, lost over weekend. Call 4939, ask for Don Kump.

LOST—at Rec Hall Friday night, girl's green coat, from Strawbridge & Clothier. Call 214 McElwain. I have yours.

WANTED

NURSES, general duty, alternating shifts. Apply superintendent, Centre County Hospital, Bellefonte.

REPLACEMENT for single room in Nittany Dormitory. 43-24.

LOG LOG vector slide rule, preferably with Q, Q', and P scales. Phone 6403, ask for George.

ANYONE driving between State College and Altoona daily interested in delivering small packages, call 3849.

MISCELLANEOUS

IT ISN'T NECESSARY to send your typewriter out of town for repair. Just dial 2492 or bring machine to 633 West College Ave.

CORRECTION—For the sake of accuracy and in the interest of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, it should be noted that no contest involving the collection of empty liquor bottles was held last weekend. The houseparty theme on which this idea was based was changed early in the week. Two subsequent references to this in the Collegian resulted from not "killing" publicity planned for the original, but abandoned idea.

DANCING to the music of the Birmingham Quintet at the New Paradise, South Spring Street, Bellefonte, every Friday and Saturday, from 9 to 12. Excellent service. No minors allowed.

HOME EC STUDENT—You have only 3 days to take your 1950 La Vie pictures at the Penn State Photo Shop.

Hehler To Retire; Has Served 27 Years

F. G. Hehler, director of the Engineering Experiment station at the College since 1936 and professor of engineering research, will retire on December 31 with emeritus rank after serving on the faculty for 27 years.

The retirement was approved by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees at the College at their weekend meeting.

Following his graduation from the University of Missouri in 1908,

Hehler was appointed an instructor and later assistant professor at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. From 1916 to 1919, he served as a mechanical engineer with the U.S. Naval Engineering Experiment Station at Annapolis, Md., and from 1919 to 1922, as general manager of the Vibration Specialty Co. in Philadelphia. He was appointed professor of engineering research at the College in 1922.

Other retirements approved by the Trustees were William B. Gates, employee of the College Creamery, effective August 14, after more than 30 years of service; John F. Harter, painter, effective August 31, after more than 21 years of service; Ida M. Parent, supervisor of Simmons Dining Hall, effective August 31, after more than 12 years; and Grace L. Hall, hostess in Frances Atherton Hall, effective August 31, after 10 years of service.

GIRLS!!

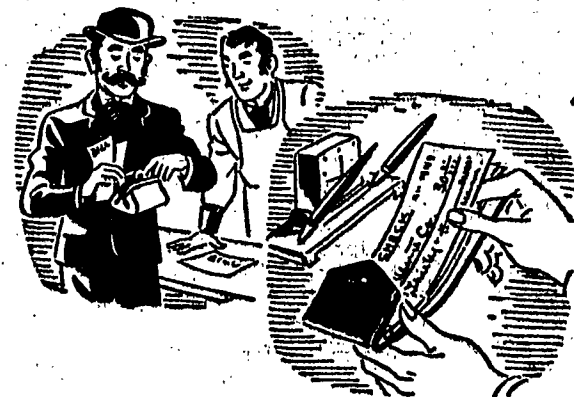

START RAISING TEMPERATURES TODAY

Featured especially just for you is a THERMOMETER BRACELET—Something New! With a gold-link chain and dangling casing To the BLAIR GIFT SHOP everyone's racing It costs just one dollar and twenty-five cents Adds appeal to your outfit on days or weekends You will adore this catching new fad With its high class—low cost—and temperature tab.

BLAIR GIFT SHOP

142 So. Allen Street

Are You A MODERN

or a MIDVICTORIAN

Checking accounts are not only more convenient and time-saving... they supply you with an accurate record of your expenditures. Open a checking account here today.

Peoples National Bank

STATE COLLEGE